SOWING HIS WILD OATS REAPING A HARVEST OF SORROW

How many young men can look back on their early life and regret their misdeeds. "Sowing their wild oats" in various ways. Excesses, violation of nature's laws, "wine, women and song"—all have their victims. They have reformed but what about the seed you have sown—what about the harvest? Don't trust to luck. If you are at present within the clutches of any secret habit which is sapping your life by degrees; if you are suffering from the results of past indiscretions; if your blood has been tainted from any private disease and you have not married; if you are married and live in dread of symptoms breaking out and exposing your past; if you are suffering as the result of a mispent life—DRS. ### Sad Death.

A death under pathetic circumstances occurred on Tuesday last, James Algie an esteemed resident of this town, having taken his own life while mentally unbalanced. He suffered a paralytic stroke about a week ago and was troubled with dizzy spells since. His daughter, Mrs. Sage, left him with her son during the forenoon and when Mr. Sage returned home at noon discovered his lifeless body. Dr. Quince investigated the facts and considered an inquest unnecessary. Mr. Algie was in his 84th year and his wife predeceased him about three months ago. His remains were taken to Alton yesterday for interment in the family plot—Hagersville News.

The Rule of the Road

The rule of the road is well understood when vehicles are meeting. There is no trouble at such times. The trouble occurs when the team or auto coming up from behind wishes to pass the team in front. It often happens that the driver of the team will turn to the left to may for the other team or automobile to go ahead by passing on the right. This is wrong and the turning on the left often causes confusion.

Careful automobile drivers have learned from experience that they must first toot their horns and then wait to see which way the driver ahead is going to turn out before deciding which way to pass. So often the team in advance will be turned the wrong way, that if the usual law of the road were depended on by the driver of the car he would collide with the man in front and it would not be the fault of the driver of the car.

Boiled down, the rule is: Always turn to the right except when passing a vehicle going in the same direction, in which case the one who passes another goes to the left.
