Poet Met Poet

A North Missouri farmer whose hog was killed by a train wrote to the company's claim agent for settlement, as follows:
Dear Sir:
My razor-back strolled down your track a week ago to day.
Your twenty-nine came down the line and snuffed his life away.
You can't blame me, the hog, you see, slipped through a cattle gate.
So kindly pen a cheque for ten, the debt to liquidate.

He received the following reply:—
"Old twenty-nine came down the line and killed your hog, we know;
But razor-backs on railway tracks quite often meet with woe.
Therefore, my friend, we cannot send the check for which you pine.
Just plant the dead, place o'er his head, 'Here lies a foolish swine.'"

One item in the high cost of living that causes a man to feel down in the mouth is dentistry. The average head of a household has to hand out more to keep the teeth of himself and family in order than all the rest of their bodies put together.

Gordon Benn, fifteen years old son of Silas Benn, of Courtland, was instantly killed at Simcoe Friday evening by a freight train which was shunting in the yards. Young Benn, who was in attendance at the High school there, was waiting for the evening train to return home, and he, together with a number of other boys, were running between the cars on the siding when the train started, catching him between the bumpers, crushing his head and shoulders.

We are very glad to see that our worthy citizen, J. C. Sanderson, has the property he recently purchased on the West side of Main Street, the property formerly owned by E. Cummings, Chicago, staked out ready to start laying the foundation for a handsome residence. Our north end of the town is looking up. We would suggest some enterprising business man buy the brick building alongside of this property and erect a good building—say a Council Chamber, such as would be a credit to our village. Boom up your town.

The funeral of Allan Cox the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cox took place on Thursday of last week, a large number of sympathizing neighbors and friends being present. Miss Margaret Crawford who has been assistant in the Post Office here for some years, severed her connection therewith last week. Miss Crawford was painstaking and accurate in her work and by her courteous and pleasing manner won the esteem of the entire village and community and her presence will be much missed.

Another step forward has been taken this year by many fair fairs, in eliminating the meretricious side show and other "fakery" elements. Other features of an entertaining character, having an elevating and educative basis, have been substituted, and the result has proved worthy of emulation. Material and mental progress in such undertakings are bound to advance the prosperity of any community.

"Much has been said by councils regarding the inadvisability of mothers allowing their young daughters to walk the streets at night. This may be so, but, on the other hand, the laws of our land ought to be enforced in such a way that young girls may walk out on the streets at night, and not be in danger of harm coming to them."

These words were spoken by Judge Denton, of Toronto, while a case of assault was before him. And there is a good deal of truth in them.

We are indeed pleased to note that Mr. C. S. McCarter is giving attention to the Piano trade. For quality and depth of tone the Gerhard Heintzman piano is to day recognized by critics to stand out unequalled. There is no reason for the profits of the piano trade to be going to other towns. The Record wishes the new enterprise every success.

Illustrated Lecture

Rev. R. M. Dickey, B.A., a talented and enthusiastic missionary among the miners and lumbermen of Canada will give his fascinating lecture, "Romance and Tragedy of Camp and Trail" illustrated by seventy stereopticon views, in our village on Wednesday evening, Oct. 23. A collection will be taken up in aid of the Reading Camp Association, an interdenominational organization that aims to evangelize and educate the multitude of men in lumber, fishing, mining and railroad construction camps throughout the Dominion. A large number of the Jarvis community will doubtless avail themselves of the privilege of hearing this splendid lecture.

M. H. Agency Transferred

In retiring from the agency of the Massey-Harris Co., Toronto, the writer wishes to express his thorough appreciation and very kind thanks to the many customers and friends for the loyal support and patronage extended him from year to year, during his rather lengthy term in the agricultural implement trade. It may be of interest to some to know that the past season's business has been by no means a small one, reaching the amount of $5643 for M.H. goods alone and that never during my fourteen years connection with the company have I felt their full line to be so completely and thoroughly reliable as they are at the present time. As my successor, W. E. Sowter, is known to be capable and with his experience and good business ability I trust and bespeak for him for 1913 a greater trade than has been. In future I expect to give special attention to the sale of Gerhard-Heintzman high grade pianos.

