"According to law all weeds should be cut from the roadside, but the law cuts no weeds. A sharp scythe and a little pride on the part of the owner will cut more weeds than the law ever did or ever will."

Whoever has visited the west, and observed at first hand the actual working of land value taxation, becomes firmly convinced of its value. With the conviction comes the wonder that the east has not yet discovered the justice and profit of the principle. It is no longer in any sense an experiment, but has been proved worthy after years of practical experience. In all of the three westernmost provinces, it is difficult to-day to find a man who does not fully endorse the new taxation principle. The testimony of the tried is the most convincing of all arguments.

Local and Personal.

The Difference

Only a few more notes, only a finer tone, And lo! the world bows down before the singer's throne.

Only the same old thoughts clothed with a sweeter sound, And lo! a poet's brow with laurel wreaths is crowned.

Only a keener ear, only a swifter skill, And lo! the artist plays on human hearts at will.

Only a tint or line, only a subtler grace, And lo! the world grows mad over a woman's face.

Yet though so slight the cause for which men call us great, This shade the more or less may fix an earthly fate.

For few may wield power whose spells uplift and thrill; The barrier, fixed yet fine, we may not pass at will.

Women are often a blessing in disguise.

Good things seldom come easy nor bad ones so easy.

When a man is down in the world he is on his uppers.

Whispered scandal always sounds like a stage whisper.

The philanthropist is the man without poor relations.

Bosom friends may be chums, or they may be chumps.

High ideals are often found at the bottom of the ladder.

A smart saying often leaves a smart that should not be.

Some people find a great deal of pleasure in being melancholy.

Women of fashion acquire embonpoint. Other women just get fat.

Many a man has got a kink in his arm from throwing bouquets at himself.

True love is like ghosts which everybody talks about and few have seen.

The newest and nicest thing in Bon Bons—Nylco Chocolates—Jarvis Drug Store.

FOR SALE—A good Gurney Steel Range, wood, coal or gas. Apply to E. F. Jones.

Don't forget we give The Record from now till Jan. 1st, 1914 for $1.00. It's a snap.

The surest way is not always the safest—for example, hunting a gas leak with a lighted match.

The next question is how to finance that new winter overcoat. Of course, there is the installment plan "A stenographer," said Sneerwell, "seems to be the only woman to whom a man can dictate nowadays."

Don't get into a narrow rut. There is a broad road where traveling is easier, and where you can do more for yourself and others.

James Hodgson will hold an auction sale of farm stock and implements, on Lot 1, Con. 1, Walpole, Friday, Oct. 18.—J. Hodges, Auctioneer.

When you were little, do you remember you wanted something for your very own? And don't you feel that way occasionally, now that you are grown?

No wonder a man worries: he has so much to worry about. There are the foolish things he does; he worries about these almost as much as he worries about the wisest things he has neglected to do.

An English apiarist is said to have produced a stingless bee. Thus perishes another of childhood's joys. For what youngster with red blood would interest himself in stirring up a nest of 'em without stingers?

Nearly 4,000 women and children are said to have been the victims of deserting husbands in Scotland during the past year. Evidently there must be a waning influence of the "kirk" there, and a too loose application of the Shorter Catechism.

When the millennium arrives, it is fit that man's nature will be changing at the same time; else swords would need to be beaten into something less capable of harm than pruning-hooks. History furnishes startling evidence of the mischief done by such-like implements when a rural mob got "het up."

Why should not a woman who deliberately destroys property in her full senses be punished? A man in the same circumstances is, and the police know how to handle him when he resists arrest. He is also made to serve out his sentence. Refusing to eat does not secure his liberty. In truth the law deals more severely with men criminals than it does with those of the opposite sex.

A telegram was received Monday morning from W. C. Nelson, Victoria, B. C. announcing the sudden death of his father, Mr. John Nelson, who up to a few years ago resided in the Township of Walpole. Mr. Nelson had not been in good health for some time but was as well as usual when he paid a visit to this vicinity last summer to renew old acquaintances. He was in his 60th year. He leaves to mourn his loss, a widow, three sons and four daughters. The Record extends sympathy to the bereaved family.

Miss Ethel Snyder spent Saturday in Hamilton.

Irs Geo. Law, Niagara, is visiting at the home of Silas Snyder.

If you wish to practice what you preach don't occupy the pulpit too often.

The only way to get ahead is to make good use of the head you have already.

The old farmer who usually predicts a hard winter has not yet called around.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Eaid and son George spent a few days last week at Tillsonburg.

