Watford Guide-Advocate in a recent issue contained the following pointed remark on subscriptions.
The experience of other local weeklies is again verified "We wish to confide a secret to our readers. It is this: If a man pays his subscription to the weekly promptly in advance, and everything is favorable the publisher will probably make 10 or 15 per cent, profit on that dollar. If it is not paid promptly and he has to spend something for postage etc., he does not make more than 5c. profit on each subscription and sometimes if it is a year or two behind, he makes less than nothing.
The big city papers don't make anything on their subscriptions buy advertising rates are high and they come out alright. The home paper is the same now that it was when butter was 10c. a lb. and eggs 8c. a dozen and if you ever hear of an editor getting rich, lay it down as a sure thing that he didn't get it from the profits of his subscription list.

Some men are born great, some achieve it, and others never find out how small they really are.

A little girl was sent to the store to purchase a dozen eggs. Evidently she was not familiar with the price of eggs, for when the clerk said thirty-six cents a dozen, the little tot, child like, looked up into his face and said, "Oh! I do I get the hen, too?"

We are only amateurs in the poultry business, but when we started we bought first-class Single Comb

D. F. Aiken, agent of the Gore Mutual Fire Ins. Co. has just received from that Company several cheques for the policyholders, amounting to 25 per cent. of the premiums paid. This rebate is given only on annual premium business on the mutual plan.

Wilt thou take her for thy 'pard for better or for worse; to have to hold, to fondly guard, till hauled off in the hearse. Wilt thou let her have her way, consult her many wishes, make the fire up every day, and help her with the dishes? Wilt thou comfort and support her father, mother, Aunt Gemima, Uncle John, thirteen sisters and a brother? and his face grew pale and blank, it was too late to jilt; as through the chapel floor he sank he sadly said "I wilt."

Quite a few Presbyterians and a few Methodist churches have voted heavily against union. People have been wondering what these churches would do provided union carried throughout the country. Would they be satisfied, or would it mean the formation of another church?
Or will union be considered at all if it is not almost unanimous? Local conditions, however, are having a very marked effect on the vote in some places. Perhaps in the older settled parts union is not so necessary, but what about the new settlements or the rural districts where there are only a few score of people?
Should they be forced to keep up three or four churches when one would be more successful? And to the heathen mind what a disturbing influence there must be when several denominations are struggling for converts to their particular churches and beliefs. In missionary work alone the value of union, in our opinion, cannot be over estimated.

A man cannot do two things at a time. A woman will broil a steak and see that the coffee does not boil over, and watch the cat that she does not steal the remnant of meat on the kitchen table, and dress the youngest boy and set the table and see to the toast, and stir the oatmeal and give orders to the butcher and she can do it all at once and not half try.

An old account book kept by the late Jacob Reddig, who conducted a general store at Stevens, where he gathered a fortune of $20,000, shows that in 1835 eggs sold at 8 cents a dozen, whiskey at 12 cents a quart, cigars 20 cents a hundred, butter at 12 cents a pound and coffee at 16 cents a pound, while calico was 30 cents a yard, striped cashmere 75 cents a yard and nails 8 cents a pound.

An exchange says.—A man who was too economical to subscribe for a paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees and in ten minutes he looked like a warty summer squash.
His father ran to his assistance, and failing to notice a barbed wire fence, ran into that, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a four dollar pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, the wife ran out upset a four-gallon churn full of rich cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire brood. In her haste she dropped a $25 set of false teeth. The baby having been left alone, crawled through the spilled milk and into the parlor, ruining a brand new $20 carpet. During the excitement the eldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up eleven and chewed the tails off four fine shirts on the clothes line. (Now is the time to subscribe.)

J. L. Smith left for Chicago Tuesday evening accompanied by his wife, who has been spending the past few weeks here owing to the illness and subsequent death of her mother, Mrs. John Smith.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral of the late Mrs. John Smith were, E. Brand and wife, J. R. Burwash and wife, and Mrs. James Harris of Hamilton, J.
L. Smith of Chicago, R. B. Smith and J. K. Mascar of Toronto, Will Smith of Leamington.

A private letter has reached Jarvis from Dr. Jacques, dated Brunswick, Georgia, March 7th, expressing his continued interest in the Literary Society. Plums, peaches and pears are in bloom, the doctor states, figs are leading out, olives and magnolias opt in leaf. A few oranges are hanging on the trees.
We went with some friends for a picnic on the Turtle River. When the tide was out we could see loads of oysters; we had some roasted and they tasted fine. Southern life is very interesting. This city has about 10,000 inhabitants—half white, half black. There are hundreds of live oaks, which are very pretty.

Public Meeting

The public meeting will be held in Hagersville on Wednesday, March 20, at 2 p.m. in Hager's Hall, in the interest of the fruit growers of Haldimand County, and for the purpose of organizing a Fruit Growers Association.

James E. Johnston, manager of the Norfolk Fruit Grocers Association, will be present to give an address on the advantages of organization. All interested are earnestly requested to be present.

Presentation and Address

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henning on Tuesday evening when upwards of eighty assembled to do honor to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Nelson who leave shortly for the west. After a delicious repast was taken of every description, the presence was called to order, when John Parsons read a very flattering address to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson. They were afterwards presented with several pieces of silverware, R. Wilson and N. McCarty making the presentation. Music and addresses were rendered, when about midnight all retired to their respective homes, feeling that a most enjoyable evening had been spent by all.

