Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaFortune wish to announce the marriage of their daughter, Mae Herrick, to Ernie L. Draper, son of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Draper, Danville, Ill., which took place quietly at Jarvis on Monday, December 16.

H. F. Bickford, for some years the local agent of the G. T. R. at Caledonia left for Edison, Alta., Saturday, where he has been appointed station agent for the Grand Trunk Railway. Mr. Bickford was a great favorite among the patrons of the G. T. R., who wish him success in his new field.

The Old Land has closed its usual Christmas holidays in a more than ordinarily satisfied mood. Never in the country's history has trade been so good, money so plentiful and the holidays so plentiful and the holidays so long. Many wholesale houses, legal firms and general offices were closed down for a week. The storekeepers everywhere declare that never have they known such a splendid year for the Christmas trade. The railways, steamers and electric roads never did a business nearly as good as this year. The poor received more gifts and were more liberally treated than ever. The day was one of the happiest ever known in Great Britain.

The New Year

Another leaf is turned. The yet unwritten page. New resolution brings. Thou to thy soul engage. A better self, and on its altar lay. Atonement of repentance to the New Year Day—
Break secret fetters that have held thy heart.
—May Joy enfold thee, and Grace its peace impart.

Four good resolutions are good for the new year.

Robt. Pedlow of Hamilton spent Friday in town.

The people who marry for money earn every penny of it.

Miss Ola Ammerman spent a few days with friends in Scotland.

Now we wonder if anybody was overlooked in the Christmas rush.

If we would only try we might do a little better this year than we did last year.

Mrs. John Deming has returned from her visit to friends in Renton and Lynnville.

Mrs. (Dr.) Park of Chesley was a visitor with Dr. and Mrs. Jacques for the holidays.

T. J. Hicks returned Saturday evening from a holiday trip to his home in Bellville.

Mr. Coonan of Hamilton was a visitor with his brother, J. J. Coon, during the holidays.

Charlie Davidson has returned to Hamilton to resume his studies after spending the holidays here.

The turkey has been a much over-rated bird lately. It should take a much needed drop to itself.

Miss Pearl Wicklum and Miss Annie Smith of Berlin spent their New Year holidays with Miss Edna Bank.

Colder weather is coming, according to the probabilities, but opinions differ as to whether this should be understood as a promise or a treat.

Percy Thompson of Simcoe is spending a few days at the home of his uncle, S. A. Thompson, who is suffering from an attack of rheumatism.

The only thing Santa Claus forgot to bring us was a calendar. Probably he thought the other fellow would remember us, but he didn't.

MARRIED—At Hagersville, on Dec. 27th, 1912, by the Rev. J. Mellroy, Ira Drazo Thomas of London, to Elizabeth Hannah Thomas of Hagersville.

J. O. McCarthy an old Haldimand boy, with many friends here, was elected Controller at the recent Toronto municipal election. Congratulations Jesse.

The merchants are now busy counting up the money they took in during the Christmas campaign, and I'll bet you it amounts to a pretty tidy sum. Well, it was hard work while it lasted.

Miss Francis Newel, A. W. C. M. also member of College of Liberal Arts, and Conservatory of Music, Windsor, will be prepared to take pupils for piano after Jan. 7th. Pupils will kindly call at the residence of Mr. C. E. Bourne.

Miss Emma Ashbough who has been residing with her brother, Wm. Ashbough, for the past eight years, has gone to Hamilton, where she intends making her future home. While a resident here she made many a friend and her removal from town has caused regret, as she was kind an obliging with all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

Another year has dropped into eternity after leaving its indelible mark on Mother Earth and her children. History has been made rapidly in this twentieth century. World-moving events, throwing their shadows far into the future, have marched with bewildering speed. As contemporaries we are too near them to grasp their significance. Many of us observe without emotion, and even without curiosity, happenings upon which generations to come will look back as supreme manifestations of destiny.

Jos. Owen has returned from the West.

John Stingle of Hamilton spent New Years here.

Mrs. Allen Ross returned Saturday evening from Hamilton.

Miss Grace Walter of Toronto spent the holidays at her home here.

Many a man wears himself out trying to keep up with his good intentions.

Many a man who claims to be deservng is lucky to escape what he deserves.

