Sybil's Doom

"I trust you have no objection to fighting your battles over again, Colonel Trevanion?" he said, eyeing his tall companion.

"I have no desire to meet any of my old comrades," he said, curtly. "The circumstances under which I return, the painful past..."

"I wish to renew my old acquaintances, nor form any new ones. I prefer to remain entirely alone for the present."

"Oh, Charley drewled, 'Diogenes and his tub! Robinson Crusoe at Monkwood! Waste! Your views of life appear to have changed considerably of late..."

"I was ill of a fever after I left Lima," Cyril Trevanion said, with a moody look of injury.

"It was at Valparaiso; a very dangerous brain fever, in which my life and reason were both despaired of..."

Men Who Don't Exercise

Suffer from Indigestion, Headaches, Poor Appetite, Sleeplessness.

Lack of exercise and overwork were the causes that combined to almost kill Samuel S. Stephens, Jun., one of the best known citizens of Woodstock.

"I am Mr. Oserino Smith—HW. Will you marry me?"

"Why, certainly," was the vibrant, joyous answer brought by the wireless waves.

"When?"

"Oh, we'll talk that over later."

"Good night, dearie."

"And then came the following pure Morse: '... (73) indicating that the ether was unobstructed by this happy couple of others who might wish to converse or propose matrimony..."

ing beauties stepped out of its frame.

She stood in the doorway with an instant—an exquisite tableau—with her roses and her ribbons, gazing from one face to the other.

As he turned round, and his eyes met, the bright color faded from her rounded cheeks and a dull, leaden whiteness passed from brow to chin.

"Sweetest of the sweet!" Charley said, taking her basket of roses out of her ribbles hand.

She had arisen before him so unexpectedly—she was so brilliantly retty, so fair, so sweet—that the eyes that had looked calmly enough on Sybil Trevanion's beautiful face gazed at her with admiration of this gay little vision.

Meerschmann Mine

Only One Known in the World Beside the Mine in Asia Minor.

There is only one meerschmann mine in this country. Up to a year or two ago there might as well have been none at all.

The Turkish meerschmann is an absolute miracle. It looks like a piece of white milk and is very moist, so wet in fact that it must be allowed to dry out before it can be crushed.

That's what they were, too, for a long time. The trouble was that whereas the Turkish meerschmann is an absolute miracle, it looks like a piece of white milk and is very moist, so wet in fact that it must be allowed to dry out before it can be crushed.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mothers who have once used Baby's Own Tablets for their little ones always keep them in the house.
