Report of the New Credit Missions

Conference Year 1910-1911

Another Conference year is almost over—a year so different to all other years, and yet so much the same in aspirations, discouragements, victories and defeats. We entered upon the work of the mission with a glad heart, appreciating the privilege granted in being called upon to serve the New Credit appointment. The people received us kindly, making us feel in the very beginning of our ministry among them at home in their midst. "Hospitality," says Morse, "is a prominent trait in the Indian character." We have found such to be true. The New Credit folk expressed their welcome in a tangible way by assembling at the parsonage, where, after a friendly hour or more they presented the missionary and his wife with a purse of $18. Nearly a year has passed since then, and looking back with joy we write,—the kindly feeling of the year ago has followed us all through the windings and difficulties of the year and is with us still.

Our Sunday services, at the New Credit have been well attended. Great praise is due our people here, as well as on the entire mission, for the respect they have for the house of God, in listening attentively to the sermon and for the splendid behaviour of the young people at all the meetings.

The Credit choir, under the able leadership of Wm. Elliott, Sr., has rendered excellent service. Missionary and people have often been refreshed and inspired anew to better things by their sweet messages in song. We believe they have been faithful. They have tried to give us their best and for their untiring energy and zeal we are truly grateful.

At the Delaware Sunday morning appointment where the Missionary and Local Preacher take alternate services, the interest has steadily increased. The Delaware friends are loyal and true—a real comfort to any Missionary and always ready to try and do their best.

At the Garlow Line appointment, which is between the New Credit and the Delaware Line the Missionary preacher every Sunday afternoon. The congregations here are generally good, though of the three churches this gives the least to missions and is the hardest to finance.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper has been regularly administered. Our hearts have been delighted with the increased number who have partaken. At our last quarterly meeting we had over 60 present, we have a splendid fellowship meeting and the altar was more than filled—some coming after many years again to the table of their Lord.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS—A marked improvement in the New Credit and Delaware Sunday Schools has taken place during the latter part of the Conference year though our schools are still far behind what they might be. The Cradle Roll and the Home Department have been neglected. Many of the children go away during the summer months which make the work more difficult. The Schools raised $82 for local expenses and $5 for School expansion. Several have come into the church through the school.

EPWORTH LEAGUE—A League was organized at the New Credit appointment last fall. We started out well but have come far behind our anticipation. Having no hall or school room the young people gather every Tuesday evening at the parsonage. We have not been able to develop them along lines of Bible study as yet to any great extent. However, we feel that we have kept the young people together and the influence on them has been for good. We know of only one dance during the year. We have tried to keep in touch with our young people and to this end have mingled freely with them in all their gatherings. Every Thursday evening temperance meetings are held in the Lodge room. Right here we might mention that our work has been hindered by the awful drink. The accused staff seems so easy to get and as Peter Jones, in writing of the Indian boys, says: "The fire-water crept in and began to gnaw their very vitals, debasing their morals, lowering their dignity, spreading contentions, confusion and death." True it is against the law to supply an Indian with drink and, oh, how many happy homes there would be on our reserve if every white man had the goodness to keep the law as far as his Indian brother is concerned. We are told, authentically, it is not nearly as bad as it used to be, but why should it be at all?

LADIES' AID, NEW CREDIT—The Aid deserve great praise. They have worked well. Their first efforts were the adding to the comforts of the parsonage by way of purchasing linoleums, carpets, matings and curtains. The church was taken in hand, repapered, repainted and the seating changed. The Ladies' Aid are to be congratulated on having made the church look so beautiful. But not only in church and parsonage have they proved themselves useful, but to the sick as well they have given aid out of their treasury. The total expenditure by these has been large, amounting to some $219. The Society has for its President, Mrs. Shields; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Jos. Henry; Sec'y, Mrs. Lydia Brant; Treasurer, Mr. James Wood.

The inroads of death upon the ranks of our people have, during the past year, have been painfully frequent and sudden. Some were taken with little preparation, while others were ripe for the garnering. Among those taken we might make mention of: Mrs. Geo. King, Alf. Jones and Carolina La Form. Mrs. King was in her 44th year. In her death the home lost a good mother, the Methodist church a consistent and faithful member, and the Ladies' Aid a patient, willing worker. During the last twenty years she has been a severe sufferer but she bore all with christian fortitude. Her home going was inspiring and peaceful. The influence of her personality is gone, yet the influence of her life is with us still.

Bro. Alfred Jones was in his 72nd year. His was a useful life. While still young he joined the Methodist church of which he remained a consistent member to the end. For some 35 years he was Superintendent of the New Credit Sunday School—a post which none could fill so well as he as he had the respect and confidence of all his people. He was kindly in disposition, generous in his support of the church and always responsive to the demand of the cause he loved so sincerely. His closing days were sweetly impressive for having lived well he died well. Just before his departure we partook of the Lord's Supper together, the choir going to his home with me for this impressive service. His testimony was clear and bright. He was faithful to the end.

Sister Carolina La Form was in her 84th year. For some time she seemed to feel that her time on earth was short, and used every opportunity to show her allegiance to Jesus Christ. We are told that she was once a great sinner but in Bro. Howard's pastorate she was truly converted to God and from that time, amid many trials and failing, remained true to the end. She loved the church and we were always delighted to hear her testimony.

VISITORS—The people very much appreciated the visit of Bros. Kelly, Stringfellow and Kitching. Bro. Stringfellow has many warm friends on his old field while Bro. Kelly's readiness to help when called upon has been appreciated. He has proved himself a true friend to our work. The Garnet young people came over to the mission in a sleigh load and really gave us a delightful entertainment, thus materially helping our Sunday school.

MISSIONARY OFFERING—We had hoped that our offering would be larger, but we have had rather a hard winter, so much sickness and so many deaths. The late Bro. Alfred Jones always gave $5 to the Missionary Society—this year for the first time his name is absent from the list. However, we are able to report the sum of $111 as the missionary offering of the people. This is an increase of $50 on last year's giving. Miss Ida May Scott, on the Delaware Line and Misses Ethel Brant and Stella Toboc, New Credit, deserve great praise for having gathered in most of this money. Miss Flowers, juvenile collector, did remarkably well. We tried to awaken a deeper missionary spirit by giving lantern lectures on China, India and some of the home work. The cost of rental was paid for by the different churches, while the slides were kindly supplied by the Forward Movement Department, of which Dr. Stephenson is Secretary. Mrs. Shields has also freely given of her time and strength in addressing meetings and getting acquainted in the homes.

QUARTERLY BOARD—We have a strong board for the coming year. They have stood right behind the Missionary in all his undertakings, ready to support and help. Any success is largely due to their assistance.
