With its purchase goes the assurance that you own Canada's leading piano. This satisfaction is well worth the slightly higher cost.

The Farmer's Christmas Stocking

From East to west during 1913, the Canadian farmer, as a rule, has had a good season in production, with a keen demand for his output. The people of the farm home will, therefore, not have an empty Christmas stocking, and one of the first things to go into it is the handsome, 100-page, annual Christmas Number of "The Farmer's Advocate and Home Magazine," London, Ont., which this year has surely set its standard of variety and excellence higher than ever.

The art reproductions in black and white include several of the world's best modern paintings. There are in all over sixty beautiful engravings. The publishers and editors of "The Farmer's Advocate" are to be congratulated upon their achievement and their readers upon receiving such a publication.

The Price of Eggs.

A couple of days ago a Toronto woman paid 70 cents a dozen for eggs and if there is a good reason for fresh eggs fetching this price now, there is a better reason for them fetching a dollar a dozen six weeks hence. Why they should be so expensive in a district where poultry is plentiful and in a season so favorable for egg production is a mystery. Early hatched pullets of a good strain have been laying for several weeks and there has been no severe weather to check them. In a severe winter where hens are not properly fed there is a natural falling off in the supply of eggs, although of late years we should have supposed that the general spread of knowledge as to the scientific care of poultry would have taught most farmers' wives how they could at little expense and trouble have eggs all winter through up to the present the hens on the average Ontario farm have been getting about the premises. They have not yet had to be cooped and fed with grain which is the equivalent of hard cash. This circumstance ought to make for cheapness of production at the present time and yet eggs are more expensive in Toronto to-day than they have ever been. At the present time had roads and difficulty of transportation do not explain the mystery. Unless among the hens there is a general conspiracy to resist all influences and refuse to lay eggs no good reason for present prices suggests itself.

We Gas Jarvis Doesn't Want It.

The citizens of Jarvis are adding their protestations to those of Hagersville and Brantford as well as many other points over the introduction of sulphur gas into the local mains from the Tilbury gas fields. Brantford is taking legal action keep the gas out of that city, and we note with pleasure that Kent county is about to take legal action to retain all gas within the county. Well, here's hoping they both succeed.

Henry C. Held Instantly Killed.

Fisherville Man Received Fatal Injuries in Railway Wreck Near Oshawa, Ont.

Oshawa, Dec. 12—About 7 o'clock this morning a serious wreck occurred on the Great Trunk main line about two miles east of Oshawa Junction station. A heavy freight train consisting of about 22 cars of cattle and miscellaneous freight, was proceeding westward, and in endeavoring to make the grade, just east of Oshawa Junction broke in two. A trainman was sent back to place torpedoes on the track to warn the approaching through passenger train known as No. 3, the Montreal express. While he was in the act of doing so the other men of the train got the freight hooked up again and signalled the man who went back to warn the flyer that all was well, to come and not bother placing the torpedoes.

In making the second attempt at the grade the train again broke in two. It was then too late to place torpedoes, and in a few minutes the flyer crashed into the end of the freight. The caboose and several freight cars were completely wrecked. In the caboose were a number of drovers who had charge of the cattle. Mr. Henry C. Held, of Fisherville, a cattle buyer for Messrs. Kohler Bros. of Cayuga, was almost instantly killed. William Walker of Hagersville, and James Stephenson, of Hastings, two other drovers, were badly injured. The engineer and fireman on the flyer, when seeing a collision inevitable, after applying the emergency brakes, jumped and escaped without serious injury. The engineer was slightly injured, but was able to return to his home without assistance.

Walker and Stephenson were removed to Oshawa Hospital, where their injuries were attended to. Held and Walker were lying facing each other on benches in the caboose, with their heads toward the rear of the train. Stephenson was lying with his feet toward the other drovers' feet, also on a bunk, and all were asleep at the time.

Walker has two or three ribs broken, his face cut and the back of his head injured. He will recover, and will be removed home shortly.

The funeral of the late Henry C. Held took place on Monday afternoon at the Lutheran cemetery, Fisherville. Rev. S. K. Elk officiating. The funeral was very largely attended, deceased being well and favorably known throughout the district. Deceased leaves a widow, whose maiden name was Miss Carrie Schmidt, one son William aged about 19, and three younger daughters, Gertrude, Mildred and Eva.

The bereaved family and relatives have the deepest sympathy of a very wide circle of friends.

Laymen's Missionary Banquet.

On Friday night, the 12th inst., (there assembled in the S. S. room of the Presbyterian Church, about one hundred and fifty members of Jarvis and surrounding country to enjoy a banquet provided by the ladies of the church, and listen to addresses on the Laymen's Missionary Movement by two gentlemen from Toronto.

At 7 p.m. all present sat down to the tables which were laden with a most excellent spread and was indeed in keeping with the splendid reputation these ladies hold for preparing an up-to-date feast.

The following program, which was prepared by the ministers of the three churches, was then carried through:—

The assembly sang two verses of the hymn "All Hail The Power of Jesus' Name," followed by prayer by the Rev. J. G. Fozz. The chairman then introduced the first speaker, Rev. J. K. Edmonson, who delivered in a pleasing and effective manner an address on "Home Missions," holding the attention of all throughout the entire discourse. The assembly then sang two verses of "O'ward Christian Soldiers," and the second speaker, J. H. Arnup, was introduced, whose address dealt chiefly with Foreign Missions.

Votes of thanks were passed to the ladies, the speakers and chairman, and the meeting was dismissed by the Rev. Mr. Ross.

It is the opinion of all who took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy these addresses that much good must result from it. The addresses were so interesting and instructive, and the speakers so deeply in earnest that all felt inspired and determined to have a share in the good work being fully convinced that the Laymen's Missionary Movement is a great power for good.

Girl Claims Damages from The Monarch Knitting Company Dunnville, Ontario.

Claiming she had been humiliated and ridiculed because her picture was used for advertising purposes by the Monarch Knitting Co., Limited, of Buffalo and Dunnville, Kathryn J. Bruggerman, a handsome brunette, tall, slender, stylishly attired in the height of fashion, and having large black eyes which she knows how to use to advantage, asked Justice Brown in equity court at Buffalo on Tuesday last week for an injunction restraining the defendant company from using her photograph further and also for $10,000.00 damages.

Justice Brown, at the close of the case said he did not see how he could rule with the plaintiff, but ordered briefs filed this week, on which he will hand down his decision.

Miss Bruggerman showed pictures in a catalogue, in which her likeness appeared as attired in woolen goods on the advertising pages. These illustrations, she said, were published with her
