Cheapside

The gardens in this vicinity are suffering for want of rain. Wm. Lonsie, from above Simcoe, has purchased the farm above the lake shore, formerly owned by Wm. Edsall, of Selkirk, for the sum of $3,000. The following address was presented to Miss Annie Richards at the close of the school year. "We as pupils of S. S. No. 2, all regret your departure from us and wish to present you, as a little token of our love and esteem, with this silver berry spoon, which we trust you will accept, not for its intrinsic value, but because of the motive for which it is presented to you. Many kind memories linger around you and we wish you every happiness in your future life." The address was signed by Mary Fulsom and Mary Hamilton. Mrs. Hamilton is on a trip to New York. The farmers are busy haying. Roger and Mrs. Dennis are rejoicing these days over the arrival of a bouncing son. The carpenters are very busy now. Charles and Mrs. Beam have returned home after their honeymoon. Dr. A. M. Hedger, while working in his garden, found an old coin which was made in the reign of George III. It was dated 1807. One of Townsend's most prominent farmers in the person of David Erwin, Villa Nova, died on Saturday after two months' illness.

Varency

The hay crop has been stored in unusually good condition. There is a considerable average of alfalfa in this locality and there are indications of a bumper crop. Wheat is ripening fast and cutting will likely be commenced in a few days. The raspberry crop is much below the average. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller of Pittsburg have been visiting relatives here during the past week. Mrs. S. W. Rountree and daughter of Toronto are spending a fortnight with relatives in this vicinity.

Hicks' Forecasts for July

A reactionary storm period continues on the 28th and 29th, the Moon being full and in apogee on the 28th. Black, threatening storm clouds will return at this time, with thunder and flash and light scattering rains. Those who watch their barometers and hygrometers may know for a certainty, long before the storm strikes, just about how much wind and rain will come with the storm. Another moderate and brief respite from summer heat will come behind these storms. A seismic period, until on the 29th, covers three to four days before and after the date. Don't forget to watch telegraphic reports at all these seismic periods. The Venus period begins early in August, and extending its influence over the most part of July and August, the probabilities are increased for rainfall, but at least the prospects for a sufficiency of well diffused are not favorable. Drought will probably be serious in all central to western regions.

Hold Them in Check

Give a certain class of people a line and they'll take a vent. The increase in the speed limit allowed autos, under legislation passed last session, seems to have given to auto drivers the license to all the streets have been recently, and in places that have been closed for months, are daily given to drivers of motors of the most reckless disregard for the rights of safety of pedestrians. Not have these regulations been confined here alone. On Dominion Day cars from Toronto, toward the leading roads all over the Province, and everywhere it seems to have been a case of wide open. As a result no less than eighteen summonses have been issued from Ottawa alone for Toronto speed maniacs, while Whiteby, Brampton, Brantford, Westborough, Brantford, and other places have issued similar summonses. The authorities of outside municipalities cannot be too strongly commended on their action in seeking to keep auto traffic within reasonable bounds. If it comes and persistent unreasonableness is not shown the use of leading town and country roads will be practically monopolized by motorists. The people who have built these highways and are responsible for their maintenance, will be driven to the side lines.

During the summer months mothers of young children should watch for any unnatural looseness of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time serious trouble may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

How To Kill Flies

To clear rooms of flies use carbolic acid, dip a shovel and pour on it twenty drops of the poison. The vapor will kill the flies. Another method: Burn pyrethrum powder in the room. The flies will fall to the floor stupefied and may be swept up and burned. The powders should be moistened and moulded into cones and after drying each cone should be placed upon a dish and lighted at the top. It will burn slowly and the odor is not disagreeable. Flies pass the winter hidden in cracks and holes in attics and cellars. Many of these may be killed in the spring by the two methods just described.

