Early Closing

The members of the Toronto Grocers' Association showed themselves in favor of shorter hours and more holidays at their monthly meeting in the Temple Building, Toronto, recently.

A White spoke strongly in favor of both early closing and half holidays on Wednesday afternoons during the summer months and made a plea to the association to make some effort to make it more general. Other members of the Association also took the same stand, believing that employes in stores should have shorter working hours. It was shown that in some neighborhoods while the majority were in favor of such a step, it was held back by one or two dealers who refused to fall in line.

However, many of the dealers did not let that stop them, but closed anyway. Mr. White suggested that this should be brought before the public through the newspaper or in some other manner, and believed that it would do a great deal of good. It was stated that in one district the dealers that did close sent out a pamphlet to their customers in which they explained they thought the clerks should have shorter hours, and asked the public to cooperate with them in the movement.

Those Fishers

A few of our town sports took a pleasant drive on Monday afternoon to search the waters of Lake Erie for fish, and not being well equipped for lake fishing, decided to sail up the creek. After sailing for some little time Capt. Ed. anchored to try their luck. After a short time another crew appeared on the scene, under Capt. Morg., all fishing for some time, Mac. having exceptionally good luck, landing several nice ones. Ed. says the sucker was on the wrong end of the line. In spite of the good luck lunch time came on, Andy proposed that they all eat, but not being very heavily supplied with provisions D. C. moved to raise funds. This being done Sharky went to a near by store for the necessities, and all enjoyed the lunch very heartily on the green bank of the Nanticoke, after which they decided to take another search Lou being the most lucky. A short time after sunset the boys took their departure, each reporting a very pleasant outing, and hoped that the fish would bite better the next time.—Com.
