CITY LOT TAX SALES

Belleville, Ont., despatch saye. Before nesses were examined.

Mr. J. P. C. Lunays, manager of the Union Bank, swore he was interested in a large iron flower pot on the verandan certain city lots, and made an effort to purchase some from City Treasurer Price. These lots were on Russell and McDonald streets. The taxes against the lots were $23 or $25. His offer was not in dollars and cents, but what was against the lots. After the tots were sold he wanted to buy them to re-sell to Mr. Burrell. He instructed Mesers. Porter and Carnew to go to the registry office, and they reported that the lots had been sold to relatives of Messrs. Marsh and Price. Mayor Ackerman's testimony was to the effect that he had consented to the sale of some lots to Mr. Davidson, Mrs. Price and Mrs. Marsh, but this had escaped his memory owing to his prolonged and serious illness since last fall. He had no recollection of Mr. Price being at his house on the 9th of September last, but the record showed that he was there, and that the witness made his signature to a document. Mr. Johnson, M. P. P., gave evidence to the effect that personally he knew nothing about the sale of lots, but the part he had taken in the matter was because he alleged that restitution should be made to the city by ex-afayor Marsh and City Treasurer Price of money realized on these lots by their relatives. There was, in his opinion, about $1,500 which rightly belonged to the city. From the registry office he had ascertained that power of attorney had been given to Mr. Price from Mr. II. A. Davidson, and to Mrs. Marsh from Mrs. R. C. Smith.

A number of witnesses were sworn. but their evidence was of a nature that they personally knew nothing of the sale of lots in question. The enquiry was adjourned until next Thurs-

The revolver was placed on a table for use when it should be needed. One of the smaller boys sliped out of the room with the weapon, put a cartridge in it. and tried to shoot a bird. The cartridge failed to explode, and the boy put the revolver back where he got it. When the time came for the use of the revolver Mary Holmes, who was supposed to fire the weapon, picked it up and laid it down again, with the exclamation, "I am afraid of that oll thing." The sister, to show her there was no cause for alarm, took up the revolver, pointed it at Miss Reedy, and pulled the trigger. Miss Reedy fell to the floor with a bullet near her heart.

Make Big Profits But is Unable to Pay Dividends.

Telegraph Company Has Close Connections With Western Union.

Where Does the Money Ga ?--Inquiry by Government.

Toronto despatch: That the Great

Northwestern Telegraph Company has not paid a dividend for nearly twenty four years in the face of apparent large profits, and that the Western Union Telegraph Company of the United States has not only a controlling interest in the stock of the former company, but also a conjoint business ararngement with that company whereby the Western Union gets practically fifty per cent. of its tolls collected by the G. N. W., by reason of its large carnings, was in a position to pay nearly 130 per cent, on its paid up capital. Mr. Pitblado yesterday atternoon got from Mr. Perry the admission that the Western Union Company had a controlling interest in the G. N W. Company's stock, and by an arrangement got an average of fifty per cent on the tolis collected by the latter company. The G. N. W., it is stated, is endeavoring to satisfy the Railway Commission that through a complicated financial arrangement it has become practically bankrupt, although its books might show large profits, and that it is. therefore, unable to reduce its present tariff of tolls. Mr. Pitblado repeated his question to Mr. Perry in the afternoon as to whether. or not any dividends had ever been paid to the stockholders of the G. N. W. He asked Mr. Perry if he himself had ever received a dividend on the sixty-five by the Police Magistrate, and Richshares he held.

To illustrate how the conjoint business arrangement between the telegraph companies in question worked. Mr. Perry cited the instance of a message sent from Toronto to Winnipeg. He said it would first go into the United States from Toronto, and be transmitted over the Western Union lines to the boundary line of Manitoba. From there it would be carried over the C. N. Mr. Perry stated that at the present time equal division of the tolls collected on such a message and all other messages being transmitted from east to west in this country over long distances, especially between Ontario and Quebec and the western Provinces. In a message from Gaspe to Detroit the toll on the message would be divided between the two companies in the proportion of thirty-five cents to the G. N.
