Little Helps

If any little word of mine
May make a life the brighter;
If any little song of mine
May make a heart the lighter—
God help me speak the little word
And take my bit of singing.
And drop it in some lonely vale,
To set the echoes ringing.
If any little love of mine
May make a life the sweeter
If any little care of mine
May make a friend the feeter;
If any little lift of mine may raise
The burden of another—
God give me love, and care, and strength,
To help my totting brother.

Why should the farmer with a comfortable home and business of his own, envy the man who may any day have to be seeking a job, and who never knows when he may have to vacate the home he occupies because of possible inability to meet the rent?

"A good wife"—how much happiness is contained in those three short words. Her power for good is perfectly irresistible. It does not matter how energetic or industrious a man may be, with a careless or spendthrift wife his best efforts are vain.

The hair is not to be parted; it is to be dressed high on the head, and any amount of jeweled hairpins and hair ornaments is permissible in the coiffure. This was the fateful decision made here at the annual hair-dressing demonstration held at the Criterion Restaurant by the best European hairdressers assembled to settle the vexed question of how the smart women must have their hair dressed during the present season.

Business men in Dayton, Ohio began on May 19th to raise a fund of $2,000,000 for public works to protect the city from future floods. The fund was completed on Sunday evening, May 25th, when the National Cash Register Company, which earlier in the week subscribed $250,000, agreed to double its gift. So fully do the men of the city realize the importance of the work that several instances workmen are said to have mortgaged their homes to raise money for their contribution.

The merchant encourages us all ways to buy a good article in preference to that which may be cheapest—his right, without doubt, but how often he fails to learn this lesson himself—especially is this noticeable in stationery—some envelopes which reaches us through the mail are a disgrace to the sender. We wonder if the merchant always understands that his business is measured oftentimes by the class of stationery he sends out—yes even the paper in the bills he renders—we venture to say that there is nothing which points out a business man's carelessness and general make up more plainly than the quality and style of the stationery he uses. It advertises his standard—it announces clearly to the public what class of goods they expect at the store. If the merchant sends out a wishy wasky rag of a letterhead, envelope, invoice or statement, the public may reasonably expect the same quality and cheapness in the merchant's stock of goods. Just think over your business firms you are acquainted with and notice the quality of their stationery. And Mr. Business-man, think this over too and see that you do not suffer for proper attention to this sometimes neglected but very necessary detail.

Church Notes

METHODIST CHURCH

Misses Burnham and Effie Mattice contributed a fast at the Wednesday evening service.

A delightful evening was spent under the auspices of the Adult Bible Class on Friday of last week. The organized class of the Garnet Sunday School were welcome guests and contributed largely to the success of the gathering. The program was presided by prayer offered by Wm. Machell, the S. S. superintendent. Interesting and helpful addresses were given by W. J. Robertson and Richard Parkinson; reading and recitations by Mrs. Chas. Walter, Misses Marion Davidson and Hattie Miel and Messrs Ainsley Jackson, Guy Parkinson and W. J. Robertson. The musical part of the evening's exercises was well sustained by the Garnet Choir which has an enviable reputation and Mr. Herman Miel, soloist. In the absence of the President of the church, Mr. T. J. Hicks, the chair was occupied by the Pastor. A tasty luncheon was served at the conclusion of the program.

At the Sunday Morning Service the Pastor referred to various phases of the Conference recently held in Hamilton. A large congregation greeted him.

Topic for to-night's meeting "Japan's Preparation for Christianity." Miss Pearl Roberts will have charge of the scripture reading. Miss Johnson will lead the discussion and Miss Hind contribute a reading. The monthly offering for Missions will be received.

Tuesday, June 24th is the date decided upon by the Ladies Aid for their annual Strawberry Festival. A Refreshment Booth, Bazaar Booth and an excellent program will be features of the gathering.

KNOX CHURCH

There will no service next Sunday on account of the Jubilee Services at Stone Church. It has been arranged that Rev. Mr. McRobie of Petrolia will conduct the service at Stone Church in the morning, Rev. D. M. Buchanan in the afternoon and possibly in the evening also. A number from this congregation hope to be able to attend the services.