James Swing of Walpole has purchased Wilbert Slack's house at Hagersville and will move there shortly.

It takes more than black clouds, rain and mud to keep the people home from Caledonia as was shown on Friday.

Mr. S. says there is a moral to drowning and other accidents which happen to pleasure seekers. Moral—Never go boating on Sunday.

This is the season of the year when the young men who go hunting takes the gun by the muzzle and pulls it over the fence after him.

Word was received last week from Carman, Minn., of the serious illness of Thomas J. F. formerly of this town. We hope soon to hear of his recovery.

There are about a dozen people looking for houses in Jarvis and every house is full. It looks as if an opportunity of a builder and contractor had come.

There has been a lot of frost in the surrounding country and the chestnut buds are opening. The chestnut crop will be fairly good, but there will be very few hickory nuts.

Both Presbyterians and Methodists are crying out for missions. Other denominations are yet to be heard from. In the meantime, the heathen in our midst will continue steeped in outer darkness.

The thief who broke jail in Nevada and walked forty miles to feed his pet cat can't be such a bad sort. Rich folks who go away for the summer and leave cats starving at home might learn humanity from the jailbird.

Number 1, Volume 1, of The Canadian Countryman, a new farm journal, published in Toronto, has come to hand, and from the initial number one would say that it has in it the making of a fine business journal for the farmer. It contains 32 pages.

Two more victims charged up to Burlington bay! Were it possible to compile, that little sheet of water could present a startling record of lives lost since La Salle, the great French-Canadian explorer, landed on its shores in the vicinity of Oaklands some 250 years ago.

Loyalty and faith have not departed from the earth. An obscure paragraph in the newspapers recently announced the marriage of a couple who had been engaged for twenty years. The bride had refused to leave an invalid father during his lifetime. She trusted in the loyalty of her lover, and her faith was justified.

Mrs. Silas Snyder, who met with a painful accident a few days ago, is, we are pleased to report, getting along nicely. While crossing a creek in a boat near her home, the boat began to sway and in trying to land on the other side safely, leaned over and clung to a log, but in the attempt she had the misfortune to have several ribs broken.

The Cayuga Advocate contains the following comment of two young ladies who contributed to the concert, held on Monday evening in connection with the Anniversary services held at Cayuga: The item speaks for itself. "Miss Allen's recitations were much enjoyed and were given in good style. Miss Shirley Rodgers is the possessor of a voice of wonderful sweetness. Judging from the excellence of her singing on Monday evening, she bids fair to equal or surpass the best lady vocalist in Canada. It certainly was a rich treat to hear her."

It may be of interest to the older members of this section to learn that one of the "old boys" Mrs. (Dr.) W. A. Howell, mother of Dr. R. G. Howell of this village, has attained considerable celebrity in Art Circles in Washington, D. C. One of her pictures, painted last fall and winter, having been chosen by the most exclusive gallery in the American Capital. Mrs. Howell is also a graduate of the Chautauqua University, taking first-class honors all through. This, for a woman of seventy years, shows ability and progressiveness in a high degree. Always fond of art, Mrs. Howell laid it aside during the period of her middle life, when other duties took up her time. Now, in her old age, when there is more leisure, she has taken up again the useful pastime of her days of long ago.

Chas. Brock of Caledonia was a visitor in town Sunday.

How does the weather suit ye grumblers these days.

The doctor who loses his patience is also apt to lose his patients.

The girl who is chummy with the mother will never go far wrong.

One swallow may not make a summer but one apple once made a fall.

Mrs. Sonners of Rockford visited her mother, Mrs. Dougherty, yesterday.

How much of Thanksgiving Day, we wonder, will be given up to thanksgiving.

Have you thought of buying your Xmas present yet. Buy it now and save all worry.

Mrs. Thos. Harris, who spent a few days last week at Drumbo returned home Monday.

Miss Dolly Bell left Tuesday for a month's visit to friends in Smithville, Streetsville, Acton and other towns.

If you read all these newspaper stories about Gen. Brock you must be pretty well posted about Canada's hero.

Another lineman killed by a live wire. These tragedies can hardly be called accidents. They look more like murders.

We don't see why this shouldn't be a pretty good month for weddings. The chipmunks are curling themselves up to go to sleep.

Frederick Marr has engaged Jas. Hodges to sell his farm stock and implements, on Lot 24, con. 3, Town Line, on Saturday, Oct. 19.

