NORWAY'S INCOME TAX

It Requires All Income to be Taxed at 25% Per Year.

How should you like to pay an income tax on next to nothing? If you were a Norwegian living at home and earning $200 a year you would be taxed on one-tenth of it if you were unmarried; on about one-twentieth of it if you were married and had no children. If you had children you still would be taxed on one-fiftieth of it.

With an income of $500 a year you would be taxed if unmarried on more than half of your income, if married and having no children on about 40 per cent of your income, having one child on about 37 per cent, two children on about 31 per cent.

Unmarried and having an income of $2,000 a year in Norway your income tax payment would be $421.25; married, with one child, $388.04; married, with six children, $335.17. All that you would get off your income tax (unmarried) for having six children would be $65; all that you would get off by having five more children would be $54 and six bits!

Married or unmarried in Norway, you could escape paying an income tax only by having an income less than $200 a year. Think of paying an income tax out of earnings of $1 a month—New York Press.

THEY PLAYED CHESS.

The Loner Afterward Learned Without Asking Why He Lost.

Bern Hengelmueller, the Austrian diplomat, a man famous for his chess ability, one day at a house in Washington met a young man whose name he did not catch when the introduction was made. Chess was the topic of the conversation by all those in the company, and presently the young man suggested diffidently that he would be highly honored if the baron would play a game with him.

The baron consented. They sat down. After a few moves the baron looked up from the table chessboard and found the young man reading a paper. The chessman were placed again and, after not so many moves as before, the baron looked up to find the young man reading the paper and himself chessmated.

After his dinner the baron came back. He wanted another game, being somewhat chagrined at the ease with which he had been beaten. As he came in he found the young man who had played with him that afternoon himself chessmated and playing against sixteen opponents at the same time. The young man was Pillsbury.—Saturday Evening Post.

Our Sleep.

As a race we sleep too little. An infant's life is nearly all sleep. Gradually as the child grows older the hours of sleep are shortened to half the day or about eight hours. Youth until the age of twenty is reached requires fully ten hours' sleep. Although nature demands fewer hours' sleep in summer than in winter, it has been proved that eight hours of sleep are required for the average adult in good health. By this, explains the Pittsburgh Dispatch, is meant not simply eight hours in bed, but that amount of good, sound, restful sleep night after night. Our power to work is intimately related to our ability to sleep, and there is no more reliable indication of sound health than the capacity to sleep naturally, and the more active and energetic the waking life the deeper the sleep.

We Light Diet.

The actor's sense of humor is always apparent. He will just about his head back, his ill luck or almost anything that offers an opportunity for a joke. Generally, too, he has courage—the courage to smile when his heart is heavy. A comedian, who was invited to a social gathering one evening, when the poor actor arrived he was seen to be thinly clad, although the weather was bitter cold. He looked also as if he had not had any too much nourishment for some time. The hostess greeted him cordially.

"I am so glad to see you," she said.

"How well you are looking!"

"Yes," replied the comedian; "the wind has been very nutritious of late."—Saturday Evening Post.

A Kicking Deferred.

Aunt Clara to her young nephew, who has just brought a basket into the parlor where she is sitting.—Good gracious, Tommy! What are you doing with that basket? Take it down to the kitchen at once. Tommy: I want you to kick it. Aunt Clara, please I heard papa saying when you kicked the basket we'd get at the very least $25.000.

We Objection.

Mrs. Rihatch-John: I want you to buy a new pair of suit. Mr. Rihatch-Maria: I've been agreeable enough so far to get different clothes for morning, noon, afternoon and night, but I'm concerned if I change 'em every time I go into a different room.—Brooklyn Life.

We Gain.

Mrs. Jones—How your husband remember your wedding anniversary? Mr. Smith—No; so I wanted him off in January and June and get two presents.—Harper's Bazar.

The Last Chance.

The Government has thrown open for entry 25,000 homesteads in Western Canada in the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. These homesteads are all within 30 miles of the Canadian Northern Railway (and some much less) and all will undoubtedly be served by railway lines within a short time.

The low round trip homeseekers' fares to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan are in effect only two more days this year, September 5th and 19th. The fares are low, the return limits long and the stop-over privileges liberal.

Write at once for the latest Homeseekers' guide, fares and other particulars. The Canadian Northern Railway offers a choice of all routes, reaches nearly every part of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, thus enabling one to examine all sections and make a wise selection.

All particulars can be obtained by writing to R. L. Fairbairn, Asst. General Passenger Agent, Canadian Northern Railway, Toronto, Ont.

BRIGHTEN UP!

Now is the time to protect your house from the storms and snows of the coming winter months, for unless the paint, film is sound and in good condition the frosts and damp will get into the lumber and open up the grain and gradually start cracking, checking and decay. Then there'll be need for repairs and its far cheaper to paint now than to repair or rebuild later on.

Come in and get a color card and let us tell you what colors will look best on your home.