Born—In Jarvis, on Dec. 30th, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Heckman, twin boys.

There are 365 days in your new leaf. How does the first page look? Blotted already?

Lent means early this year, and that means a greatly compressed amusement season.

Resolutions are all very well, but perhaps by this time you know that resolution is better.

Keep your horse sharp shod. Otherwise it will be pretty helpless in a slippery street.

There is this to be said for the old year. It gave us good Christmas and New Years weather.

James Rountree, Jr., wife and two children of London spent the New Year holidays with their uncle, E. Farr, Sr.

About the best set of New Year's resolutions is the set that was drawn up twelve months ago, but fell by the wayside in 1912.

H. J. Clark of Toronto spent a week with his friend Sid Ineson. Mr. Ineson has returned to Toronto after spending the holidays here.

School reopened Monday at 9 o'clock and the school children will get their noses down to the grindstone until the welcome Easter holidays arrive. The kiddies have looked upon "Chissmas holidays" as a time which could be spent in skating and sleigh-riding but these sports were not to be enjoyed these holidays as the weather man sent rain instead of snow.

Monday was the Feast of Epiphany, held by the Catholic Church to commemorate the manifestations of Jesus Christ as Son of God to the wise men of the east at Bethlehem, at his baptism by John in the Jordan, and at the marriage feast at Cana in Galilee. In the Greek and Oriental Churches it is customary to administer baptism on the eve of this festival with unwonted solemnity, this because of the relation of the festival to the baptism of Jesus by St. John. It is also called "Twelfth Day" and "Little Christmas."

Forget it.

Their friends wish them a safe and pleasant journey.

The Atmosphere

An inspired writer once declared that the wicked stood on slippery places. The business district all week, if that logic is correct, was no place for a saint. Any man or woman who can hold his or her feet is worthy of canonization. He should in addition be given an halo as a contortionist. A fat man does not cut much of a figure as a contortionist, but many such were compelled to do a few gyrations the last few days that would have made a whirling dervish throw up his job in disgust. Many otherwise Christian gentlemen used language that was not good for his children to hear as he sprawled on the sidewalk. It was impossible to hold his temper and his equilibrium.

Painful Accident

A very painful accident befel Miss Sarah Hind on Friday evening last. She had just stepped outside the door at her home and while coming around on the veranda she slipped on some ice and in trying to save herself threw out her right arm. Miss Hind felt no bad effects and returned to the house, removing her coat and intended resting a while, but when trying to replace her coat she found the arm gave her such pain and it was with difficulty that she reached the home of Marshall Roberts, where medical attendance was soon secured. On the arrival of Dr. Newell it was found that the right shoulder had been dislocated. The injured member was soon replaced and we are pleased to report that the patient is as well as can be expected. Her many friends in Jarvis and vicinity sympathize with Miss Hind in her misfortune and the sincere wish of all is that she will soon recover from its effects.

Municipal Elections

Municipal contests throughout the Province Monday were, for the most part, quietly contested. The greatest interest attached to the places in which local option contests were fought, are dealt with elsewhere. In a number of municipalities by-laws for civic improvements and aids to industries were submitted to the electors. In some places a tendency to put a check to municipal aid to industries is noted.

To The Electors of the Township of Walpole

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

I desire to express my heartfelt thanks to those who so generously supported me and placed me at the head of the polls as Reeve of the township of Walpole for the present year. To the ladies, especially, do I feel much indebted, for despite the very inclement weather they turned out and aided me in my election. I felt that I could safely leave myself in the hands of the people to judge me on my public merit. Their verdict is very pleasing to me and I will endeavor during my tenure of office to properly repay that trust. I remain, yours very truly
J. J. PARSONS

To The Electors

Through the columns of the Record I take this means of thanking you for returning me for Deputy Reeve for the Tp. of Walpole, with an increased majority. I am particularly pleased with the ladies who braved the elements to cast their votes in my favor. To the Ratepayers of Garnet, my home ward, I am enthused to see they placed me at the head of the polls. I am sure my election will urge me to try and "make good" to endeavor to further the interests of the Tp. of Walpole and to the good old County of Haldimand.
Yours truly,
W. D. ROULSTON