Now is the season for Playing Cards, Tally Cards, Bridge and Five Hundred Score Cards of which we have a full line at The Record Book Store.

With Thanksgiving day so near at hand, those Balkan states could hardly be expected to show other than increased desire to get Turkey, to Gobble 'er up.

For the season just ended, 133 have perished while trying to surmount Alpine heights in Switzerland. Well, there's that many less fools left in the world.

Time and again is noted the death or serious injury of farmers gored by bulls. In this case, at least, it is untrue to remark that "the female of the species is most deadly of them all."

I would not part with my post card for 25c. If I could not get another "is what you hear every day of the cards we have for sale of the fall fair events. They are nearly all gone."—The Record

Alfred Roberts, of Woodhouse, received a bad cut on the head recently in jumping out of his wagon, the side board of the box turned and he pitched forward striking his head against an iron wheel. We are pleased to report that he is recovering.

The young man who knows how to farm need not be stuck for profitable employment. The average farmer can make a surer living these days than the average lawyer or doctor. Still the country has need of its professional men as well as its farmers.

Last Sunday evening Rev. Mr. Ross made feeling reference to the centenary of the death of Sir Isaac Brock, who was mortally wounded leading the forces in the battle of Queenston Heights, on Oct. 13, 1812. After the address the congregation rose and sang the National Anthem.

A plethora of railroad accidents, both at home and abroad, have been chronicled recently. The approaching season of frost and snow will not diminish the quota. The mania for speed is not an inconsequence factor, and recalls the old Scotch proverb, to the effect that they who would dance with the devil must help pay the piper.

Is there a huge counterfeiting industry somewhere in Canada? This is a question which the Department of Finance would like to have answered. And it is one that is causing a lot of worry to the police, and banking authorities. For some months past fraudulent notes have been turning up at banks all over the country, and their circulation seems to be growing rapidly.

If a man is really looking for a wife instead of a society butterfly, an heiress or a chorus girl, he heartily recommends for his consideration a telephone girl. For even temper, patience, promptness and meekness, telephone girls have the world beaten. They are girls with practical ideas and common sense; they are girls who will help you save your money and make you an all-round housewife. We have never seen one that wasn't neat and clean, and they would probably be the most orderly housekeepers you could get. And one of their greatest virtues in their ability to control their tongues. They are accustomed to being quarreled at and demeaned, yet they are not moved to an outburst thereby. We know they are sometimes imposed upon and are seldom rated at the true worth. If you are in need of a good wife, get a telephone girl.

Why should anybody want to make a dishonest living when there are so many ways of making an honest one.

Rules for getting up on a cold morning: 1. Say, "I will get up." 2. Throw back the bedclothes. 3. Get out of bed.

D. C. and Mrs. Allen left town last evening for a two weeks vacation. They will visit the latter's brothers in Bowdle, South Dakota, and Duluth, Minn.

Mrs. Hoffman and two children visited her sister, Mrs. James Harrison for a few days. She left Tuesday for St. Thomas prior to leaving for her home in Kenora.

Your friend at a distance would just love one of the post cards taken Fair Day. What pleasant memories would be stirred up and the pulse would vibrate once more.—The Record.

Mrs. Wm. Porter while visiting at the home of Wm. J. Lindsay suffered a slight stroke and is at present confined to Mr. Lindsay's home. We are pleased to state, however that she is getting along as well as may be expected.

The West Haldimand Plowmen's Association will hold its annual match on the farm of Herbert Moulton, on Indian Line at Gill, three miles south of Hagersville, on Thursday, Oct. 31. That the outlook for a big list of entries is most encouraging.

The peach growers of the Niagara district, both sides of the border, stand to lose more than $100,000 for the very peculiar reason that there is an over abundance of this luscious fruit this year. The crop is too big to handle, and there is a shortage of pickers, a shortage of baskets, and the transportation companies are unable to furnish sufficient cars in which to ship the fruit after it is picked.

Moving seems to be the order in Jarvis during the past few days. Mr. Hammond last week moved in part of the house occupied by Chas. Crockett, while Dr. Overand is moving to the house vacated by Mr. Hammond. Mr. Jones will live in the house above and back of the Post Office and the house he vacates will be occupied by Wallace Johnson. Mr. Crockett moving into the house he vacates.

Rev. John R. Newell, late Rector of Old Castle (near Windsor) died on Sunday, October 17th, at the residence of his brother, Andrew, Springfield, Ont. Mr. Newell was a former Rector of Port Dover for about twelve years. He leaves to mourn his loss, his widow (who formerly lived in Jarvis), his son Jack, who is in the Bank of Commerce in Windsor, also Frances and Charles. The funeral takes place at Port Dover today, where they buried a son and daughter some years ago.

