PHOTOGRAPHY IS A MIRROR

Which held up to life, throws back a permanent reflection. Just as a poor mirror gives a distorted likeness, does an inferior photograph liberal its original. Good mirrors cost a little more money, so do artistic photographs. Art in photography is simply the truthful reproduction of nature, that my photographs show at least a fair measure of artistic merit is due simply to an ability to cause the sitter to momentarily forget the camera.

Western Fair London Ont

The Western Fair, of London, Ontario will be held this year September 6th to 14th. Active preparations are being made by the management to make this year's exhibition excel anything ever attempted by the association in the past. The Speed programme shows two events each day with large purses for each; this is always an interesting part of the Exhibition. There will be one of the best programmes before the grand stand twice daily that has ever been presented, including aerial acts, comedy bar acts, a trambolin act, acrobatic acts of all kinds, and an equestrian act, both single and double with the comedy act of Hans and his mule that will be so funny that it will cause a laugh for every second. A Firework's programme each evening, consisting of sixty pieces including the wonderful Motorcycle race and concluding with the bombardment of Tripoli. Full particulars will be given later. The midway will be filled with good shows which will be of interest to young and old. There will be plenty of music and something doing every minute. Special single fare railway rates commencing September 6th over all roads in Western Ontario as far east as Kingston. Special excursion days September 10th, 12th and 13th. All information will be given on application to the Secretary, A. M. Hunt, London, Ontario.

Madness In The West, Too.

The dangers from over speculation in real estate are not confined to Toronto. The West is suffering from the same sort of fever that prevails in this city. Indeed the danger in the West appears to be even greater in the West than it is here. Lands far from the centre of prairie towns and cities, lands that will not be required for other than farm purposes for years to come, no matter how rapid Western development may be, are being cut up into building lot sizes and sold at building lot prices. The money used in this speculative craze is being drawn from Ontario farms, from Ontario towns, and from Western towns. Even prairie farmers are sharing the madness. To this sort of thing, unless all experience goes for nothing, there can be but one end. The land boom in Ontario, attending upon the following the Crimean war, was succeeded by a disastrous collapse. The United States suffered about the same time, and still more severely, because the boom there had been carried to greater lengths than it had here. Another period of craze or speculation came upon Toronto in the early eighties and this in turn was followed by a depression on the effects of which were felt for nearly ten years. History is bound to repeat itself. As soon as the present list of purchasers of paper town lots is exhausted, and funds available for meeting payments on recurring installments are all gone, and that time can't be far distant. The end must come. Reasonable wise men will be warned in time and get from under. Those who are still wiser will have refrained from setting under.—Weekly Sun.

New Welcome to the Birds

The value of the birds to the whole human race and the importance of preserving and increasing their numbers, are essential to the very existence of all other forms of life, are vital problems that are being more carefully considered by most of the states and also the federal government. Ornithologists, economist and humanitarian are making united efforts in the matter of bird conservation and results show a better understanding and a higher regard for every kind of bird. The following effective birds are from an address by C. D. Howe, state ornithologist of Vermont. Each individual bird is working all the time to preserve vegetable life from the depredations of insects. Birds eat the seed of many injurious weeds that infest the growing crops. They should be protected and cared for in every possible way. The barn swallow has a direct relation to the milk supply, for it feeds upon the flies that are about the barns and trouble the cattle. Holes should be made in the gables of barns to allow them a chance to get in and nest among the rafters, or a cleat be nailed along under the eaves to allow them a chance to nest there. All wild shrubs and trees, bearing fruit that birds love, should be left growing by the roads and fences. They will attract the birds, and they prefer these to cultivated fruit. The purple martin is said to be capable of doing away with spraying in orchards where it abounds. One man in Pennsylvania advertizes purple martins for sale and says that his orchard grows fine fruit without spraying. Were our birds to become extinct, all life would soon become extinct. Insect life would in a period of three years destroy vegetation, when all men and animals, except perhaps fishes, would die for lack of sustenance. Soon the waters would become polluted and fish life would cease. The insects themselves would die for lack of food, and the earth would be destitute of life in any form.

Cultivate kindness of heart; think well of your fellow-men; look with charity upon shortcomings in their lives. Do a good turn for them as opportunity offers, and, finally, don't forget the kind word at the right time.
