the emblem on Thursday.

The pistol should be driven out of our civilization; its manufacture and sale ought to be prohibited under penalties that will affect their purpose. When we accomplish this we may not even prevent fatal attacks upon them, but we shall at least reduce materially the number of such astounding affairs and shall restore proper superiority to our forces of destruction and crime.

J. W. Copeland, of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for his little boy who had a cold, and before the bottle was all used the boy's cold was gone. Is that not better than to pay a five dollar doctor's bill? For sale by all dealers.

THANKSGIVING

For the hay and the corn and the wheat that is reaped,
For the labor well done, and the barns that are heaped,
For the sun and the dew and the sweet honey-rob,
For the rose and the song and the harvest brought home—Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!
For the trade and the skill and the wealth in our land,
For the cunning and strength of the working man's hand,
For the good that our artists and poets have taught,
For the friendships that hope and affection have brought—
Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!
For the homes that with purest affection are blest,
For the season of plenty and well deserved rest,
For our country extending from sea unto sea,
The land that is really the "Land of the Free"—
Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!

but a trifle to you but if everyone pays their back subscriptions it will mean considerable to us and will help defray our expenses.

Newspaper publishers throughout Canada have received notice from manufacturers of all kinds of printing papers that prices have been advanced. Similar notification has been given by nearly every other kind of dealer or manufacturer supplying the wants of the printing office. This added to increased living expenses will force the newspapers of the country to advance advertising rates and general printing.

A farm paper whose editor is an active farmer must of necessity be near the farmer and know his needs.
This is one of the reasons for the popularity of the Weekly Sun, Toronto, which for over twenty-two years, the Ontario farmer has considered his business paper. Then, again, The Sun's market reports are of such value to those who take advantage of the information given that they will not do without it. Sun subscribers are active farmers, who farm for profit. If you are not a subscriber to The Sun you should be. The Sun can help you make the farm pay all it can pay.

The man who edits the average country newspaper cannot well avoid treading on somebody's toes continually; must expect to be cena coward because he does not "pitch into" everything that somebody thinks wrong, and a fool if he speaks out too plainly on public evils; he must expect to grind other people's axes and turn the grindstone himself. Still we think it is one of the noblest professions on earth; the one in which the earnest man can do the most good to his fellowman, and in which an honorable man can wield much power for good.

If there is anything that tortures an editor more than anything else it is to publish a $15 or $20 obituary notice about some old prominent citizen who never had the manhood to take his paper. Editors frequently put in such notices at request of relatives and friends, but it grinds them to eulogize a man to the skies who was too stingy to support his home paper. A three line is all such fellows deserve.

We are forcibly impressed that "the melancholy days are come" by the amount of golden leaves piled indiscriminately about. If "father's pride and mother's joy" will direct half the energy he displays in a game of "shinny", to raking up the aforesaid leaves and burning or otherwise destroying them, it will take about twenty-four hours to make the lawns about town present a marked difference in their appearance.

At $1.00 a barrel it is hard to see much money in the apple business for the farmer—after he has trimmed his trees, sprayed them four times a year as is recommended, picked the apples, boarded the packers, and delivered the full barrels to the railway station. A farmer, who has figured it up, tells us that it costs $1.00 a barrel for the work he does, and that when selling at that price he gives his apples away and board the packers for nothing. Perhaps the buyer pays as big a price as possible, too, as he certainly has a lot of expense before he markets the fruit, and buyers do not all get rich at the business for the grower as there should be. And yet, get into the city and you will find that you pay a fancy price for your apples. The connection between the grower and the market seems to be too great.

Lobsters are quoted at 30 cents a tin. Of course, it is understood that the human article dubbed by that title should feel about that price, if in a rightful frame of mind. But many sadly remember the time when the natural product could be had for about half the money.

Don't tear up your whole house at once. Never lose sight of the fact that the keynote of home, even during periods of housecleaning, be comfort; and do not think your housecleaning must be done in a day, or even in a week. Take it easy, bit by bit. Keep sweet about it. Sing your way through.

Visitors who complain of the quietness of a Canadian Sunday would find the same condition existing if they travelled as far afield as Australia. There, too, the same stringent liquor restrictions prevail.
A man is also liable to a fine if he

A great admirer of the British navy has just declared that abstinence from strong drink is necessary, if a man wishes to become an expert gunner. The doctors, who have Colonel Roosevelt in charge, declares that he is a marvel of physical fitness owing to his total abstinence from tobacco and intoxicants. This is the sort of evidence which promotes real temperance rather than legislation.

We believe that a telephone in a house is a great preventive of destruction from lightning. We do not say that a building which has one is immune, but tell us of a residence with a phone in and struck by this agency that has been destroyed. The fuse many burn out but the damage is slight compared to residences struck which contained no phone. Every farm house should have a phone for this reason among others.

Anniversary Services

The Anniversary Thankoffering services were held in the Methodist church on Sunday and Monday. On Sunday Rev.
C. W. Cosens of Elmira preached morning and evening. Large congregations thronged the church. The messages of Mr.
Cosens, who had twice been pastor in Jarvis, were interesting and impressive.
The choir rendered special music for the occasion and acquitted themselves well.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Howard contributed a duet at the evening service.
On Monday evening a pleasant social gathering, without admission fee, was held. The ladies of the church had provided refreshments in abundance and after these had been thoroughly enjoyed the program was commenced. The pastor Rev. Mr. Eddy, occupying the chair. The musical part of the program was well assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Howard, Mrs. Andrew Miller and Miss Shirley Rodgers. Miss Leah Robinson contributed a recitation. The address of the evening was given by Rev. Mr. Cosens, who prefaced his remarks by referring to his pleasant experiences in coming to Jarvis twenty nine years ago and the pleasure he felt in again being with the people here.
Mr. Cosens will always be a welcome visitor in this community. The thank-offering contributions were slightly in excess of $100.

Hallowe'en

Next to Christmas and Easter, for many families the most touching church festival in all the Christian year is, or should be, the first of November, All Saints' day.
That is the day set apart by the churches in commemoration of all the unreconded saints—and few are the families that find themselves without some dear and blessed and even sainted, memory to dwell upon.
It is curious that Hallowe'en, the eve of All Saints' day, should even have come to be observed with wild skylarking, buffonery and masquerade. The explanation is, of course, that in spite of its name, Hallowe'en has no connection with the festival of All Saints. It appears to have had its origin in a druidic festival, celebrated with many superstitious rites.
These, in modified form, survived the introduction of Christianity into Britain; certain characteristics of the Roman festival of Pomona were grafted on them, and subsequent Anglo-Saxon and Celtic inguinity and superstition were responsible for still further additions.

Of late years there has been—in the country districts, at least—some improvement in the manner of celebrating Hallowe'en. The practice of carrying off gates, breaking down fences, and defacing property is less popular than it was, and may soon become happily obsolete. In many towns and cities, however, Hallowe'en is still a synonym for disturbance.
Masks and fancy costumes are a shield for rowdy conduct; and horns and whistles make the night odious.

It is not necessary to strip Hallowe'en of its traditional quality of festivity and merrymaking; but its observances should endeavor to be so grotesquely at odds with the character of the day that follows, from which it derives its name.

Sad Death of Henry Swing

A few days ago Mr. and Mrs.
Walter Swing received the sad news from the Chief of Police at Shoal