"Cut out drinking; it will never bring you anything. Stay completely away from immoral men. Snap their faces if they insult you, and always demand respect. If I had done this I would be as happy as when I was 10 years old. If there is no place to put me take me out in the middle of the Detroit River and drop me—good riddance to bad rubbish." The above note was left behind by a young girl who committed suicide in Detroit last week, because she had wandered from the path of rectitude and honor and found herself a castaway, without hope or self-respect. Surely the way of the transgressor is hard. But what of those who dragged her down?

Many persons feel offended because their comings and goings are not mentioned while those of others are, and wonder what the matter can be. The explanation of the matter is that the editor means to be impartial, but some escape mention. The likes and dislikes of an editor have nothing to do with it, and while it is not pretended that the editor is more than humane he knows that the success of his journal depends on his fairness and impartiality to all. It is the best way always when a notice is desired to mention it to the editor, or communicate through the post office. No one feels worse about any seeming neglect or partial performance of duty than the editor himself.

Miss Isabel Henning, who has been a resident of our village for a number of years left Monday evening for Hamilton and will also spend a few days prior to leaving for Manitoulin Island where she will reside with her brother. Miss Henning's removal will occasion deep regret in the hearts of her Jarvis friends, who feel her departure very keenly. Especially in St. Paul's church will she be greatly missed as she cheerfully helped in every good cause and her place there will be hard to fill. On Saturday several members of the congregation presented her with a handsome bedroom clock and other little gifts. A copy of the address will appear next week. The A. Y. P. A. also presented Miss Henning with a very flattering address. We join with her friends and they are legion—in wishing that she may live to enjoy many years of happiness in her new home.

Colonel Roosevelt Shot Injuries not Serious

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 14.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was shot and slightly wounded to-night as he was leaving the Gilpatrick Hotel in an automobile for the Auditorium to make a speech. The wound was superficial, and the Colonel went on to the hall and began his speech after he had seen the assailant arrested and taken to the police station. The man was seized and held until police came up. A mob surged around the prisoner, who apparently is mentally upset, on the subject of Roosevelt's running for another term as President. The man, who is small of stature, admitted firing the shot, and said that, "any man looking for a third term ought to be shot." In notes found in the man's pockets, the police station were statements that he had been visited in a dream by the spirit of Wm. McKinley, who had said, indicating Colonel Roosevelt, "This is my murderer; avenge my death." He was later identified as John Shranck of New York.

Illustrated Lecture

Rev. R. M. Dickey, B.A., a talented and enthusiastic missionary among the miners and lumbermen of Canada will give his fascinating lecture, "From one and Tragedy of Camp and Trail" illustrated by seventy stereoscopic views, in our village on Wednesday evening, Oct. 23. A collection will be taken up in aid of the Reading Camp Association, an interdenominational organization that aims to evangelize and educate the multitude of men in lumber, fishing, mining and railroad construction camps throughout the Dominion. A large number of the Jarvis community, will doubtless avail themselves of the privilege of hearing this splendid lecture.

Mr. Cosens.

On account of the lecture in Chambers' Hall on Wednesday evening, Oct. 23, under the auspices of the interdenominational Reading Camp Association the E. L. and prayer meeting service, will be withdrawn.

Don't Forget the Date of Andrew Edington's sale of farm stock, implements, etc., on Lot 23, Con. 12, Townsend, one mile south of Rockford, on Saturday, Oct. 19, 1912.

The New Story

A sucking good story begins in The Record this week. The title is "Winnipeg's Winnie." Readers will find the tale a rare combination of humor, pathos, love and adventure. The first installment should not be missed. We will send The Record from now until Jan. 1, 1913 for $1.00 or from now till the end of the year for 20c.

Cards of Thanks

James McCarthy wishes to convey his thanks through the columns of The Record, to the neighbors and friends for their sympathy and acts of kindness during the illness and subsequent death of his wife, Mrs. McCarthy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wodham wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during the illness and death of their father, the late John Wodham.

A good start has been made on the Haldimand County good roads system under the supervision of Engineer Jackson, and before winter stops the work considerable progress will have to be reported. By the purchase of quarries and the use of modern road-making machinery and appliances the country is assured of the best results for the money paid out, and by the method adopted it will be possible to give employment during the winter to a number of men who otherwise would be idle.
