NOW

Put away the old snow shovel.
Stand it by the woodshed wall—Spring is nearly here in earnest—T'won't be needed till next fall.
If perchance there comes a flurry On some day that's cold and raw There's no need for you to hurry, Just hang back and let her thaw.

Brag is the most impudent form of a lie.

Whiskey fools the man who fools with it.

We all have faults we might catch ourselves in if we would half try.

The reason a girl is so sure to be able to fool a man is he's so sure she can't.

How unreasonable and unfair you know your critics to be. And you are often unreasonable and unfair when you criticize others.

W. E. Sowter has a carload of McLaughlin Buggies, Democrats, Carriages and Stanhopes ordered, which he expects in a few days.

Mrs. Harris and Mrs. File and children of St. Thomas spent part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. J.
Marr.

You have often wanted something artistic to seal your envelopes. We Hewson Sharp had the misfortune to run a nail into his foot on Saturday, which necessitates him keeping to the house. We trust no complications may set in.

Mr. and Mrs. Brownlow Hyde, who have been on a three months trip to England, returned home Friday. A sketch of their trip will be found in another column.

The Walpole Agricultural Society will hold their annual Spring Fair on Thursday, April 25th, at the Fair Grounds, Jarvis. Liberal cash prizes are offered this year, and with a Government Judge in attendance a good show is promised.
Admission to ground free.

E. T. Carter, returned last week from a visit in Toronto and Guelph.
Mr. Carter received word Monday of the death of his brother-in-law, George Newstead, who passed away at Guelph Monday after a lingering illness. Mr. Carter left Tuesday evening for Guelph to attend the funeral, which takes place to-day (Wednesday.)

Mr. Burbank, the great California experimentalist, has a new scheme.
We have no faith in it however, since we heard that he was planting onions and potatoes together. Of course you want to know why?
Well, it is said that he hoped that the tear-producing quality of the onion would so effect the eyes of the potatoes that irrigation would not be necessary even in that dry climate.

If this jail farm at Hamilton they speak about will be made use of to cure the "soaks" of their drinking habit, the sooner they have it the better. How many men and women, too, can you count on your fingers who are a nuisance to themselves and everybody else by their eternal drinking? How fast the good fellow and liberal spender goes down the toboggan slide until he becomes the "bum." Did you ever think of that? We could pick out a dozen men whose only chance of getting back on the solid ground is a satori-um or jail farm or something where they can be done over again.
Short of that, down they go.

Editing a newspaper is not a nice thing. If we publish jokes people say we are rattled. If we don't we are fossils. If we publish original matter they say we don't give them enough selections. If we give them selections they say we are too lazy to write. If we don't go to church we are heathens. If we do go we are hypocrites. If we remain at the office we ought to be out looking for news items. If we go out, then we are not attending to business. If we wear old clothes they laugh at us. If we wear good clothes they say we have a pull or wonder where we get our money.
Now, what are we to do?

A severe electrical storm accompanied by heavy rain passed over Jarvis and vicinity on Sunday night.
It had threatened all evening but a few minutes after nine it spent its fury and continued until after midnight. It brought, nevertheless, an ideal spring day Monday which seemed to put new life into everything and everybody.

The housecleaning season is now here and the passing wayfarer can observe the carpets, mats and rugs everywhere strewn about. The farmer on returning to the house is compelled to eat his meal in the pantry or off the cupboard and often in emergency has to sleep on a couch in the woodshed with a tomato can for a pillow. Just imagine the patience men must have.

Little Harold, ("Tommy") son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Harris met with an accident on Tuesday, about 11 o'clock, and his escape from instant death is little short of a miracle.
The little fellow had stepped to the edge of the road on the crossing just as the mail man, Earl Brown from Nanticoke came driving by, but he failed to notice the little chap. The horse made a plunge and stepped over him but he was struck by the rig, luckily he escaped with only a bruised leg and a bad scare. We trust to see "Tommy" out again as he will be much missed by the passer-by, who always had a friendly word with him.

The good old fishing days have

On his 33rd birthday General Booth discussed plans for another tour of Canada and the United States. No man of half his years has more energy than the head of the Salvation Army, and it is doubtful if any contemporary philanthropist has to his credit a greater record of good work accomplished.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs.
John Pratt of Woodhouse deeply sympathize with them in the loss they have sustained by the death of their little daughter, Eureka, at the age of two years, the little one passing away on Friday, April 5th.

Sad Death

The grim reaper's death is no respecter of persons, snatching both the aged and the youth. On Friday the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Haslet's was visited by their eldest son, Blain, aged about six years, was taken from the fold.
The little fellow had only been ill a few days with a sore throat, which finally developed into edema of the glottis, and despite the best medical attendance and careful nursing his spirit winged its flight on the above day. Blain was a bright little chap, playmates but the All wise One needed him more than we and today his little soul is a shining jewel in the kingdom.
The parents hearts are sad and bleeding and our words of sympathy can never fill the gap left vacant by this death but we commend them to Him who hath said:
"Suffer the little ones to come unto Me, and forbid them not." The funeral took place Saturday at Knox Church cemetery.

METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. Charles Stringfellow of Hagersville preached morning and evening last Sunday owing to the illness of the pastor.
Mr. Stringfellow's ministerial work began in 1855. In 1896 he was superannuated but still retains, in a large measure, his physical strength and mental equipment.
His messages were both interesting and helpful.

Topic for to-night's meeting, "Francis Ridley Havergal and her hymns" Miss Maud Parkinson and others will take part in the discussion. The attendance last Wednesday evening was encouraging.
Everyone is cordially invited.