To The Electors

I wish to thank my many friends who so loyally supported me in my contest for Councillor of Walpole—so that I again headed the poll. The confidence you have reposed in me is not misplaced and is certainly much appreciated.
DAVID MCBURNEY

To The Electors

To all my supporters, especially the ladies, I wish to extend my sincere thanks for the loyal support they gave me on Monday, by electing me as Councillor for 1913. I will give the best that is in me to see that the affairs of the township are properly ministered and in the interests of the people.
JAMES FALL

Annual Gathering

For many years it has been the custom for Mr. and Mrs. J. Marr to spend Christmas and New Years days with their children and grandchildren. This year Christmas was spent at the home of their son Fred at Simcoe and New Years at E. Lunday's, Marburg, a very pleasant time being spent at both places. There were three empty chairs, Mrs. Hewson of Castor unable to be present, Mrs. Garret and Lucy zone to the better land. How long we shall be spared to meet together God only knows, but we hope to meet a few more times in the wish of one that was present.—Contributed.

METHODIST CHURCH

A large and appreciative audience greeted the Misses Storr, evangelists, Sunday morning. Their message in song, and their presentation of scriptural truth was attentively listened to by all. They are holding services each night this week (with the exception of Saturday night) at the Garnet appointment. The services there next Sunday will be at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. The public are cordially invited.

Topic for to-night's service, "The Parable of the Pharisee and the Publican" John Parsons (jr) will have charge of the scripture reading and Ainsley Jackson will lead the discussion. The pastor will occupy the pulpit next Sunday morning. On account of the Anniversary services in the Presbyterian church the evening service will be withdrawn.

Little Child Killed

The following was taken from the Hamilton Times on Thursday. The mother of the little child is a niece of Mrs. Hill of town and has visited here many times. "A very sad accident happened about noon to-day when George Cooper, the 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, was run over and killed by a wagon belonging to the Pure Milk Company. The little fellow was coming down East avenue in a Toddy wagon and was passing an alley when the rig came out and ran over him. He tried to get out of the way, according to some of his friends who were near at the time, but the horse hit the wagon and knocked him over into the road and the wagon ran over his chest and crushed his lungs. He was rushed to the hospital, but life was extinct when he reached the institution."

We Mean It

Expression of a wish for a Happy and Prosperous New Year is conventional, and at this season comes "trippingly on the tongue." To wish is one thing, and to wish and work for the thing wished for is another. Psychological analysts sometimes submit the proposition that charity, helpfulness, benevolence—all such virtues are but forms of selfishness—that is to say, in the application of these virtues self overshadows the object of the action. But without arguing about these sentiments of motives more or less obscure, the Record has a very ardent wish that not alone you, dear reader, shall have a Happy and Prosperous New Year, but that all the world and his kind and children shall have the same blessing—and only wishes it, but has its own off and is working for it, for better times, better ways, and greater happiness—romantic of course, but bromids with pep.

Surrendered

The bachelor's wavering ranks have unconsciously allowed the escape of another deserter in the person of J. S. Parsons, the popular young man of the Union Bank, Jarvis, and a son of J. J. and Mrs. Parsons of Walpole, who fled across to the unconquering dominions of the beneficiaries. His bachelor's chivalry gave way under the persistent rain of Cupid's well directed arrows, and when the fairy conjurer of hearts evoked the flag of truce, Mr. Parsons capitulated to the charms of Miss Ethel Lumley of Niagara Falls. The pleasing event was solemnized on Tuesday, Dec. 31st, 1912, in Christ Church, Niagara Falls, Rev. Guy Gordon officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Parsons arrived in town Wednesday evening and are settling down to the domestic duties of life, occupying the home recently vacated by Mrs. Hoover. The Record joins with the host of friends in wishing this estimable couple all the happiness and prosperity that this old world affords.

Silver Wedding

(Intended for last week)

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Tietz, Springvale, was the scene of a very pleasant and happy event on the 25th anniversary of their wedding. Some thirty guests were present in all from the different points, Bedford, Wilsonville, East Okland, Tyrrell, Lyndoch, Nober, also Oak and Mrs. Caldwell from Hagersville. After receiving congratulations from friends and relatives, the wedding march was played by Miss Grace Cook, and the guests were summoned to the dining room
