That newspapers have a right to decline advertising when they deem it objectionable, even if it is submitted to them under a yearly contract, is the effect of a decision handed down in the district court at St. Paul, Minn. The case came up when a department store was sued by a newspaper to recover money due under a yearly contract that the store management had declared void because cerain portions of its advertising copy had been rejected by the paper.

Words are tricky things. Three or four words, arranged in one or another way, may precipitate a war, a divorce scandal, or a riot at a christening. You must watch words closely when you put them into advertising or correspondence. You must consider their effect on the other fellow. There was a street faker once, back in our home town, who was selling cough medicine. And he said, in one part of his discourse, that "thousands of persons would rise and acclaim the merits of Doperine if they were alive to tell the tale to-day."—John N. Baffel.

Just as we were going to press we learned of a serious accident to the Delhi pic-nicers at Port Dover. As near as we can learn the people were crowding into the park and on account of the large crowd entering the gate a great number were held back on the bridge which crossing the road at that place is about fifteen or twenty feet above the road. When the bridge was crowded to its utmost, the weight proved too great for its supports which gave way letting the people on it at the time down into the road below. About fifteen of those who were on the bridge at the time of the disaster had the misfortune to substain injuries, some of which were very serious.

West—Littler

College Street, Methodist church, Toronto, was the scene of a pretty wedking at two o'clock yesterday, when the marriage was solemnized of Miss Lenora Adelaide Littler, daughtrr of Mr. and Mrs. A. The bride wore a graceful gown of white satin, trimmed with Chantilly lace and pearls, and a tulle veil with wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower of roses and lily of the valley and wore the groom's gift a gold wrist watch. Miss Gladys D. Littler was her sisters bridesmaid and wore pink satin with tunic of mauve ninon and a white picture hat. She carried pink roses and wore the groom's grift a gold bracelet. Mr. Harry S. Pell, a cousin of the groom, was best man, and received gold monogram cuff links from him and the ushers, Mr. E. Axworthy and Mr. S. Smith, each receiving sun burst tie pins. After the ceremony the bride's mother held a reception at her home, 565 Brock Ave and was wearing a black satin gown and corsage bouquet of sweet peas. Later the bride and groom left for Quebec via the Thousand Islands, the former travelling in a navy blue tailor made suit and hat to match. The Haldimand Loyal Orange Association attended Divine service in the Methodist church, Jarvis, Sunday, August at 2 p.m.. Owing to the inclement weather the attendance was not as large as would have been had it been fine. The sermon was preached by the Rev. George Shields of Cheapside, a worthy member of the order, from the words "Earnestly contend for the faith once delivered to the Saints. Jude 3. The general argument of the sermon was that the Orange Order stood for the upholding of protestantism and that with changing conditions the Association must meet the questions of the day rather than rely upon historical victories. The sermon throughout was a masterpiece and those who missed it missed a treat. During the service Mr. Leo. Merrill of Brantford rendered a most appropriate song. Mr. Merrill has a highly cultivated voice and his singing showed great power and control.

KNOX CHURCH

There were fairly good congregations at both services on Sunday, although the weather was not very favorable. Rev. McCrimmon preached very forcibly and interesting sermons, subjects being in the morning "Personal Service" and in the evening on "The Unpossessed Possessions." Those who were out in the morning enjoyed hearing Mr. Merrill sing the solo "Open the Gates." This is the second time Mr. Merrill has assited the choir in the service of Praise and his work is very much appreciated.

The Annual Sunday School will be held on Thursday of this week at Pt. Dover. Those wishing to go by train will go with the Hagersville excursion which should leave Jarvis about about 9.17 a. m. There will be a special train returning in evening at ten o'clock as well as the regular one at 5.20.

After the regular meeting the Consecration service was held when the members who were present answered the roll call. It would be a good plan for those who are unable to attend the consecration meetings to send a verse to be read by a friend when their names are called.

The city of Hamilton is in gals attire this week while the big centennial celebration and old home week will be held. The Hamilton old boys from all parts of the continent will be back for the week's reunion, and it promises to be far greater than the celebration held in the Ambitious City ten years ago. Judging by the advance program there will not be a dull moment during the entire week and the fun started with the arrival of the Detroit old boys, accompanied by a band last Sunday. Bands from all parts are here and there is music on every corner during all hours of day and night. The streets have been given over to the big carnival shows of Patrick and Ferrari and the city has already assumed holiday attire in the matter of decorations. A big industrial exhibition will be held in the armories as well as an art exhibition, in which pictures of some of the old haunts will be on view as well as the work of Hamilton artists. An aviation exhibition will be given over the city every day and the city will be one big blaze of electricity at night as neither the power companies nor the merchants have been saving in the matter of electrical decorations. Special single fare rates will be given on all railroads and a visit to Hamilton will be well worth the while.

Don't depend on other people to do your kicking for you.
