The Physician

Our back or will be warts, or more, or night.

To homes of luxury, or low-thatched cot, Neath smiling suns, or when the frore winds wite,—

While oft the charms of leisure are forgot One task is his—unto the human lot, By countless ill begirt, to bring his aid, As doth a gardener, who ride his plot Of noxious pests that lurk within the shade.

A shadowed brow tells how his cares are weighted, Lest fell disease should o'er his skill prevail;

But when its deadly ravages are stayed, And health plants roses on the cheeks long pale,

Reward is his beyond mere earthly good, As he beholds the tears of gratitude.

The County Council is in session to-day.

Nothing breaks a man up like being broke.

Don't do as others do but what you know is right.

Bring up your child in the way you should have gone.

There is no disgrace in failing if you have done your best.

It isn't the best Christian who sings the loudest in church.

A girl is not like a tree; you cannot tell how old she is by her rings.

Good disc gramophone for sale. Chas. Newell, care of C. E. Bourne, Esq.

If you wish to rise with the sun, do not sit up too late with the daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Phillips and son of Moberly, Mo., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Thos. Eaid.

For some reason or other the habit of wearing fur gauntlets has died out in Jarvis. Umbrellas are more fashionable.

How oft the maid who "cannot eat" enough to serve a fly, comes home and reaches for a hunk of sturdy apple pie!

Thos. Cooper and Mrs. Emily Xager of Selkirk and Wm. Moulton of Clear Creek spent Friday last at the home of Mrs. Thos. Eaid.

The mosquito is not a large animal, but it can display considerable energy in its career of buzz and bite, when it "bubbling venom flings"

The farmer must not be surprised at having to pay higher wages. About everybody else in the country has to pay more to get along these days.

Farmers should take a leaf out of the manufacturers' books and object to butter importation. The way to do it is to produce enough for our home use.

Harper's Weekly dilates upon the physical decadence due to the lying in bed. But so few of us are able to prove its contention, or otherwise, that it's hardly worth while bothering about.

Wife—"Why, George, whatever in the world are you trying to do?" Husband—"Putting this cover on my umbrella, of course." Wife—"That isn't an umbrella cover. It's my new black silk skirt."

Among other demands, by the Jewish Writers' union in New York, is one for a five-hour workday. Those newspaper pencil-pushers are certainly willing to contribute their mite toward hastening the millennium.

The popular demand for bargain days should never extend to insurance. The sooner all fraternal societies put their rates where ample funds will be supplied to meet all the demands, the better for all concerned.

In some streets of Pittsburg people are going about in boats, and in Cincinnati a tall building collapsed its foundations having been sapped by the high waters. With all its faults Jarvis is a pretty safe place to live in.

The boy who applies for a job may have to answer many questions, but there are four that no prospective employer will ask him. They are these: "Are you a skillful smoker?" "Do you play cards well?" "Can you handle a billiard cue dexterously?" "What is your favorite cocktail."

One man in a hundred reads a book; ninety-nine in a hundred read a newspaper. Nearly a century ago, when the press, which is now a spreading oak, was in its green twig, Thomas Jefferson said he would rather live in a country with newspapers and without government than in a country with a government and without newspapers. At the beginning of 1913 resolve to at least say a good word for your home paper.

Why is it that if a newspaper praises a man he takes it as a matter of course—as his just desert; whereas if there be criticism instead of praise, the criticism is unfair or inspired by some personal motive. It is hard to answer these questions? unless—we attribute it merely to human nature—a man taking unto himself as a matter of fact all the good things and resenting bitterly all the bad truths, even though they be truths.

Wouldn't this January thaw freeze you?

The hot cross bun is again heading this way.

Mrs. T. E. Morrow has recovered from her recent illness.

Dr. and Mrs. Jaques has been spending a couple of days this week in Hamilton and Toronto.

The farmers must have the creeks pretty well filled this time.

May "your peck of troubles" for 1913 be of very scant measure.

