Made to paint buildings with.

BRIGHTEN UP!
Now is the time to protect your house from the storms and snows of the coming winter months, for unless the paint, film is sound and in good condition the frosts and damp will get into the lumber and open up the grain and gradually start cracking, checking and decay. Then there'll be need for repairs and its far cheaper to paint now than to repair or rebuild later on.
Come in and get a color card and let us tell you what colors will look best on your home.

SNOBBERY BELOW STAIRS.

The Way English Servants Age Their Master's Aids and Graces.
Writing on "snobs in the New York Tribune, Frederick Townsend Martin, the society milliner, says:
We are all familiar with the half-crown snobbery among English servants that existed in the time of Mr. Pickwick. Not so many of us, however, appreciate what snobbery means today in the realm of the servant-hall. I was once visiting Baroness Potholm, when, my valet came to me and asked if he could go to London by the morning train and get back in the afternoon.
I said to him, "Why do you want to go?"
He replied: "Oh, sir, as we are only stopping here a few days, I did not put in my evening suit, and last night, you being a foreigner, I found myself ranked above all the others and had to take precedence of those who were traveling with dukes, earls and viccounts. I outranked them all and took in the housekeeper to dinner. And my mortification was great when I noticed that every one of the men around the table was in evening clothes, and I alone was in my ordinary black suit. By the way, sir," he continued, "perhaps you, being an American, don't know that in the servants' hall the valets and maids are always called after their masters' and mistresses' names. They don't call them Lady So-and-so, but simply by the last name. Thus, Earl Oak's servant would be called 'Oak.' And in the servants' hall they are seated at the housekeeper's table in exactly the same grade and rank as that observed by their masters and mistresses upstairs."

FRONT DOOR NIGHT BELLS.

Doctors Are Not the Only Ones Who Have Use For Them.
At 1 o'clock in the morning a man who was looking for a doctor found a door plate on which he distinguished the words, "Night bell," and rang the bell. When the door opened and a figure appeared in the semi-darkness of the hall he said:
"Hurry up, please. There is a sick woman at No. 132."
The man inside said "All right," and in a few seconds both men were racing down the street to No. 132. In the top floor front room lay a very sick woman. The newcomer pulled a small table to the bedside and took from his pocket a sheet of paper and a fountain pen.
"What on earth are you doing with that?" said the man who had summoned him. "You're a nice doctor, you are."
"Doctor?" echoed the man. "I'm not a doctor; I'm a lawyer. Didn't you read the sign, 'Lawyer's night bell'?"
"But what does a lawyer need of a night bell?" the other man asked.
"To enable the people who want to make wills in the dead of night to find him readily," was the reply.
"Once in a while I'm called up to straighten out more serious entanglements, but most of the legal papers I write after 10 p. m. are wills. A lot of people who take sick suddenly recollect that they have never made a will and they want to repair the omission while there is time. When you said there was a sick woman here I naturally thought of wills, not medicine. There is a doctor in the corner house."
—New York Times.

"Wagle" Cloth.
Many housewives gladly pay 25 cents for so-called "magic" cloths, as they are very useful for silver and other metals. Being dry, they do not soil the hands or clothing and do their work until the cloth itself wears out. To make such a cloth take one quart of gasoline, one-half pound of whiting and one-eighth ounce of oleic acid, mixing all together and shaking well. Soak pieces of woolen cloth in the mixture and hang them in the open air in a shady place to dry. When the cloths are dry the "magic" qualities have been given to them, and these they will never lose. The material must be wool.—New York Globe.

"Dinner of Deadly Enemies."
Lady Randolph Churchill once gave at her house in Connaught place what she called a dinner of deadly enemies. It was thought, says Mr. G. W. Small, in his "Anglo-American Memories," a hazardous experiment. "It proved a complete success. They were all well bred people. They all recognized their obligations to their hostess as paramount for the time being. In some cases ancient animosities were softened. In all they were suspended."

The Shoplifters.
Old Jed Shucks and his wife had visited New York city, and after they got home Jed was describing to his friends the wonders of city ways.
"An' we went to a big department shop," he said, "an' we got into one of them 'ere things wot whistles us clean up to the top—what in tarnation is their name, ma?"
"Shoplifters, Jedediah," Mrs. Shucks replied.

Encouragement.
"I tell you," said Dotypata, "I'm nobody's fool."
"Oh, well, never mind, Doty, dear," said Miss Cynthia. "Some day some nice girl will come along and take you."—Harper's Weekly.

Caution For Consumption.
The Hon. Mr. Stimpson, when you came in this morning I detected a trace of liquor about your person. The Buckingham-Clark's Bar, sir, find that shows how much better your

The H. S. Falls Co. are back of it. It is all dependable clothing.

Location

Nearly Next Door to the Molsons Bank, Simcoe.

Sale Opens SATURDAY MORNING

WHY Doesn't The H. S. Falls Co. hold this Great Distribution of Clothing at their own store? Any person that has visited their Clothing Department this fall noticed,—if they "knew Beans when the Bags Open" that since the fall and winter stocks have arrived that the small space given over to clothing is Ram-Jammed full and there is scarcely room for the help to turn around in much less customers. To further add to the congestion The H. S. Falls Co. Thursday of last week made a bid to one of the largest and most reliable clothing manufacturers in Montreal on nearly Three Thousand Dollars worth of over coats and cancelled orders in Mens' Suits, Over Coats, Odd Pants and Boys' and Children's Clothing.

We scarcely hoped that our bid would be accepted but it was, and

Now we are for a time simply forced to get out side quarters to accommodate the Stock. True the shop in which we shall move our entire Stock of Clothing including the Special Purchase of nearly $3,000 worth, hasn't a wide frontage but it extends away back 87 feet and will give us over 1600 square feet of space. Our present clothing quarters being only about 500 square feet. Everything will be in apple pie order Saturday morning. Plenty of extra help. Extra lights will be installed all through the premises and night or day it will be one of the lightest Business Places of Simcoe. The Materials and Workmanship of Every Suit and Overcoat on sale are standard and their fashions are firm.
