Mrs. Thos. Harris of Hagersville and several visiting friends here. Rev. Barnwell was a guest of Mrs. William McFarlane over Sunday. He spent Monday renewing old acquaintances in the vicinity.

Thos. Hilton's are moving into their new home which is being fitted up for gas, there being a number of wells drilled near. At the depth of 140 ft. in one well the drill ran through a 25 foot plaster bed which would have proved a gold mine to the owner had it been near the surface.

Ham Cherry is filling his large new silo which was completed Saturday.

The interest of the neighborhood is now focused on Jarvis Fall Show.

Hick's Forecasts for October.

A reactionary storm period, under the combined strain of both Earth and Venus equinoxes, is central on the 3rd and 4th, and may be expected to bring a return of storm conditions, with autumnal rain, wind and possibly light show, northward. Venus lightning and thunder will probably bring in these October periods, followed by rapid change to much colder.

A regular storm period is at its center, with full moon on the equator, on the 7th. This is one of the most decided storm periods of this month; violent disturbances should be watched against, both in the Lake and Gulf regions. Rain, wind and thunder will visit most parts of the interior during this period. From the 4th to the 11th, central on the 7th, constitutes a grave seismic period. Snow northward, rising barometer and much colder, will wind up this period.

A reactionary storm period falls at the closing of the Venus period, on the 13th, 14th and 15th. Fierce autumnal thunder storms will visit many sections, with high gales over lake regions.

High barometer, snow squalls and change to much colder at the culmination of these storms.

A regular storm period, covered by the autumnal and mercury periods, extends from the 17th to the 22nd. The crises of this period will fall on the 20th, 21st and 22nd. Fierce autumnal storms, with lightning and thunder during the first stages, will mark this period. Autumn rains will occur generally at this time, attended by dangerous gales, especially on and about the great lakes. Early snow to the north and west, with Mercury sleet storms that will hamper and endanger wires and agricultural interests, need not surprise those concerned. Another very decided seismic period reaches from the 18th to 24th central on the 21st. High northwest winds and cold, fair weather will follow this period.

A reactionary storm changes—low barometer, cloudiness and autumnal rain and wind, on the 24th, 25th and 26th. Stubborn cloudiness, persistent tendency to drizzle and sleet, snow and cold will attend and follow these dates. Those who will be forewarned of disagreeable weather and autumnal storms, and make haste with all possible outdoor work, will be winners at this time.

A regular storm period is central on the 30th, and extends from the 28th October to the 3rd of November. The month will end with weather growing warmer, falling barometer, and cloudiness increasing and advancing from the west. Rains turning to snow in western extremes, will be in sight to "official observers," and to those "on the spot," as we enter November.

Don't trifle with a cold is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child. There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. It is safe and sure. For sale by all dealers.

House Furnishing Number

I hold a brief for Canadian Home Journal, our own magazine for the home. October number has just reached me, as attractive and interesting a magazine as one could wish.

The new serial starting in this number is "The Cost of a Crime" by Annie S. Swan, the famous English authoress. John Redman has embezzled $650000 of trust funds; discovered by his friend and partner he is allowed to escape, leaving his friend the burden of breaking the news to his wife, whom Lidgate also loved. Like her other novels it grips the interest of the reader from the very start.

The serial by Mrs. Mackay, her first novel is proving as successful as was predicted by the many enthusiastic readers of her short stories. There are several very good short stories. The music is a beautiful lullaby.

Special attention is given in this number to home furnishing and decoration. There are practical painting suggestions, colors and treatment for rooms of different sizes and amounts of light.

There is an entertainment and at the same time helpful description of the average girl's room as it is and as it might be, and an equally interesting treatise on wall papers. Every house furnished on a moderate income and what a tremendous large majority of house furnishers this is, will find a valuable article on just that task. A splendidly illustrated page on stencilling makes one long to attempt the work.

Besides the regular department—Fashions, Receipts, menus, table decorations, dressing table, etc.—there are many fine little interesting articles—"Bee Keeping for Women," "An Ideal Vacation" "Invalid's Diet," "The Lunch Box" and others.