How is the Sunday school attendance keeping up since the Christmas tree celebration?

Mrs. James Harris of Hamilton was a guest at J. A. Burwash's for a couple of days last week.

Ball gowns with suspenders are the newest fad. Some night we may see one fastened with a two-inch nail.

John Butcher received word Monday that his brother Jim was seriously ill at Akron, Michigan.

Mrs. (Dr.) Kennedy of Detroit was a visitor with her friend, Mrs. J. A. Burwash, on Friday and Saturday last.

It is about time for the pessimist to issue his annual announcement regarding the mournful outlook for the peach crop.

A stubborn, obstinate man is the easiest one to handle. Just push him in the opposite direction you want him to go.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. Wm. Buntin is recovering from her recent accident, she having fallen a few days ago breaking several ribs.

If the baby is too little to hold playthings, fasten them by a string suspended above him in such a position that they will not get out of reach.

Miss Lottie Eaid, who was laid off duty several days last week owing to illness, has recovered and returned to her duties at The White House.

Regret will be felt throughout the Province at the death of Bishop O'Connor, of Peterboro. The dead prelate was a most estimable man and highly revered by all who knew him.

Doctors may consider their fees too low, but it will be difficult to get patients to coincide with their views, especially when the ever increasing number of surgical cases are considered.

Oats heated in a frying pan until very very hot, then put quickly into a warmed flannel bag will greatly relieve cramps, headache, etc. It is light and retains heat. The top must be securely tied.

An Ontario county woman complained the other day that she could get only 45 cents per dozen for new laid eggs. The man who bought them retail after that is the one who has a complaint to make.

Did you ever try helping out your enemy when he is in a tight place? Do a kind favor some propitious time to your nearest neighbor. Such things have made very amiable people out of crabbed ones.

To mend broken china, melt common alum in an old iron spoon over the fire, then apply to the pieces of china or glass. When dry these articles can be washed in hot water and the cement will not melt.

MARRIED—In the Methodist church, Port Dover, on Tuesday, Jan. 21st, 1913 by Rev. J. Culp, Joseph Jaques, to Miss Marion Elizabeth (Minnie) Gerrard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gerrard, both of Port Dover.

Ontario is the poorer in the untimely passing of Col. Matheson, provincial treasurer. Faithful to a degree in filling his high station, he was also a man of irreproachable integrity and of lovable social qualities. Happy the state that has ever such sons its command.

A London boy was severely burned because he attempted to pour kerosene on a fire, hoping to make it burn better. The man who rocks the boat, the hunter who drags the rifle by its barrel through a fence, and the woman who uses kerosene upon a fire represent surely a fast disappearing type of human recklessness.

A home builder in California hit upon a charming idea when he caused his little son to make the impression of his hands in the wet cement of the walk before his door. Although the imprint was made in 1887, the outlines of the little hands are perfectly clear and will remain as a dainty souvenir of the boy's play days. It is just such touches of sentiment as this that make the difference between a house and a home.

Boys—and men too—sometimes think that to be successful in politics a man must at least smoke, in order to be "hail fellow-well-met" with all sorts and conditions of men. But here is President-elect Wilson announcing that he has smoked only one cigar. When a boy he was asked by his mother, with artful intent no doubt, to blow tobacco smoke over her rose bushes to kill the insects. The insects died; the boy recovered, but said "never again!"

Miss S. Hind is visiting relatives in Caledonia.

Mrs. Rose Burnham of Delhi is visiting her mother Mrs. Ward.

No doubt the Easter bonnets and the spring openings will reach here about the same time.

Still, I shouldn't worry about the ice crop. It seldom fails. There is no weevil or bug to bite it.

Mrs. Wood of Toronto spent from Friday until Monday with her brother, Rev. Arthur Clare Eddy.

James Telford of Hamilton spent over Sunday with his brother, R. R. Telford of the Bank of Hamilton.

