One Minute Washer

The ONE MINUTE WASHER washes cleaner than other machines on account of twice the agitation of clothes being secured through any given movement of the operating handle. This principle also creates more suds, thus meaning a saving in soap.

The ONE MINUTE WASHER without dispute to be the easiest running machine on the Canadian market. The principle of employing reciprocal motion through compound operating levers develops three times the power of rotary motion, thus accomplishing the desired result with one-third the labor. All things be equal it saves time, labor and soap. One trial is sufficient to demonstrate the truthfulness of all claims made.

Will Farmers Gain or Lose When Canada's Door is Open?

Is the United States Market Worth the Price that we Must pay for it under Reciprocity.

A Question for Farmers
 From The Canadian Century

When we allow vast quantities of food from Australasia and the twelve favored foreign nations to come freely into Canada how are we going to prove to American customs officials that the farm products we are trying to send across the United States boundary were really produced in Canada?

Ask your neighbors this question. We may be sure that the farmers of the United States, will insist upon customs regulations that will prevent Canada becoming the back door entrance to the United States for all the great food exporting countries of the world. The enforcements of these regulations will be very annoying. The necessity of proving that every consignment of food imported into the United States from Canada is actually Canadian will scare American buyers. They will naturally pay lower prices for Canadian farm products than for American farm products when they have to take the risks of disputes with customs officials as to whether they are genuine Canadian or come from countries overseas. Prices are always fluctuating in the United States and while a consignment of Canadian butter and eggs is being held up at the United States customs awaiting the proof of genuineness the price may go down.

Australasian Food for Canada
 During the fiscal year ending the 31st of March, 1901, there came to Canada from Australia and New Zealand 568,989 pounds of butter, 1,149,979 pounds of fresh mutton and lamb, 107,383 pounds of canned meats and small quantities of other meats. In view of the fact that such quantities are imported under the present tariff, what may be expected when the duties on butter and cheese are abolished and the duties on meats greatly reduced as a result of the Reciprocity Compact with the United States.

Farm products from Australia and New Zealand come in by way of both the Pacific and the Atlantic. New Zealand frozen lambs coming in by way of Vancouver have been sold as far east as Winnipeg. A large consignment of lamb carcasses from New Zealand has just reached St. John, N.B. The New Zealand steamship 'Aorangi' is now on its way to San Francisco with 5,000 carcasses of New Zealand mutton and large quantities of butter. They cannot pass into the United States without payment of high customs duties. Is it not probable that such cargoes will be diverted to Canadian ports when the Reciprocity Agreement goes into effect? There is nothing in the Reciprocity Compact binding the United States to admit farm products free or at reduced rates from Australia, New Zealand and the twelve foreign countries that have favored nation treaty with Canada.

He Loses His Bet

A New Brunswick farmer writes to the Canadian Century as follows: "There may be something in what you say about the danger of competition from great food exporting countries like Australia and Argentina, but I am willing to bet that not one pound of food will come to Canada from Switzerland, which is one of the twelve countries you mention as entitled to the privileges of the Reciprocity Agreement. What do you say to that?"

You lose your bet. During the fiscal year ending March 31, 1910, 227,964 pounds of cheese were imported into Canada from Switzerland. The Canadian customs tariff on cheese was three cents per lb. Is it not reasonable to suppose that when Swiss cheese can come into Canada free the quantity imported will increase rather than diminish?

Prices in the United States

Even if the Reciprocity Agreement did not let in Australia, New Zealand and twelve foreign nations besides the United States alone, the majority of Canadian farmers would gain nothing by Reciprocity, while they take very great risks.

Anyone who makes a careful study of the markets in the United States will note that the prices vary in different sections of the country. Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis, New Orleans and San Francisco all have different prices and there is a still greater variation in prices in small cities, towns and villages throughout the country.

The Canadian farmer should compare the prices he obtains for his products in a small village near his farm, not with the prices in Boston, New York, Chicago or some other large city in the United States but with the prices obtained by farmers in small villages in the United States equally distant from the great centres of population. He must take into consideration not only the cost of transportation to the big cities of the United States, but also the middlemen's profits.

A table of comparative prices in Montreal and Boston the week the Reciprocity Compact was made was compiled by The Montreal Herald, a Liberal newspaper, with the assistance of a number of prominent produce dealers and food experts. Cheese, eggs, live poultry, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, squash, tomatoes, beans and cranberries all commanded higher prices in Montreal than in Boston. The best creamery butter was 1 1/2 cents per pound higher in Boston than in Montreal while storage creamery butter was one cent higher in Boston. Dressed poultry averaged about the same in the cities. Hay and oats were considerably higher in Boston.

Since then butter prices have declined in most of the markets of the United States. A leading produce dealer of Montreal received the other day a telegram from Chicago offering him 300 tubs of September creamery butter, cold stored, at 18 cents, Chicago. At the time this telegram was received the same kind of butter was worth 24 or 25 cents in Montreal.

Mr. Gage, President of the Toronto Board of Trade, recently prepared a table of prices in Toronto and New York, comparing the Toronto market reports with the New York market reports as given in the New York Commercial Bulletin. The table follows.

Product	Toronto price	New York price
Best creamery butter in prints, wholesale	26c	26 1/2c
Prime Chicken	18-20	15
Prime Turkeys	20-22	18
Ducks	18-20	16-16
Geese	15-16	14
Bacon	16-16 1/2	16 1/2
Hams	13 1/2-15	14

Hyslop-Priestland

On Saturday, March 4, Miss Lily R. Priestland, second daughter of T. G. Priestland, of this city, was united in marriage to William Thomas Hyslop, of the firm of Robert Hyslop & Co. The wedding took place in St. Matthew's church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. E. White. The organist of the church, Mr. Luck, supplied the music. The bride was dressed in a navy blue travelling suit, with hat and plumes to match. Many splendid presents showed the esteem in which the bride is held. Her father's present was a piano, parlor suit and family silver service which had been in the Priestland family for more than 160 years. The happy couple will reside at 41 Barton street west.
