VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.
Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope. I had several operations, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was out of work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Dr. H. Kennedy & Kennedy. He was square and skillful. I wrote them and got The Heron Remedy. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $21 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

Note and Comment

Fines of $200 for selling liquor without a license should discourage "blind pigging."

The Police Commission's estimates call for $15,000 more than last year. The increase is well warranted.

The increase County Councilors' fees from $3 to $5 a day may probably be justified by the high cost of living!

Longboat, the Indian, has just won an exciting race by two feet, they being the same two feet that he invariably uses.

Pulmonary tuberculosis carried off 14,179 persons in New York State last year, while pneumonia and acute respiratory diseases took about 20,000 and cancer about 8,000.

From the same parent stock poultry fancies have produced the game fowl, the Brahma and the Sebright bantam, but it is probably beyond their art to develop a rooster that will not crow.

A Baltimore woman who at the age of 87 has the complexion and the bodily vigor of a girl sums up her hygienic philosophy in these words: "Never use pills when you can get water and sunshine."

There are thirteen fewer dailies and forty fewer weekly papers in the United States this year than last, according to a recent computation. There were 2,459 dailies and 16,229 weeklies alive in January 1912.

Dr. Cook cares not who discovers the North Pole as long as he is able to discover a couple of thousand people in every large city ready to part with their good money to listen to the distinguished member of the Ananias Club.

The proprietor of a New York dance hall has been sent to jail for six months for permitting his guests to indulge in the "turkey trot." There is poetic justice in the thought that he will be compelled to indulge in the lock step.

The total railway mileage of Canada in 1911 was 25,400,669 over 1910. 70% of the increase was in the Western Province. About 1,600 miles of additional railway was in operation, although officially regarded as under construction.

The cry in Canada to-day is that there are not hogs enough raised, and it is a vital point in its economical policy. Of course, there is more than a sufficiency of the two-legged variety, but unfortunately they have no merchantable value.

One of the future sights of Niagara ought to be a monument erected to the memory of Stanton and Hooker, the young Canadian and the young American who quitted them like men in the terrible tragedy on Sunday, Feb. 4th.

A contemporary announces as a strange bit of news that it has been learned that pneumonia is caused by a germ, and it urges that the germ be hunted down. It has long been known that the disease is due to the presence of the pneumococcus, and for years experiments have been made to find a curative serum.

Fifty fall pairs attribute their unprofitable federal elections to the "one election of our funeral." But the provincial elections in December were also charged up with dire results from a commercial standpoint. Can they be directly tabulated, say in the way of business failures?

A few months ago a New York woman who had previously moved in good society and whose husband was a man of great wealth, ran away with a young plumber, whom she supposed to be her "affinity." She was divorced and the plumber married her. A few days ago they committed suicide. The wages of sin are certain, and they are not often so promptly paid.

A New York business man suddenly said to his daughter, "Helen, have I been a good father to you?" "Certainly you have. Why do you ask such a question?" she answered. There was no reply, and the girl, turning, saw that her father's head had fallen forward on his breast. She went to him and found that he was dead. It was only a case of heart failure, with nothing supernatural about it; yet sometimes it seems as if death sent a secret messenger ahead to warn the spirit of his coming, and the soul then wanders, rises and awaits the Presence standing. No one could ask to die with a kinder thought in mind than that which this man had, nor can every daughter cherish so sweet a memory.

THE MERCHANT WHO WINS

EMERSON said something about an incubation being the lengthened shadow of a man. The same is true of a business. A STORE for example, REFLECTS THE CHARACTER OF ITS OWNER.

Take two typical stores. The one is enterprising, has attractive displays, advertises liberally and intelligently and reaches out for new business.

The other goes along in a humdrum fashion, advertises little, and that in a stereotyped way, makes no display of its wares and no effort to turn over its stock at frequent intervals. It follows the methods of twenty years ago. It does not reach after new customers and in consequence loses its old ones.

Which of these stores will succeed and which will fail?

WHICH PROPRIETOR REARS THE PAPERS AND WHICH REARS LAST YEAR'S ALMANAC?

That tells the story THE PROGRESSIVE HUSTLING, UP-TO-DATE MERCHANT REARS THE NEWSPAPERS. He also makes others read the advertisements he places in the newspapers. Therefore he is a winner. BE A WINNER.

A Terrible Mixup

A Spokenchawee editor, who was full of hard order, got a sale bill and a marriage notice badly mixed. The description ran as follows: William Smith, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Smith was disposed of at public auction to Lucy Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, on my farm one mile east of his place in the presence of 70 guests including the following to wit: 2 males, 12 head of cattle, Rev. Jackson tied the nuptial knot, averaging 1250 lbs on the hoof, the beautiful home of the bride was tastefully decorated with a Swiss clam spade, sulky rake, feed grinder, set double harness, nearly new; just before the ceremony was pronounced. Mendelssohn's inspiring wedding march was softly given by 1 mile cow 5 years old, 1 Jersey cow to be fresh next April, carrying a bunch of flowers in her hand and looked charming in a gown made of light spring wagon, 6 boxes of apples, 3 racks of hay, 1 grindstone, monnaie de soie trimmed with 100 bush of spuds. The groom is a well known and popular young man and always stood well in society circles of 12 Berkshire hogs, while the bride is an accomplished and talented teacher of a splendid brood of Poland Chinas—pedigree furnished if desired. Among the nuptial presents were 2 sets of silver knives and forks, 1 spring harrow, 1 wheelbarrow, goat cart and other articles too numerous to mention. The bride couple left yesterday for an extended trip, parties 12 months' time to respond to the bride, otherwise each; luncheon served at the sale. After this Mr. and Mrs. Smith will go to keeping house in a cozy home at the corner of Main. Dr. L. R. Granby, Auctioneer.