Train Jumped Track

Fully a dozen people were badly hurt while nearly everyone of the forty five passengers, travelling in a caboose on a Grand Trunk special, running from Canfield to Caledonia, were more or less injured when the train jumped the track near the junction, at 7 o'clock Monday evening. One woman Miss Hattie Hellger of Dunnville was paralysed on one side of the body as a result of injuries and shock and is in a serious condition, while several others were more or less injured. While the exact cause of the accident is not known passengers attributed it to the speed at which the train, which consisted of the engine, a caboose and freight car, was travelling. The engine was coupled to the freight car, with the front end facing the car. The theory is that the tender, not having the necessary weight, jumped the track dragging the engine after it.

Keep Cool

Don't worry, don't think how hot it is; don't look at the thermometer every few minutes; forget about the weather, and you will be surprised much less you feel it. Alcoholic drinks, beer, gin or anything like it, should be avoided. A little ice water is not harmful; also lemonade and soda fountain beverages. The acids and sodas in the latter are really beneficial to ward off the heat. Possibly one tiny drink, the kind that tickles in the glass taken in the evening is all right. Eat most sparingly once a day is often enough—never two or three times. Be sure, too, that any fish or sea foods are absolutely fresh. They and stale milk cause typhoid. Ice cream too, is not harmful. Moderation in all things, eating and working is imperative. Take a vacation sure. If you can't, be sure your wife does; she probably needs it more than you do. Every man, though, ought to take a vacation. Also loaf, sleep, take it as easy as you can all the time. Don't over exert. Wear as light underwear as possible.

Welland's typhoid outbreak, 30 cases being in the hospital, has been traced to impure water obtained from the canal, which is filled with intestinal bacteria. It is time for the Provincial Board of Health to get to work.

The boy or girl who can speak both English and French has a great advantage over the young person who speak but one tongue, and it would be a fine thing if every young Canadian had a mastery of both languages. But if only one language is to be learned it ought to be English and the Canadian parents who do not encourage their sons and daughters to learn English fail in their duty to them.

Most women dread housecleaning and it is little wonder if one could see into their attics and closets. They have "saving mania" and have indulged it all the lives, and many a one, especially she who has staved in the old home, has not only her own, but the accumulations of generations of women before her. How can any sensible woman be so selfish and so self abusive at the same time as to keep what benefits her in no possible way and yet makes her so much extra work every year? Why not dispose of things to the best possible advantage as they become useless and save half the work of the spring overhauling as well as do a great deal of good?

Hardly a problem arising out of the growth of the city of Toronto is more important than the care of young girls. Many girls have no homes worthy of the name. For want of motherly counsel and influence, young girls walk the streets at night or attend places of amusement without protection, innocent, heedless of danger, not knowing that in a great city they are like sheep in an Indian jungle. Our prosperity is built largely upon the daily toll of these children. It is through that toll that we enjoy the luxuries or the comforts of life. Surely the least we can do is to try to see that they are safe, provided with the ordinary comforts of life, and with the means of healthy growth and development.

There are different ways of displaying one's patriotism. Some display it by their talk, others by ways in flags, other by looking for jobs and special privileges, other by singing patriotic songs, and unfortunately, a good many can think of no better way of showing off their own loyalty than by stirring up racial strife with other people or nations. Some there are still who give evidence of their patriotism by their deeds. The Dufferin County Council the other day decided to vote a sum of money to be added to the slender pay received by the members of the local regiment while in camp. Patriotism so manifested will not attract so much attention as if it were not accompanied by flag waving, speech-making and hand-playing; but, after all, it is the kind of patriotism that counts.

The death occurred on Sunday, at Tillsonburg, after a week's illness from heart trouble, of Mrs. Chas. Johnston, aged sixty-eight years. Mrs. Johnston came with her husband and two sons from England to Toronto, where some time after their children died. Deceased had been a resident of Tillsonburg about twelve years.

