The popular troupe, The Southland Serenaders, appeared in the Music Hall, Jarvis, on Thursday evening last. The company, which appeared under the auspices of the Public Library, was greeted with a small house, (a cause which should have been patronized by a bumper house) but those who had the pleasure of attending, enjoyed a rich treat and were extremely well pleased. This troupe is an assemblage of the Southland's sweetest singers. Each number in turn was well received and accorded a well deserved encore, many of them three or four times. The program was varied and excellent, including superb solos, harmonic choruses, plantation jingles, humorous male and mixed quartettes which was rendered in master voices. The part taken by Gerrard Miller was well worthy of special mention. At his every appearance he delighted his hearers and he certainly won the admiration of the entire house. Taken on a whole the company was one of the best that has ever visited Jarvis, and we feel certain that should they ever visit our town at some future date a better house will greet them.

The Record to Jan. 1st, 1912, for fifty cents.

White Sales

The Right House, Hamilton, Announces Big Event

On another page of this issue will be found an advertisement from The Right House, Hamilton's leading retail establishment, hinting at the exceptional size and value giving power of the semi-annual white sales now in progress. The Right House is always conservative in its advertising, preferring to give more than a customer expects than boomeranging the beauty or value of an article to its full extent. No doubt many of our readers will fill all their Linen, Embroidery, Lace and Undermuslin wants at The Right House this season. Rail fares are refunded on a liberal plan.

Accident at Wingerville

What might have resulted in a very serious accident occurred on Sunday night. Wm. Trowsdale, Jr., while driving along the road at 11 o'clock his horse took fright at a calf lying on the road and ran away. The horse turned the corner and ran into the ditch, breaking its neck; also completely demolishing the buggy. It is indeed a miracle how young Trowsdale escaped with his life, but with the exception of a few slight scratches and a shaking up he escaped serious injury, for which he is very thankful. The horse was a valuable one and will be a great loss to Mr. Trowsdale.

District Meeting of the Methodist Church

The ministerial sessions of Tuesday, 16th inst, were followed on Wednesday, 17th, by the general sessions, at which laymen from various circuits were present. Rev. E. Sheppard, Waterford, was appointed general secretary and Rev. J. W. Schofield of Pt. Rowan, statistical secretary. Reports from the various circuits were read and almost without exception these reports showed commendable progress. A net increase of 174 church members on the district and 474 members of Sabbath Schools is to be reported to the annual Conference in Galt. The Connexion's funds also have increased, the Missionary fund alone showing an advance of $399.

The delegates appointed their delegates to conference. Mr. R. Roberts was elected as the representative from Jarvis circuit. Rev. S. J. Jelly of Hagersville along with the chairman of the District, Rev. Dr. Gee, are the representatives upon the stationing committee of conference. Rev. A. C. Eddy was appointed a member of the Educational committee. A discussion on church union took place at the close of the session. The members were practically unanimous in favoring such a union, but it was thought that the present basis offered to, required revision.

The delegates spoke in the warmest terms of the hospitality of the Jarvis people. It was decided to hold the next annual District meeting in Simcoe, Mr. McPherson of that town having extended, on behalf of the Methodist people there, a cordial invitation.

Drowned at Hagersville

Sunday afternoon Charles Stringfellow, 17 years of age, was drowned in the pond of a sand pit belonging to Sol. Winger, 2 1/2 miles south of the village of Hagersville. Stringfellow had been in the water swimming for some time, and as he was coming out he was suddenly taken with a cramp or fainting fit and fell back into the water, which is about 20 feet deep. There were three other boys with him at the time, Harold Laing and two Indian boys, and, as soon as they realized the seriousness of their companion's plight, they made strenuous efforts to locate him. After going down, however, he did not come to the surface again, and it was over an hour before his body was recovered. Coroners Quance and McDonald and Dr. Playfair were hastily summoned to the scene, but all their efforts failed to resuscitate the unfortunate fellow. He was the only son of Rev. Stringfellow, a superannuated Methodist minister, of Hagersville, and the sympathy of a large circle of friends will be extended to him in his sad bereavement. The funeral took place from the residence of the boy's father on Tuesday afternoon.

