The Scottish Thistle.

The origin of the thistle as the national badge of Scotland is thus given by tradition. When the Danes invaded Scotland it was deemed unwarlike to attack the enemy by night, instead of pitched battle by day, but on one occasion the invaders tried a night attack. In order to prevent their tramp being heard they marched barefooted, and they succeeded in creeping close up to the Scottish forces unobserved, when one of them stepped on a thistle and uttered a cry of pain. The alarm was given, and the attack was beaten off. Out of gratitude the thistle was adopted as the insignia of Scotland.

Biliousness is due to a disordered condition of the stomach. Chamberlain's Tablets are essentially a stomach medicine, intended especially to act on that organ; to cleanse it, strengthen it, tone and invigorate it, to regulate the liver and to banish biliousness positively and effectually. For sale by all dealers.

Some people are surprised at the number of $4 bills in circulation. The explanation is that these bills are used by the banks only as an emergency form of currency. At the present time with the crop moving in the west all the banks have their circulation put pretty near the limit. They are stocking up as many of their own bills as possible for use in the west, and to make that circulation go as far as possible are using the $4 bills. There is no danger, however, of anything like a real shortage of currency.

One of our Rules.

It is a rule in all printing offices that there is a charge of so much per line for advertising concerts, socials, entertainments or any sort of affair where there is an admission fee charged, and any varying from this rule is a mere oversight of the printer. You should not expect something for nothing from the printer, any more than you would from your merchant, or than the printer would from you. It is our source of revenue. Kindly respect it.

The Merchants Easy Money.

"Yes," remarked a country merchant, "I certainly have a snap. Wholesale houses send dinners every month and draw on me at sight, but if I send a bill to a farmer, he comes in swearing mad and quits trading at my store. While I am hard up for money, many of those who owe me money are sending it to mail order houses. If I contribute to any cause, people say I am baiting for trade. If I don't they say I am a hog. Every day I am expected to dig up for everything that comes along, from a rate ticket to a church fund, by people who claim I ought to do this because they do part of their trading with me. But our friends Simpson and Eaton, neither by tickets nor subscriptions, help the church, and yet they get cash in advance for goods that I sell. If I sell a pair of trousers, I must treat the crowd to cigars and canies and if I buy a load of potatoes I must do the same. Customers are able to pay ten per cent on their money, while I pay ten per cent on the wholesale bills. I have a big business during hard times and poor crops from people who are willing to trade with me, providing I can compete with the catalogue prices and wait until harvest for my pay. My scales weigh too much when I sell sugar, and too little when I buy butter. I am a thief, liar and a grifter. If I smile I am a soft soap hypocrite and if I don't I am a grump. Yes, certainly this is a snap, and when I look over $10,000 in accounts, all supposed to be good, I wonder how I will raise $300 to pay a sight draft to-morrow."—Kingston Whig.