Tussock Moth

What has happened to the tussock moth this year? Last year it did a great deal of mischief. This year it seems to have quit its former hunting grounds. Other caterpillars, however, have extended not only throughout the cultivated sections of Ontario, but have been committing havoc in the forest of the north country. The Ottawa Citizen says that "in the Upper Ottawa valley these caterpillars have completely denuded hundreds of square miles of the bush region. During the month of June deciduous trees were entirely stripped of leaves throughout large tracts, and in some manner the caterpillars managed to cross to large islands of the further shores of wide rivers, and continue to ravage beyond. What the caterpillars be remains to be seen, but it is difficult to believe that the trees will be able to retain their vitality throughout the hot summer without the protection of verdure." The danger that these trees will result in serious forest fires is not overlooked.

Robert W. Elliott Dead

R. W. Elliott who has conducted a boot and shoe business in Maple Creek for years, passed away quietly on Sunday, June 13, 1912, at the ripe old age of 83 years. For the past six months his health has been bad. On June 8 he fell into a comatose condition and he did not regain consciousness. The deceased was born in Ireland coming to Canada when he was about 18 years old. Mr. Elliott settled in Huron County, Ontario, where he lived until 1883. In that year he moved to Brandon and later to Davin, east of Regina. He arrived in Maple Creek about ten years ago and lived here steadily until the end. He has been a member of the Orange Order for over 65 years and was probably one of the oldest, if not the oldest member in Canada. Two daughters and one son survive him. The daughters are Mrs. Moses Elliott, Maple Creek, and Mrs. Bingham, Indian Head. One son, Gordon Elliott, is a farmer near Davin. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at the Maple Creek cemetery. Mr. Elliott was a former resident of Garnet, where he carried on a boot and shoe business. He will be remembered by the older inhabitants of Garnet.

Berries Only Half A Crop

Judging by reports from many parts of the Province, the berry crops for which Ontario has lately become noted are only half what was expected of them earlier in the year. This is comparatively true of Burlington, the principal berry growing section of Ontario. Although prices were exceedingly good, the general strawberry crop has been scarcely half the average due largely to the effect of last summer's drought. The average price this year has been 10c a box, an encouraging increase over the six-cent average obtained last season. The average next summer will be materially reduced, owing to the fact that most patches, bearing this summer, will not produce the customary second crop. The outlook for raspberries which are bearing the picking stage, is no more hopeful than the strawberries turned out to be, for the bushes were severely frost-bitten, and give evidence of less than half a crop.

Write Home Often

"My boy," writes a white-haired mother to her son, a busy man in a distant state. "Write home often. You do not realize what your letters are to me and how long it is between them. No, he had not realized it, and unhappily there are many absent sons and daughters who need a similar reminder. They would be indignant at the suggestion of wanting filial devotion, but in the stress of business, in society and among friends, in the happiness of a new home circle, how rarely they spend an hour for a good long letter to the aging mother in the old home—the loving mother whose heartache, as the passing days fail to bring the longed-for letter is one of the most pathetic tragedies of old age. The decline of the letter-writing habit of an earlier generation has often been deplored, but this feature of the decline can neither be excused nor defended. The post-card substitute for letters is little less than a mockery when the cards are sent to the mother who wants and should have so much more than that. As the youth lives in and for the future so does old age always look back over the slope as it nears the summit. The parent is wrapped up in the son and daughter; but as the son grows to manhood and the daughter to womanhood, they are absorbed in the plans and the processes of building the structure of the coming years. Such is the law of life and the basis of all progress, but it is a pitiful thing when the son and daughter fail to keep in mind their obligation to the love and loyalty of the parents. Blessed are the absent ones who write long and frequent letters to the old home. Soon they cannot know how soon, the precious privilege will no longer be theirs.

"In the spring I was recovering from a severe case of erysipelas, which left me virtually bald on the front of my head and next to my ears. The hair kept coming out rapidly and nothing I used stopped my getting entirely bald, until I used two bottles of PARISIAN SAGE. This tonic made my hair start to grow in fact grew me a good fair amount of hair, and it has entirely stopped my hair falling out. It is with pleasure that I give a public recommendation to PARISIAN SAGE, which I know is a wonder." Mrs. Ella Gilchrist, W. Pitt St., Bedford, Pa.
