WHEN NEURALGIA GRIPS YOU. When you are a sufferer from neuralgia, make sure first that it is not from a tooth. There are many cases of so-called chronic neuralgia, not always facial, which never recur after a visit to a good dentist.

Sometimes it is necessary to visit more than one dentist, for the trouble may be obscure. If neuralgia is from other causes do not suffer needlessly. Take it in hand before it gets too strong a grip.

Sometimes it is caused by overwork; again by overheating or susceptibility to cold. As it arises largely from nerves, then living hygienically and cutting out excitement will often give relief.

Do not take drugs until every other means has been tried. This disease being recurrent, it is dangerous to get into the habit of artificial soothing.

Only take such relief under directions of your doctor, and not then so long as you can fight off the pain with outward applications, mental suggestion, or by gritting your teeth and bearing it.

One noted specialist has a treatment for this disease that is worth trying. He does not believe in soothing pain, but in curing it, and his method of cure is by cold water.

His method is to treat not the point where the pain strikes, but the seat of that pain, which, he claims, is the spine. A towel wrung from cold water and covered with a blanket or Turkish towel is placed on the spine well up on the back of the neck. This is changed three times in ten minutes.

Cures Spring Tiredness. Here is a Fine Remedy That Gives You Health Quickly. You know how you feel, blue, sickly and heavy. Each morning you waken in a dull "dopy" condition and wish it were night again.

You don't even have to be handy with tools to make a "vibratory what-you-may-call-it." If you can drive a tack and cut notches in a stick you can make one of these wonderful toys that will furnish a lot of fun.

Take a stick about six inches long and cut notches in one edge. Fasten a flat, thin piece of wood to the end with a small nail or tack that it will revolve on the tack. Draw a second piece of wood over the edge of the notches and the vibratory waves generated will cause the end piece to revolve rapidly.

The Wisconsin "lumberjack" who invented the toy thinks it will work best if made of hard wood.

IN THE ONE "GALLUS" COUNTRY. (Lippincott's Magazine.) A northerner asked a Cracker if he thought he could get a new pair of suspenders at the ferry store. After he had ridden on, the half-grown son of the Cracker asked, "Pap, what's them?"

"I reckon they are galluses," was the reply. "But, Pap, what's he a-going for to get a pair for? Dye reck'n he's got two pair of briches?"

Ask for Minard's and take no other. A JOYFUL AVERAGE. (Detroit Free Press.) In spite of all the troubles. In spite of all the sorrows. In spite of all the heartaches.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. A very interesting lecture was delivered at the United States Institution by the Chief Scout last Wednesday on the subject of "Boy Scouts and National Defence."

Mrs. R. Smith, of Winnipeg, Man., tells an interesting story of relief from almost intolerable sufferings: "I can hardly tell you how great my sufferings have been. My stomach was so afflicted accompanied by biliousness were a daily source of trial to me. Every day I experienced the sickening effect of these ailments. I longed for some medicine that should permanently drive them away."

Hearing of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, I thought they were worthy of a trial. My surprise was indeed great. From the very first I experienced relief. Continuing with them I found my troubles were slowly but surely leaving me, and before long I once more knew what it was to be free from the harassing effects of the ailments that had long sickened and weakened me. So great is my faith in Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills that I shall never on any account be without them."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cure Bowel and Kidney as well as Liver troubles, and keep you healthy. 25c a box at your dealer's.

ARABELLA'S DARLING. "Now, I wonder," thought Alphonso, "what Arabella is doing at this precise moment?" (Arabella and Alphonso were married last May, and Alphonso, being a commercial traveller, was far from home.)

"I wonder," he repeated, "what she is doing?" Then a brilliant idea struck him, and he visited the nearest spiritualist medium.

"What," said Alphonso, for the third time, "is Arabella doing?" "She is looking out of the window," replied the medium, "evidently expecting somebody."

"That is strange," said Alphonso. "Whom can she expect?" "Ah," continued the medium, "someone enters the house, and she caresses him fondly."

"It can't be," cried the husband. "My wife is true to me." "Now he lays his hand on her lap and looks tenderly into his eye," returned because Dr. Hamilton's Pills make the body proof against weakness and disease. For your liver, your kidneys, your stomach, for the sake of your looks and feelings, try Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c per box at any dealers.

A GREAT REMEDY FOR LITTLE ONES. That is what thousands of mothers say of Baby's Own Tablets. We have received thousands of letters praising them - we have yet to receive a single one complaining of them. The Tablets can't possibly do harm even to the newborn babe. They contain none of those poisonous drugs which make the so-called "soothing" mixtures so dangerous to the welfare of the little one. They are a scientific medicine prepared by one of the greatest specialists on childhood ailments and should be kept in every home where there are babies or small children.

Mrs. Fred McCarthy, Pinewood, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and have found them a great remedy for little ones. I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HIS YARD OF PORK. (Youngstown Telegram.) Rev. Griffith Jones was standing in the door of a store which he conducted in his home town, when he was approached by a resident, who, knowing his fondness for a joke, asked: "Can you sell me a yard of pork today?"

"Yes, sir," promptly answered Jones. "How much is it?" "Just sixpence."

Bent on carrying the joke to its end, the man paid over his sixpence. The pastor-storekeeper went to the inside of the store and soon returned with three pig's feet. "There's one foot, and there's two feet, and there's three feet," he counted, "and anybody knows that three feet make a yard."

The customer got more than his sixpence worth telling the joke to his friends.

UNSOLICITED FOR JOB. They have a yellow-backed magazine in China with an unpronounceable name which consists of 24 octavo pages, each page with seven columns.

Two editions are published, an extensive edition for the court and upper tenfold for $3 a year, and an inferior one for the lesser world at half price. It has a circulation of 10,000 copies. It chronicles the movements of the Emperor and of the court and the ministerial affairs. It is most exacting in its make-up. Until recently a typographical error or any trivial mistake was punished by instant death. Lately it has been modified to 100 lashes. The job of writing is not sought. It is commanded, and under penalty of death if the luckless fails to qualify.

A BIT OF HUMOR. "Do you really mean it, Mr. Spooner, when you say I am the best girl in the world?" asked a young lady of an ardent admirer.

"Indeed I do, Dora," responded the young man. "I say it again - you are the best girl in the world."

"And the loveliest, I think you said?" "The loveliest without doubt."

"I think you said something about my accomplishments, too?"

"I did. I said they excelled those of any other girl."

"A sweeter woman never breathed!" quoth the ardent lover.

"You used the word 'perfect,' too, did you not?"

"I did. I look upon you as the pink of perfection, propriety and modesty, the empress of my heart, the peerless one among the beautiful creatures of your sex, a maiden adorable, enchanting and worthy of the hand of the best man on earth. Say the word that will make me the happiest man on earth, my own Dora."

"Before I give you an answer, Mr. Spooner, I should like to ask you one question."

"A dozen, if you like."

"One will be enough. Don't you think you have a great deal of assurance to expect a woman with all those excellent qualities to marry such an ordinary man as you?"

"Mr. Spooner is still a bachelor."