Dr. Minnie MacDonald of Hagersville was unfortunate this week, her favorite horse Jack having sustained a broken leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Parkinson have been spending several days with their daughter, Mrs. James Pollock at Thamesville.

You pay a lot of money in lodge dues in the course of a year. Are you satisfied that you are to get your money's worth back?

T. E. Morrow has turned his street butcher business over to Harris and Priest and will hereafter be found further down the street.

Several cases of track jumping by Canadian engines have been reported since the new year. Such friskiness will not tend to soothe the nerves of timid passengers.

Pork Fruit Cake is the title of a new recipe. As fruit is luscious and refreshing, we opine that pork is a pickled pigs feet. But how can you make a cake out of 'em.

Stan Effinger and Fred Harrison who journeyed south to Florida a few weeks ago in search of their fortune, returned home a few days ago and think Canada good enough.

It is said to spoil a cow, yell at her and pound her with the milking stool; and the way to spoil a wife is to frown and scowl at her and never give her a cent of money.

A rabies outbreak at St. Thomas is being investigated and the community is cleft in twain, the dog owners and non-dog owners looking on one another with mutual distrust.

To prohibit the turkey-trot and bunny-hug, the faculty of Wellesley college, Wellesley, Mass., has ordered that no girl shall allow any man to hold her closer to him than three inches.

Hookworm, or constitutional laziness, is one of the uses to which the $100,000,000 of the Rockefeller foundation will be put, in combating its ravages. Sounds big, but it's a mere drop in the bucket.

Cutters! Cutters! I have a few cutters on hand which I will sell at a very much reduced price as I have no room to store them for the summer. It will pay you to buy this winter.—W. E. Sowter.

The Annual Convention of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance will meet in Massey Music Hall, Corner of Shuter and Victoria Street, Toronto, on Wednesday and Thursday, February 26th and 27th, 1913.

We thank our many correspondents for their nice fat budgets they contributed this week. Let the good work continue. We would be pleased to get good live correspondents at Nanticoke, Garnet, Erie and Chesapeake. We furnish all material.

The real harm in divorce lies in the injury it inflicts upon childhood, an injury which would be far greater in extent, we fear, if it were not true that out of consideration for their own children many men and women are making the best out of what has proved in their case to be an unfortunate match.

Woman's true mission, said a well-known writer, is to comfort the sorrowing, plead for the erring, encourage the faint of purpose, succor the distressed, uplift the fallen, befriend the friendless—in a word, offer the healing of her sympathies and a home in her heart, for all the bruised and persecuted children of fortune that knock at her hospitable door.

In an effort to reduce the cost of living a grocery store in a western town has fixed two prices on its goods, one price if delivered and another price if not delivered. The idea is to save the consumer the cost of upkeep of an elaborate delivery service. It is said that a store which delivered nothing whatever would be able to offer very material discounts. But the people here would have to be educated to carry home their parcels.

All stores and all merchandise look alike to the average purchaser until he is told different. The advertiser gets first attention because he asks for it, because he stands out from others in the same line. And because the public is accustomed to reading advertising, and to buying advertised goods in preference to the others, the merchant who gets what he has to sell, gets the business. Advertising in The Record obtains quick response, and secures a constant, permanent, and profitable home market.

DIED—In Clear Creek, on Monday, Jan. 20th, Ellen, beloved wife of William Moulton, aged 69 years. Deceased was a sister of Mrs. Thos. Eaid of this town.

Wednesday is undoubtedly a bad day to commit bigamy or launch real estate frauds. This decision of a prisoner recently sent to Kingston will scarcely be questioned.

More crocodile tears are shed over one rich man's son going astray than over a thousand daughters of the workers being forced to the streets by the black-hearted system of money-grabbers.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Burkhart entertained a number of intimate friends to a card party on Thursday evening. All report a very pleasant time. A very tasty and delicious lunch was served before the guests departed for their homes.

Students of the calendar have noted that during this present year, 1913, only one Friday, the 13th, is to occur. That is away off in June. Last year, which contained nothing of a superstitious character in the line-up of its figures, there were two Fridays, the thirteenth—in September and December.

