If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing housework all day, and crawling into bed dread tired at night. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed, you should become both healthy and beautiful for sale by all dealers.

Two Reasons

I cannot eat the old things Taste long years ago;
My weakened purse would fail me And unpaid bills would grow.
Their price is quite prohibitive;
I covet them in vain—
I cannot eat the old things
Nor drink those drinks again.
I cannot eat the old things I ate in years gone by;
My constitution will no more Endure the strain of pie, Of lobster Newburg, rarebits, sweets,
Of cocktails and champagne;
I cannot eat the old things

People may well dread lightning when the fatal effects are noted, both to man and beast, after nearly every storm. Avoiding open doors or windows generally reduces the danger to a minimum. The electric fluid is frequently attracted by a draught.

Yes, it has been hot. And those who make it a point of noticing and recording the heat say that from the 3rd to the 9th were the hottest days recorded in Ontario in 100 years. It may be so, and they ought to know, but we don't believe it is as hot as those four or five days last year.

"The little son of Mrs. F. Lint, who is visiting in town this week, after seeing the moving pictures at Pursell's on Tuesday night, was anxious to hurry home and be put to bed, so that he could go to sleep and dream about the three little bears. There is philosophy and a heap of thinking in this three-year-old child."—Simcoe Reformer.

To guard against ptomaine poisoning in hot weather great care should be taken that meat, fish, fowl, oysters and canned goods are eaten only when they are in good condition. Food can be kept in a hygienic condition either by heat or refrigeration, by the exclusion of air or by the application of substances which on account of their antiseptic properties prevent the growth of poisonous germs.

We take the following from the Victoria (B. C.) Daily Colonist of June 27: "Mr. Jacob Kohler, member of the Ontario Legislature for the County of Haldimand from 1905 to 1911, and Mrs. Kohler, who were here for a couple of days, left last evening for their home in Cayuga.
Ont. Before leaving, Mr. Kohler made some investments in real estate here, being quite enamored of the city. Kohler brothers (Jacob and Christopher, the latter now member for Haldimand) are the largest buyers and exporters of stock in eastern Canada. While on the way west Mr. Kohler purchased over 1,000 head of cattle in Saskatchewan to supply the ever increasing easterner's demand. Mr. Kohler called upon Sir Richard McBride while here and had an interesting chat with the premier, of whom he is an admirer, none the less ardent that he is himself on the other side politically."

Temperance puts wood on the Honey is expected to follow the lead of other products, and take an upward trend in prices. It will quote a saccharine disposition to tion. "Sweet are the uses of adversity."

An advance in the price of shoes is attributed to the automobile. It is not because motorists wear out more shoes walking home, but because much leather is used in automobile manufacture.

The fine warm spell that Jarvis experienced for two weeks or more has been modified by a pleasant breeze. The fine rain which fell Sunday morning has helped vegetation and crops wonderfully, while one is not now smothered by great clouds of dust.

A Vancouver telephone operator is said to have committed suicide because someone swore at her over the "phone." This tends to destroy faith in the old rhyme about—"Sticks and stone may break my bones,
But names will never hurt me."

A Brooklyn magistrate has fined a man $20 for crossing his legs in a street car. The man who sprawls in his seat with his legs obstructing the "end seat hog" that not much sympathy will be wasted on him when his rudeness is rebuked.

The current issue of the Ontario Gazette contains an act passed three years ago, under which the supreme court of adjudication becomes the supreme court of Ontario. The present court of appeal of five judges, the divisional court for hearing appeals, and the four divisions of the high courts all disappear. The new court will be composed of two divisions, appellate and high court.

Patrick, lately over, was working in the yards of a railroad. One day he happened to be in the yard office when the force was out. The telephone rang vigorously several times and he decided it ought to be answered. He walked over to the instrument, took down the receiver, and put his mouth to the transmission, just as he had seen others do.
"Hello!" he called. "Hello!" answered the voice at the other end of the line. "Is this eight-six-one-five nine?" "Aw, g'wan! P'what d' ye tink Oi am? A box car?"

Circulars are being sent around to the newspaper offices throughout the country by the big paper dealers to the effect that it is found necessary to advance the price of all papers owing to the increased cost of raw material and the paper mills being obliged to put on three shifts where formerly two sufficed. The circular tells the story that the price of paper is going up. The papers affected the most are the kinds used in job printing, such as fats, bonds, limens and ledgers. Of these papers there has been a big increase in cost and all former price lists have been cancelled.
Naturally this means that the general cost of job printing must be increased to take care of this advance in paper values. Owing to the existing conditions in the paper market it is difficult at this time to say how high prices on paper may climb.

Most people are fond of talking, but it is noticed that when the noisiest of them get on the subject of death, they soon become silent and thoughtful.

The most meager, undersized advertisement you ever print will impress some people, will remain in some minds, as the measure of your store—as representing your store.

We notice the smiling countenance of R. A. McCarter on our

Our Ontario Legislature has amended the law removing moving picture shows, and now no children under fifteen years of age are allowed to attend them unless accompanied by an adult. The penalty for $25 for each day the offense is re-

The Hamilton Spectator celebrated its 66th birthday Tuesday. A perusal of the pages of Tuesday's edition devoted to a description of the various departments of that newspaper, with brief references to its history, will bring about a conviction that "age cannot wither nor custom stale." Long may you live and abound.

Conditions on the farm are more agreeable for the younger generation than they were ten years ago.
The telephone has brought the people into contact with one another.
In some sections motor cars are not unusual. It has been the "trend" of the young people to the cities which has brought about the falling off in the rural population. Farmers' wives and daughters would rather secure positions as stenographers, bankers and operators than remain on the old farm. We know of farms which have remained in one family for two or even three generations but now have passed into the hands of strangers.

