Every Section at Fall's Store Is Sounding A New Note of Achievement

EVERY Department is ablaze with a brilliant display of NEW Spring Merchandise you have not seen before. You will see at Fall's as never before Silks, Dress Goods, Suitings, Millinery Tailored Suits, Laces, Trimmings, all making an exhibition far ahead of even our own past achievements. You ought to see it.

Every Woman Who Would Like to see $16, 18, 20, 22, or $25 Do its Full Duty

Is invited to see certain fresh Spring Suits wearing the above price tags. They include beautiful two-toned woads in Tans and Greys from a master maker of plain suits also a nice line of Tweeds, Serges, Satins. Which ever she chooses she may feel quite certain the suit is distinguished from top to toe in cut, in fabric, in tailoring.

For the Woman Who Wants "A Hat to go With Any Dress."

This advertisement is written expressly. Saturday we shall display a hundred or more of such Hats, in Blacks, Greys, Pearly color, Burnt Straw and Eerie large shapes and small shapes, Chips and Milans elaborate enough for almost any occasion. They are fresh and charming and prices are $3.50 to $7.

Just About Gloves

In all the world there are no two hands alike. Do you realize the situation the glove manufacturers have to meet? Few of us give our gloves the thought they deserve. We know in a general way that we want a glove to fit well, look well and wear well, but it takes some of us a long while to find out how scarce such gloves are. As the result of long years of ceaseless vigilance as to quality and workmanship and patient experimentation with many dies, the Falls Glove Department has become sponsor for a collection of gloves that we know to be unsurpassed anywhere. We know good leather, and we have insisted that only good leather shall be used in our gloves. We know the importance of good sewing, and we reject every glove with a seam that will not hold straight and strong.

The Fit's The Thing

and unless you will allow us to give you gloves that fit, all our efforts are for naught. To fit, a glove need not encase the hand like a sausage skin. On the contrary, it would better be just a trifle loose. It is so very, very difficult to convince people that the size they are accustomed to wearing may not be right at first, the hand changes from the effects of work and play. Gloves that bag at the knuckles and split at the seams are obviously too tight. They make the hand look larger rather than smaller. Do you think you would look smaller buttoned up in a coat that appeared about to burst? And a glove that is a trifle loose will take the shape of the hand and actually get smaller. If you don't believe it, look at your coat sleeve. Doesn't it get just a little shorter as it wrinkles to the bending of your arm?
