Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz: Mrs. P. H. Brogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For I know there is none other that excels it." For sale by all dealers.

Boys and girls we have a new and up-to-date line of note books, when in need of same give The Record a call.

An excellent natural gas well has been struck on the Theo. Harris farm, near Blackheath. This is a new district entirely for natural gas. Several more wells will be sunk immediately.

Three railway wrecks in two days, two of them to passenger trains, on the Bay of Quinte road, indicate much need of amendment in supervision. Passengers on the side lines are as fully entitled to protection as those travelling by the main arteries.

Postage Stamps

The books of twelve two-cent stamps issued by the Post Office at 25 cents have proved a great convenience to the public. What is there to prevent the Department putting out a book of twenty-four one-cent stamps at the same price? In securing reduced cable rates and in the general management of his department Mr. Peltier has shown himself a progressive Postmaster-General. This suggestion is worth serious consideration. Books of one-cent stamps would have a good sale in towns and cities.

Hicks' Forecasts--October

A reactionary storm period is central on the 14th, 15th and 16th. The moon is at greatest south declination on the 16th hence the atmospheric tides will flow from northerly directions, bringing boreal storms of cold rain, merging into sleet and snow over vast areas. The barometer will rise on western flanks of storm centers, bringing autumnal gales and change to much colder, progressively from north-west. The quadrature of Uranus and Neptune with Sun and Earth on the 19th and the 23rd, will intensify conditions at this time, prolonging the tendency to seismic perturbations.

Falls New Building

This new building of ours is being arranged so that its wide aisles and spaces will make visiting always comfortable. Indeed, we believe there is no other place of business between Toronto and Detroit quite so convenient and comfortable. The reason for this is that the big building, large as it is, will not have in it a waste corner or a stubble field anywhere. The large spaces will enable us not only to give roominess for the splendid stocks we shall exhibit, but to be roomy all over to prevent the jostling which respectable women hate. We expect to bid you welcome some time in November.

Hard Winter Due

The weather prophets of Berks County, who have forecasted the weather for many years, held their annual convention at Loebachville and by a two-thirds vote it was agreed that the coming winter will be an unusually severe one. Weather prognosticators from all sections of the country were represented at the meeting and exchanged their views on the subject. Many says the Philadelphia North American, are close followers of the veteran goose-bone weather prophet, Elias Hartz, who died several years ago, and who was considered one of the best of his day. The annual convention of the weather prognosticators was an interesting one, and in attendance did not hesitate to express their views. Some are guided in their theories by the actions of small animals, such as reptiles; others pay close attention to the trees and shrubbery. Gideon Kellor of Brecknock, aged 82 years said: "We will have a cold winter, and it will not start late, either. I believe the seasons are changing; that the summers are becoming shorter and cooler and the winters longer and more severe. When did we experience such a cold winter as last year? When was a summer cooler than this season? The leaves on the trees began to color some weeks ago and have already started to fall. This is an indication that the winter will be cold. The apple crop this year is earlier than usual. You can depend on nature at all times. The apples are ripening earlier, and will be harvested earlier than in previous seasons. Another sign of a cold winter is the fact that the weeds are very tall. Nature prompts the weeds to grow tall to make provisions for the birds and animals relying upon this food. John Drake of Muhlenberg township, whose weather predictions of last fall won for him a widespread reputation as a prognosticator, has received 57 letters since September 1st asking him to foretell the conditions for the approaching winter. On December 21, 1911, he predicted a green Christmas and a cold spell on January 3, to last until Jan. 18. His forecasts were so exact that the people regarded him as an authority in his line. He said: "The coming winter will be a cold one, but not as severe as last year. It will begin early, and there will be lots of snow. January will be a cold month. Look for a blizzard between February 9 and 16, and feel assured that March will bring zero weather."

H. H. Brown of Exeter says: "My great grandfather used to say when there was a good crop of persimmons the Indians would provide themselves with a good supply of buffalo meat, for they were sure of a long and severe winter." The persimmon crop is a prolific one this year and we can look for a hard winter."

Cyrus Delp of Grill, said: "A dry summer is invariably followed by a winter with lots of snow. This year the rainfall exceeded the average and I predict that there will be little snow and that the winter will be mild. A wet fall means an early winter."

Quite a number of other weather prophets made their predictions. It was reported in substance that muskrats have begun building early; that cornbunks are thick, with the stalks leaning to the west; that geese, ducks and chickens are growing a thick down under their feathers and a bony substance on their feet; that squirrels are prepared to lay up unusual supplies of provender; that toadstools on old logs have many wrinkles; that owls have retired to the woods much earlier than usual; and that the weeds in the woods have never been known to grow so thick in the fall, all of which are sure signs of a hard winter.

Our note books are just the thing the school children need.—The Record.