Good Concert

Those who were fortunate in attending the concert last Monday evening was rewards for their trouble. Donald C.
MacGregor, Will J. White and Nellie Jeffries were the entertainers. The vocalist, Mr. MacGregor, possesses a very rich, smooth baritone voice of wonderful range and power, an attractive and a thorough master of his art, with wide and choice collection of songs make him the staunch favorite that he is. Another pleasing feature was the readings given by Nellie Jeffries. In her emotional and her humorous portrayals her gift of mimicry evoked hearty and unrestrained laughter. Last but not least, Will J. White, the fun maker. Although no stranger in our midst he was heartily welcomed. His song, monologues and "make-up" convulsed his audience and he was repeatedly encored. A good voice and appropriate costumes, he is always an attraction. Taken as a whole the entertainment deserved a much better house.

Literary Society

The fortnightly meeting of the Literary Society was held on Friday evening last week in the Sunday School room of the Presbyterian church. J. A. Campbell gave an address, in which he clearly pointed out the difference between bonds and mortgages; especially from the point of view of the discussion of Scott's "Lady of the Lake" with a brief sketch of the author's life and appropriate quotations from the poem itself. An interesting reading, well rendered, by Mrs. C.
Walter, was followed by the debate "Republican children are sent to Public School at too early an age." The following took part in the discussion: Dr. Howland, A. Williamson, R. McCarter, Charles Walter and Rev. Eddy. Joseph Ivey occupied the chair with his usual good nature and tact. The next meeting which will be held in Chambers' Hall on Friday evening, March 22 will take the form of a Mock Parliament.

Another Milestone

Last week THE RECORD completed the thirty-third year of its publication and with this issue enters upon another year. As a newspaper it was called into being because of a desire felt by its promoter, of representing the many and varied interests of Jarvis and community.
From the date of its inception, as a newspaper, to this its thirty-third anniversary, THE RECORD has had for its object the advocacy of the interests of its birthplace and has endeavored to bring before the public those matters of public interest in a clear, readable manner and in a way that would not only reflect credit on the publisher, but also the community in which it circulates. In this connection, we may say that THE RECORD reaches more homes to-day than it ever did before. By the addition of new machinery, new type faces, borders, etc., we are endeavoring to keep THE RECORD up to that standard it so deservedly merits, and we feel that the merchants and businessmen generally and likewise the many who are on our mailing list, have shown by their warm and generous support that they fully appreciate our efforts in this direction. We thank the merchants and general public for the hearty support given us and promise them, if they are advertisers a still wider circulation, if readers a still better paper in the future than in the past. We know no standpoint so long as there is a field to fill. We do not wish to burden our readers with a lengthy retrospect, notwithstanding its interest, it is with the future we have to do, and to say, it is our purpose to keep THE RECORD abreast of the time, and with this end in view we ask our friends to assist us, as they have in the past, and believing that they will do so we enter with renewed zest our work on the thirty-fourth volume.

Simcoe vs. Jarvis

Last Friday night, March 8, Simcoe travelled to Jarvis for a game of hockey.
Simcoe winning by a score of 10-8. Jarvis boys were somewhat handicapped by some of their players being away and had to fill up the gaps as best they could.
However, on the whole, both teams put up a good exhibition of hockey as indicated by the closeness of the score. The referee, W. Piott of Detroit giving entire satisfaction to the vast crowd that witnessed the game.

Jarvis travelled to Simcoe Monday night with the intention of breaking even in the round. Simcoe, however, proved to be speedy for them on their own ice, winning out by 11-7. At half time Simcoe led by four points, this lead was gradually worn down by Jarvis until it looked as if it might be anybody's game. Simcoe, however, came back strong with a few rushes near the end of the 2nd half and chimed the game. Jarvis being short of a couple of players, Wood and Slack of Hagersville team jumped into the game and did some splendid work for the Jarvis team. One notable feature of the game was the gamey exhibition of hockey put up by Reynolds, the Jarvis goal keeper who showed what stuff he was made of when under fire. A couple of loads of rooters journeyed to Simcoe with the team enjoying the exhibition of hockey and also taking in the sights of Simcoe.
Both loads arrived home safely. One load, however, evidently thought they might as well see the sights of Detroit but the horses objected and the load was obliged to walk a greater part of the way home.

Mrs. Smith Passes Away

After the heat and burden of the day, after calmer days when it is twilight and life is nearly spent, after long years filled with joy and pastime, sadness and pain, and weariness, after it all, "He gave His Beloved a Rest." This is how death came on March 8th, 1912, to Christina Innis, widow of the late John Smith, and one of the pioneer residents of this township. She was born in Banafshire, Scotland, in the year 1828, where she spent her girlhood days and where she was married to Dr. Smith. In 1850 she with her husband and two children emigrated to this country where she settled on the farm, but in 1860 they moved to Pt.
Dover, going into the hotel business, continuing same for some nine years. They then took up their abode in Jarvis and conducted the Commercial Hotel for several years and it was there where Mr.
Smith passed away some thirty-seven years ago. A few days later Mrs. Smith retired from active duties but still made Jarvis her home. Deceased always enjoyed the best of health up to within eight years when the infirmities of old age began to make themselves manifest and since that time she has been more or less helpless. About a month ago she sustained a fall, inflicting injuries to her head and body, and it is thought this hastened her death. Eight children were born to them, but four have gone before, leaving William, of Leamington; John of Chicago, Robert of Toronto and Mrs. J.
A. Burwash of Jarvis. Mrs. Smith was a member of Knox church and for several years was President of the Ladies' Aid which office she filled very acceptably.
She was a lady to know was to love and by her loving qualities of heart and mind her companionship was much sought after, and she was liked by everyone and a host of friends, whose friendly feelings follow far beyond the grave and whose warmest sympathies are now with the sorrow-stricken family. The hearts of all go out to the bereaved ones who now are weeping for the loss of a devoted mother, but we trust the prospect of another meeting in the hereafter will assuage their grief and afford consolation to their torn and bleeding hearts. The funeral took place Monday to Knox church cem-<