As a result of complaints received from all parts of the Province, the Toronto Police Department will take drastic steps in dealing with fake portrait agents who have been reaping a goodly harvest in the past three months. For some time the local authorities have been advised by the chiefs of police of outlying towns that representatives of a Toronto firm have been soliciting orders for enlargements of photographs and collecting deposits ranging from $2 to $20 with each order. The agent explains that the firm is introducing a new line of work and that the order will be filled shortly to the entire satisfaction of his customer. There is one stipulation however, and that is that a deposit must be paid. That is the last seen of the agent who departs to pastures new.

Ontario is early in the demand for farm laborers. The West will not monopolize attention in that regard, for two thousand applications are already in at the immigration office.

Keep off the railway track, even

The number of persons killed last year in Canada while walking on the

In a modern store every day is a new day—every day witnesses new over-turnings of stock, re-pricings, re-groupings of bargains, new ideas in "special sales." So that, always, the ads should reflect this store-life, and make it interesting to outsiders.

The most gratifying result of the hot weather is the effect it is having in advancing the Western crop. It was put in later than usual, and is already a week nearer harvesting than it was at this time a year ago.
For the Western grain-grower that is a very great advantage.

Flies have an abhorrence for the scent of coal oil, and during the warm weather "if the screen doors and windows are brushed over twice a day on the outside with a cloth saturated with coal oil will do much towards keeping the flies from holding meetings on your screens.

The present outlook for all poultry this year is rather dismal. Reports to the merchants are to the effect that cold and wet weather have seriously damaged the young chicken crop, and this fact with the high price of eggs, will make the available supply of chickens and ducks this fall very small.

If you have a piece of property to sell, and you have the ability to describe it in an ad in the same simple way you would use if a man called up on your telephone, and asked you to tell him about it, then your classified advertisement, published with a little persistence, will sell your property to the buyer who needs it most.

The Institute meeting which was to have been held Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. J. Parsons, has been postponed. The Jarvis members have been invited to attend a picnic, held at the home of Mrs.
Frank Jackson, Lake Road, on Saturday, July 27th. Rize will be at T. E. Morrow's at 1 o'clock to convey all who may wish to attend.

The Refreshing Rains

The rains which have come within the past week have made a vast difference in the crop outlook in Ontario. Straw in spring grain will still be short but heads which at one time promised to be poorly filled with light grain will now give a fairly good yield of good quality. It will not be a bumper year for this province; it is hardly likely to be a fair average year; but the moisture now in the ground, although it has come a little late, has banished all fear of a complete repetition of last year's most discouraging returns.

Good Business

The stationery printed at this office is giving the best satisfaction. Last week we printed one thousand statements for a man, and by their aid he collected a fortune. Two months ago a man bought of us some paper and envelopes to use when writing to his sweetheart and now he is married. Another young man forged a name on a check printed at this office and is in the penitentiary. Another young man stole some of our paper to make cigarettes with—he is dead. A young lady bought some of our paper to curl her hair on, and now she has a beau. (We only have a few packages of this kind in stock.) By using our stationery a person can collect old accounts, tell fortunes, make rain change the color of the hair, have the teeth extracted without pain, find out the name of the future husband or wife, be successful in business, triumph over enemies, and get elected to office. Give us a call.

Passing Exams

The small percentage of pupils in some districts who pass the entrance examinations for the High School and the low average of marks obtained have occasioned a good deal of discussion. The Peterboro Examiner says the results that were obtained are in proportion to the salaries paid to the teachers. Perhaps that is not far from true. The Examiner, in its editorial, says: "From the smaller schools, where the teacher in many cases, lacks experience, candidates are sent up who are not well enough to pass. The teacher, however, in his or her desire to "make good," overlooks this fact, and allows im-pulsions to try, whom she knows, after she has seen the papers, have a very small chance of passing. With this lack of judgment on the part of the teacher, is added the fact that in some cases, pupils are taken from school by their parents, and they are permitted to try the examinations, before going back to help on the farm, on the principle it is better to have tried and lost than never to have tried at all. The non-qualified schools, however, do not send many candidates.

METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. Stephen Bond, who has been in the ministry of the Methodist church for over fifty years, assisted in the services on Sabbath morning and preached in the evening, his subject being "The Consolations of God." His messages were reverent, scholarly and earnest. The interest and helpfulness of the services was greatly increased by the singing of W. P.
Parks of Buffalo, who contributed a solo morning and evening in splendid form, his evening selection, Lord Tennyson's beautiful poem, "Crossing the Bar."

Topic for to-night's service "David's lament over Saul and Jonathan." All cordially invited.

The pastor will preach on the Walsh circuit next Sunday. Mr. Hodgson of Simcoe whose messages were greatly appreciated on June 30th, is expected to take charge of the services here.

The financial reports are being distributed. These and weekly envelopes may be secured from members of the Finance Committee: H. Bousfield, E. T. Carter, W. Henning, Jos. Ivey, Henry Johnson, Fred Marr, J. J. Parsons and A. Rodgers.

Lines on the Death of an Infant

(In loving memory of our darling, Grace E. Hill, who went away to the land of rest one year ago to-day, July 26th, 1911, aged 1 year, 8 months.—Father, mother, brothers and sister.)

To the dark and silent tomb Soon I hasten'd from the womb, Since the dawn of life began Ere I measured out my span.

I no smiling pleasures knew;
I no gay delights could view; Joyless sojourner was I, Only born to weep and die.

Happy infant, early blest, Rest, in peaceful slumber, rest; Early rescued from the cares Which increase with growing years.

No delights are worth thy stay, Smiling as they seem, and gay; Short and sickly are they all, Hardly tasted ere they fall.

All our gaiety is vain,
All our laughter is but pain, Lasting only, and divine,
Is
