St. Valentine

It is not that her face is fair, Her glances sweet, her form divine, Not these, though homage they compel Not these around the heartstrings twine.
She is a woman—all is said—The glory of our life is here.
She is a woman—and the name
The highest thought of manhood stirs.

There may have been colder days this winter, but few which made the people shiver any more than Sunday. With a temperature of zero all Saturday night and as low as two to four below Sunday night, a penetrating wind made Sunday a very uncomfortable day and did much to keep down the attendance at church service. Weatherwise people predict that this will probably be the last of the extremely cold weather of the year.

We presume that some people think newspaper men are persistent dunners. Let a farmer place himself in a similar position and see if he would not do the same. Suppose that he raises a thousand bushels of corn, and his neighbor should come and buy, and the price was one dollar or less, and says, "I will pay the amount in a few days." As the farmer does not want to be small about the matter, he says, "All right." Another comes the same way, and another, until the whole thousand bushels of corn is traded to a thousand different people and no one of the different people concerns himself about it, for it is a small amount they owe the farmer and of course that will not help him any. He does not realize that the farmer has frittered away his entire crop of corn, and that its value is due in a thousand little debts, and that he is seriously embarrassed in his business, because his debtors treat it as a little matter. But if all would pay him promptly, which they could as well as not it would be a large sum to the farmer and enable him to carry on his business without difficulty.

A special meeting of Presbytery was held in Hamilton, on Tuesday to consider the call extended by the Presbyterian congregations of Jar-bell of Inwood, after being present-

It is with profound regret that we report the illness of our esteemed Councilor, E. T. Carter. Mr.
Carter was not feeling well on Friday and Saturday continued to grow worse. On consulting his physician it was deemed advisable that an operation be performed and on Saturday he left for the General Hospital, Hamilton, where he underwent the operation for appendicitis which was successful, although another one will have to be performed in a few days. His many friends join with The Record in wishing him a successful operation and a complete restoration to health. Mrs.
Carter was in Hamilton Tuesday and reports his condition as most favorable.

Jarvis Defeated

Waterford won from Jarvis last week 9-7. Score at half time stood 7 all and was either teams' game until the final whistle blew. The speed boys jumped into a two-point lead in the last half and were never headed. From the spectators point of view the contest was a good one, there was action all the while that left no opportunity for the interest to flag. The game was crammed with ready attacks on the part of both teams met by aggressive checking. From the very beginning neither side toned down their body checks.
Jarvis did not show up as well at times as account of stopping up for outside play which the referee let slip by him and were like a watered down team.
However, Waterford in the play deserved to win although both teams were very evenly matched. The game was truly clean hockey.

The Reservation with the assistance of three Hagersville players managed to get the goat of the Jarvis hockey team Friday night. Jarvis did not get going in the first half when the game was cinched.
Jarvis woke up in the second half and showed Hagersville how to play hockey.
Jarvis certainly showed that when they played hockey they do not want to be beaten.
But it never does to wake up late but a cinch Jarvis can beat Hagersville but the game could not be won on Hagersville ice whether they had their goat or not.

Here's hoping to see a play-off on neutral ice with a good umpire who would see that all rough play would be eliminated.
We would like to see Hagersville play all Hagersville boys' victory, as it was last Friday the game went to the Reservation.

The Niagara Catastrophe

There is something particularly appealing to the heart of humanity in that picture of three human beings being carried on an ice floe down Niagara River, into the Whirlpool Rapids. Their utter helplessness in the presence of hundreds of people on the bridges and on the shores, frantically endeavoring to throw out a life-line, was equalled only by the courage with which they faced approaching death in the swirling waters of the rapids.
Eldridge Stanton of Toronto refused to accept life at the price of leaving his fainting wife to go to her fate alone; he exhibited the calm courage of a man to whom honor is more than life. The Cleveland boy, Burrell Heock, turned back to assist the husband and wife, thereby giving up his own life. Manliness could do no more. As they floated under the bridges, and their sands of life ebbed with the flying minutes, theirs were heroic figures. The slow certainty of their doom might well have made brave spirits quail.
There was a courage born, not of desperation, nor of the lust of battle, but of the Spartan spirit, wherein true manhood sees above the material things of earth as the mountain towers into the sky. Had the break occurred when hundreds of people were crossing the ice, as might have happened, what a catastrophe there would have been! If it was impossible to rescue three persons, would one hundred fare better? The magnificent ice bridge should be a warning, not an invitation to venturesome people. Its apparent solidity should not be the excuse for the risking of life, for the danger has been demonstrated to be there. The bridge should be rapped off at both sides, a id the headless and thoughtless saved from themselves. It may be that the sad lesson of Sunday will serve a good purpose in saving the lives of dozens or hundreds of others. Carefulness in risking life on ice is advisable at all times and not alone at Niagara Falls. Those who are tempted to brave unnecessarily the treacherous ice should call before their mind's eye a picture of that frightful scene of Sunday.

Rev. A. C. Eddy, Mrs. Noble.

to Mrs. (Rev.) A. J. Belt in the bereavement which she has sustained in the loss was also deeply interested in the Public