C. S. McCarter.

Schrader-Gates

A quiet wedding took place Tuesday, Oct. 8, 1912, at three o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gates, Marshville, Ont., (and former esteemed residents of this place) when their eldest daughter, Miss Bertha Mae, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to John F. Schrader of Rochester, N.Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. E. Conch of Fenwick, Ont., in the presence of a number of guests. The bride, who was given away by her father, appeared in a beautiful creation of white embroidered marquisette and carrying white carnations, looking indeed entrancing. She was attended by her sister, Miss Carrie, who looked quite pretty in a cream serge and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations while Fred Newman of Jarvis acted as groomsmen. After the ceremony the company partook of a very tempting and sumptuous repast. Many and beautiful were the gifts that were bestowed on the bride. The bride's travelling gown was of navy blue whipcord, and black velvet picture hat with white plume. The happy couple left on the six o'clock train for Detroit and after a honeymoon trip will return to Rochester, where they intend residing. Mrs. Schrader has many friends in Jarvis, who will extend to herself and husband their best wishes for an unclouded wedded life with happiness and prosperity in abundance.

Falls' Reliable Bulbs,

Every Bulb Selected No 1

We anticipated holding this special sale of Bulbs in our New Store—But it was not to be—Consequently the sale of them will open Thursday morning this week at the old store. To succeed with Bulbs it is necessary to begin right by getting sound Bulbs of good size and we would warn intending purchasers against buying cheap undersized Bulbs and expecting the fine results obtained from such as we shall place on sale, beginning Thursday. The leading Bulb growers of Holland has supplied us with his choicest Stock for this our first sale of Bulbs. To the lover of flowers there is no class of Plants so much prized as those produced from Bulbs. The reason is easily found because within the Bulbs are stored all the future glory of leaves and flowers, only requiring the simplest culture to develop them in their highest perfection. Success is therefore the rule—if you buy the right kind of Bulbs.

Another reason why Bulbs are prized so highly is that a large number of them produce their flowers in very early spring when the rest of nature is asleep. Then it is that a clump or bed of Tulips, Hyacinths, Narcissus, etc., impart to the garden an air of warmth and cheer that cannot be accomplished in any other way. A list of some of the Bulbs we shall place on sale is: Tulips, Hyacinths, Lilies, Narcissus, etc. Never before have you had an opportunity of buying equal stock at such prices.

Pretty Wedding

Wedding bells seem to be ringing continuously throughout this township and week by week one or more is recorded. On Wednesday, Oct. 2nd, 1912, at eight o'clock in the English church, Nanticoke, was solemnized the nuptials of Edward Albert Doughty and Miss Mary Elizabeth Hallam, the popular and estimable daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hallam of Nanticoke. Rev. Brett officiating. The bride, who was unattended, was attired in a neat and most becoming travelling suit of navy blue. After the ceremony the wedded couple repaired to the residence of the bride's parents, where a reception was tendered to the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The happy couple took the early morning train for Atrip to Welland, Niagara Falls and other cities. The bride was the recipient of numerous, costly and handsome gifts, a fitting tribute to the love and esteem in which she is held by her host of friends. To this young couple as they embark on the matrimonial sea, we predict a pleasant and prosperous voyage, and although many clouds may flit across their pathway, may they every behold the silver lining in the cloud in our fervent wish as well as hosts of others.

Patterson-Rodgers

A wedding of interest to many Jarvis people took place at four o'clock Thursday afternoon, October 3rd, 1912, at the residence of the Misses Patterson, Caledonia, when their sister, Miss Jean Helen, became the happy bride of Wesley Fallis Rodgers of Hamilton and son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rodgers of Jarvis. As the wedding march was being played by the bride's sister, Miss M. H. Patterson, the wedding party entered the drawing room, preceded by Miss Eleanor Hiscox, niece of the bride, as ring-bearer, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. N. D. Mackinnon, pastor of the bride. The bride looked the picture of loveliness being attired in a beautiful costume of white duchess satin, with an overdress of Chantilly lace and crystal trimmings, and carrying a most exquisite bouquet of white roses. When the ceremony was over and good wishes extended, the company repaired to the dining room when a sumptuous and dainty wedding tea was partaken of, only immediate friends and relatives forming the company. When the gifts had been presented to the bride they were a marvel to behold, being varied and costly, besides ornamental and useful. The young bride was worthy of them all, the groom's gift being a solid leather club bag and to the bride's sister a pearl pin, to the ring bearer a pretty necklace. A rather unique feature at the ceremony was an interchange of rings between the bride and groom. Clad in a becoming and handsome navy blue travelling suit the bride with her husband took the evening train for a honeymoon trip to Goderich and other points, but not before they were well showered with rice and confetti. On their return they will reside on West Ave. Hamilton. Mr. Rodgers is the popular young manager of Duffield & Co., corner King and Hughson street. The many friends here join in wishing him and his estimable bride many years of health and prosperity.