County Council Loses Suit

Because no actual damage has yet been sustained by the County of Haldimand, Mr. Justice Latchford decides that they have no remedy for their grievance against the Bell Telephone Company except through the Board of Railway Commissioners. The municipality sued for an order declaring that the defendant company had no right to erect its poles on the plaintiff's bridge over the Grand River at Cayuga, and for a mandatory injunction commanding the company to remove its poles and wires therefrom. The poles were placed there in 1907 without the consent of the plaintiffs and his Lordship finds that they had no right to put them there under an agreement dated twenty years previous. He also finds that the poles have a weakening tendency on the bridge but as yet no actual damage has been sustained, and therefore the High Court has no jurisdiction. The plaintiffs have the right to go before the Railway Board and ask for the removal of the poles.

The Smelser Case Again

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smelser and daughter Leah, of Selkirk were in Cayuga last week on legal business. It would appear that Mr. Smelser's enemies are still on the warpath and are determined to give him no peace. On April 28th he found the following letter in the horse stable:—I wrote you some time ago about your boy being in the stable. I expected you would do something to get him out so far here no tell of it here you intend to stay on the place you better not for you will never have any luck with it you can thrash all you like if you stay on you own ground.

On May 3rd he found the door of the horse stable open in the morning when he first went out. Then during the night preceding May 7th his daughter-in-law, who was visiting him, was awakened by the loud barking of a dog. In the morning the track of a rig was found coming from the north and after backing up and turning around the rig had evidently gone north again. These tracks were seen in the morning by other parties besides Mr. Smelser. It was afterwards found that the clevis, colter and wages of the plow had been removed during the night. In the early morning of May 17th, Mr. Smelser was roused by the dog barking fiercely. He got up only to hear a rig driving away towards the north, but when going out in the morning he found the horse-rake across the gateway in the lane and also found tracks coming from the south, backing up, and then going north. Upon going to the milk stand, on the same morning, the following letter was found:—

"You found the leeter in the horse stable if you look in the clover field you will find your colter now will do as we have told you we will not bother you any more."

Blacks

Both letters were printed in lead pencil on paper similar to that found in scribbling books and Mr. Smelser is of the opinion that they were all written by the same person.

A Sure Thing

All Canadian Government Annuities are payable for life no matter how long the Annuitant may live, but the Guaranteed Annuity, that is an Annuity which for a slightly increased payment is guaranteed to be paid for 5, 10, 15 or 20 years as may be desired should the Annuitant die before the period mentioned had expired, enables a purchaser to provide for the contingency that someone may be dependent on him at the time the Annuity falls due. For example, a man of 75 years of age recently purchased an Immediate Annuity of $300 to be guaranteed for ten years for which he paid $2,643. If he should die at, say 80, the $300 a year will be paid to his heirs for the remaining five years, but in any case he will receive an Annuity as long as he lives should he live to be 100 or more. This means in other words that the sum of $3000 is guaranteed to be paid where he lives or dies. The $2,643 had been invested at 6 per cent, and was yielding an income of $158.58; so that his income is now almost double that which he formerly received. Literature fully explaining the Annuities scheme is available to both young and old and may be had by writing to E. T. Bantock, Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters go free of postage.

Why he Wore His Hat in Church.

To illustrate the officiousness of some churches, Rev. John Timothy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, speaking at the First Presbyterian church, Chicago told the story of a man who sat through the service one Sunday wearing his hat. When requested to do so by an usher, he removed the hat smilingly. The usher afterwards asked him if he had worn the hat purposely of if it were merely absent-minded negligence. "No," said the man. "I have been attending this church regularly for nearly two years and no one has ever spoken to me in all that time. I just thought I would leave my hat on my head this morning to see if it would serve as an introduction to some one. I am glad to meet you."

For Empire Day.

"Awake, my country the hour of dream is done!
Doubt not, nor dread the greatness of thy fate,
Thou' faint some fear the keen confronting sun,
And faint would bid the morn of splendour walk;
Thou' dreamers wrap in stary visions cry
"Lo, you thy future, you thy faith, thy fame!"
And stretch bare hands to stars, thy fame in sight,
Here in Canadian hearts, and home,
and name.

This name which yet shall grow
Till all the nations know
Us for a patriot people, heart and hand
Loyal to our native earth, our own Canadian land."