Before Christmas a report circulated in Toronto that someone had predicted that the walls or floor of a department store would collapse on a certain day, and that many people would be injured. The prophecy has been fulfilled, for in Texas 30 people were killed by the falling of the walls of a store on Thursday.

A number of the youth and beauty were entertained at the home of J. S. and Mrs. Burwash on Wednesday evening last. The young people spent the evening in cards, interspersed with music, and after partaking of a delicate and dainty lunch all repaired to their respective homes, after voting that the host and hostess knew how to entertain and that right royally.

Hungry man stole a bottle of milk. Police buried him in a patrol wagon and rushed him to a cell in a lousy police station. A plute's wife stole spoons from a fashionable hostelry. Hotel detective approached and after bowing and begging her pardon two or three times hinted that the hotel management would be very pleased if she returned the "souvenirs" she had borrowed. The worker's misdeeds are cried aloud to all the world, but the soft pedal for the plutes.

A New York woman who has been making some enquiries relating to income and marriage finds the consensus among friends to be that a girl would be unwise to marry on an income less than $10,000 a year. More than half the families of the United States are living on less than $600 a year. The outside world will be curious to know whether the publishing of the consensus mentioned will cause a great increase in the average income or a great decrease in marrying; or neither.

After school hours is the parents' time for lending a hand in the training of their children and that time should not be taken up with duties that are specially connected with the school. The giving of home work is practically an admission of failure on the part of the teacher to adequately fulfil his or her duties during the regular school hours. Home work should be cut out altogether and the school duties restricted to the school in so far as at least as those duties are compulsory.

IMPORTANT EVENT

Opening of first February Sale in the big Store. See Supplement in to-day's paper for particulars.

Fiftieth Anniversary

The following was taken from the Mason City, (Ohio) Globe Gazette and will be of interest to many of our readers.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Bird celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary, Monday Dec. 29, 1912. It came as a surprise to them, as their children made all plans for the celebration. Mr. Bird was born twenty miles from Toronto in the year 1838 and Mrs. Bird was born in England May 4th, 1842. They were married in Port Dover, Canada, fifty years ago and lived there for four years, then they moved to Wisconsin, where they lived 9 years. Thirty two years ago they moved to a farm southeast of Sheffield, where they have resided, being among the most respected citizens. A beautiful dinner was served at the noon hour. Mr. and Mrs. Bird had six children, five of whom are living and all were present except one, Mrs. Welland of Ortonville, Minn., who was unable to come, but sent the wedding cake and a beautiful gold clock to the father and a gold thimble to her mother. A social time was enjoyed by all present." Mrs. Bird is a sister of Robert and Leo Reynolds of this town.

J. J. Parsons Elected Warden

The new County Council for Haldimand for the ensuing year met at Cayuga Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 28th. The election of Warden was the important order of business, the unanimous choice falling on the popular Reeve of Walpole, John J. Parsons. The new Warden is a native of Walpole Township, is a Methodist in religion and a staunch Reformer. He has had a municipal experience, having served in the Township council for five or six years, and during the greater part of that time has been a member of the County Council. We congratulate Mr. Parsons on the election of the Wardenship, a position he so richly deserves, and we are only voicing the sentiments of the entire county when we say, "The right man in the right place."

Not Forgotten

At the morning service on Sunday Rev. J. R. Ross paid a most fitting tribute to the memory of the late Archdeacon Bell, late rector of St. Paul's church, Jarvis, whose death occurred on Monday, January 29th, 1912. He referred to the life of the late rector as a period filled with lasting love for his flock and his works as lasting monuments and imperishable records of a noble career. His lovable and benevolent disposition, his willingness to relieve distress among the people of his parish, endeared him to them and the memory of his noble life will be held dear by the entire congregation of St. Paul's church, who, we understand, intend placing a memorial in the church to his memory.