The annual meeting of the Sunday School Board of Management will be held and old are all cordially invited. In the evening "True Liberty" will be the subject.

Word has been received from Toronto that Mrs. Andrew Rodgers, Miss Mabel Parkinson and Wm. Macell have been successful in their Teacher Training examinations. They have now completed their course and are entitled to the official diplomas. They are to be most heartily congratulated upon their perseverance and success.

The contract for renovating the interior of the church has been let to Mr.
Milton of Simcoe. The work is to be done next month.

Literary Society

The Literary Society have reason to congratulate themselves upon the success of their last meeting, which was held on Friday evening in Chambers' Hall, there being the largest attendance of the season. Dr. Jacques occupied the chair. The first part of the program consisted of an instrumental duet by Misses Lillian Allen and Evelyn Sower, a humorous recitation by Miss Margaret Allen and an account of the early days of Jarvis by R. W.
Smith. The second part consisted of a Mock Trial, John Deming being accused of stealing valuable property, TO WIT, a chicken from his fellow-citizen, Dr. Over-end. The selecting of the jury proved a very interesting part of the proceedings.
The following jurors ("good men and true") were finally selected: Wm. Ban-bury, Andrew Miller, Geo. Histed, D. C.
Allen, Geo. Irwin, Alt. Peart, Ben Johnston, Henry Jackson, John Ivey, Ainsley Jackson, Marshall Roberts, Mort. Hew-son. Joseph Ivey acted as Clerk of the Court; J. S. Burwash Sheriff; W. E.
Sower, Court Crier; J. Wadhams, Constable in charge of the prisoner; His Honor, Dr. Jacques, being the presiding Judge.
The Crown, in the person of Dr. Howell, forcibly presented its case, the following being witnesses: Charles Ivey, Leighton Holmes and Thomas Harris. The prisoner, however, not without assistance, R. A.
McCarter, his lawyer, producing the following witnesses in his defence: A. Williamson, J. Meshan (in darkey costume similar to that of the prisoner) Clifford Rodgers, Chas. Lowry and J. A. Campbell. The Judge, realizing the grave responsibility of his position, gave his charge to the jury in accordance with the highest traditions of the Bench. After the jury had carefully weighed the evidence the foreman Alf Peart, to the great joy of the prisoner announced the verdict "Not Guilty" and the suspense and the Literary meeting was over.

Assist Nature

Nature is busy at work just now. Almost imperceptibly but surely and silently trees, shrubs and sward are taking on their beautiful green garb. Plants and buds are springing into life and flowers are bursting into view in variegated tints.
The fragrance and beauty of the early morning hours these spring days will not be lost to the lover of nature. What are we as citizens doing to help nature in her work? Are we seeking to beautify our homes by planting a tree or a shrub, by having a flower bed or cultivating a green lawn? The soil around our homes instead of being barren and unattractive may be made to bloom and look attractive. It is remarkable what a change can be made by a little work in the direction we have indicated.

Notes on the South

DEAR EDITOR

In answer to your request for some notes on the south, it occurred to the writer that your readers might be interested in farming, as it is carried on in Florida.
Each locality goes in for some special kind of produce. I was particularly interested in the celery culture in Sandford and vicinity. After 20 hour trip up the winding St. Johns River from Jacksonville one is landed at Sandford, the head of navigation. We had met on the boat three or four people from Sandford, among whom was Mr. Vallie, who was particularly anxious to show us the celery farms. Accordingly, before we were through dinner at the hotel an auto was at the door and as we were only going to stay three or four hours, they were prepared to make the most of our time and we were soon amidst the little farms of five or six acres, which supply most of the United States with celery and lettuce during the winter months. The soil is naturally a white sand, very poor. The farmers get black muck which they call humus from swamps and mix with it.
Then they put on from $40 to $50 worth of artificial fertilizer per acre. The irrigation is the most interesting feature.
By driving a two or four inch pipe into the ground they get a flowing well, the water being carried twenty feet in the air. They tile the ground under the celery rows, by simply turning a tap the ground is watered from beneath. In fifteen or twenty minutes after the water is turned on one can see the ground getting damp. One acre often produces $500 to $700 worth of celery or lettuce in one year. 350 cars have already been shipped this winter and there will be 350 more.
The season is over in April, so many northern farmers are making a practice of going south for the winter, growing celery, lettuce, cabbage and strawberries and returning to their northern farms in time for spring work. The labor in the south is mostly black and is paid about $1.00 per day. The celery is bleached by means of boards. The fields look very pretty.
I was interested the other day to see Sandford celery on sale in Toronto. The industry has only been in existence a few years and is a very flourishing one. After a very pleasant afternoon for which we were indebted to Messrs. Howard and Packard, real estate agents, we left by train for Orlando, the city of orange trees.
Yours truly,
DR. JACQUES

A Trip to Yorkshire Towns and Country

The following is a brief sketch of the trip enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Brownlow Hyde, of town.

We arrived in Halifax, Yorkshire, England, on Dec. 6th, 1911, at midnight, stayed over night and found the old town looking bright and cheerful. Travelling seven miles further we landed in the farming community. It was ideal weather, flowers in full bloom and the stores turning out, but in January there was a slight frost which blighted the flowers.
We spent Christmas at Barnsley among old friends. Here we found plenty to eat and drink and everything to make you happy and comfortable. We journeyed to Doneaster for New Years and also visited there for a month. It is a splendid town with lots of fine buildings; also flourishing, with plenty of work for the laboring class, there being 1000 men on the horse racing track re-solding it, ready for the spring races, which improves it considerably. They are also enlarging