At the Young People's Guild Meeting last week interesting papers were read by Mr. J. Davidson and Mr. Bert Falls on "Bible Study," "The Overlet," "All for Jesus" was ably rendered by Messrs. J. A. and Bert Falls and Miss Falls and Mr. A. Miller.

The subject for this week's Meeting is "Peace."

Last Sunday there were good congregations at both morning and evening services. Mr. McCrimmon gave very comprehensive and interesting addresses on "The Presbyterian Congress" at both services. In the morning Miss Lillian Allen sang "Heaven is my Home."

The June Meeting of the W. F. M. S. proved most interesting and inspiring. At the close of the devotional exercises Miss Lillian Allen rendered a solo and Mr. John Smith read some appropriate verses on "giving a lift to those we meet." The Misses Marion and Effie Davidson sang a duet and then followed an enthusiastic report by Mrs. McCrimmon on the great Missionary Congress in Toronto being held in conjunction with the Presbyterian General Assembly and Convention of the W. F. M. S. and W. I. M. S. of the Dominion of Canada.

In the vast assemblage of earnest men and women from all parts of the Dominion and some of our foreign lands, testified to the intense interest being taken in the work of Christ's Kingdom in the World. The enthusiasm and uplift received from those meetings is sending many a discouraged worker back to his field with renewed consecration vows and a stronger faith in the victory of the Cross. The great audiences were thrilled from day to day when such men as the grand old veteran missionary, Murdoch McKenzie made his significant appeal for China. The young man Wright told of the terrible fight with the powers of evil in the far north and Burtis telling of the presence in Assembly of twenty Rumanian Ministers applying for the status of the ordained minister of the Presbyterian Church. Ralph Connor giving a graphic account of social conditions in Winnipeg and many others with their reports of various departments of church organization. The men's meetings of women held in the interests of Home and Foreign Missions were most inspiring.

The Memorial Service held for the late Dr. Marion Oliver who was to have addressed the Convention was very beautiful. Dr. Oliver had spent 23 years in Central India as a Medical Missionary. After Mrs. McCrimmon's report the Meeting was closed with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer, and a very pleasant social half-hour was spent when light refreshments were served.

The History of a Loaf of Bread.

(By Foster Eddy)

I was first in a big field with a lot of my companions. We grew there and were very happy. But one sad day I was cut down by a big machine and tied with cord with some others and now I said "I am going on my travels." Next we were taken into a dark place till morning and then we were taken on a wagon and taken into a mill where there was a great noise. Then we were put through a lot of things which hurt very much and then I was very white and much altered. I was then taken to a big shop where men were working. I was actually put in a tin pan and baked and no one knows how much it hurt, after that I suspect I was good to eat as I was put on a glass counter and a lady came in and chose me. She was very thoughtful and wrapped me up in paper, and I went to a house where I was put in a bread-box and they forgot about me after a while and didn't come near me for two whole weeks. At last I was found and the lady said I was stale. Then she said she would make me into toast as that was all that could be done with me. Then I was put on a stove where it was very hot and I got very brown, this hurt me somewhat, and before long I got cut into pieces which hurt me a good deal more. Then I was put on a table and was then put on a plate. There were peaches, cream potatoes, meat, pudding, pie and many more things that I didn't know the names of and the lady came to me and tortured slowly to death by biting me.

Senator McCall Honored by Friends

During Senator McCall's absence in Ottawa last week, the townspeople thinking his home coming would be a splendid opportunity of assuring him of their gratitude at his elevation to the Senate of Canada planned a reception for Saturday evening, May 31st. The affair was participated by the people in general, and was not partisan, all shades of political belief being concerned. A committee, consisting of Messrs Hugh P. Innes, W. E. Tisdale and Wm. Sutton had the preparations more particularly in charge. An address was drawn up and the owners of motors were asked to take part in the procession. At 8:30 about thirty-five motorists left the Court House Square for the Air-Line Station to meet Senator McCall who was returning from Ottawa on the nine o'clock G. T. R. Express. The 39th Regimental Band formed part of the parade, and the cars lavishly decorated with bunting and flags. Greeted by the music of the band and the cheering of the train, Senator McCall was escorted to his place and conducted to Lynwood Park by way of the business streets, which were crowded by spectators. A number of the prominent men of the town filled the band-stand, and Mr. P. Innes introduced the new senator to the large assemblage. The reading of the address followed, this pleasant duty having fallen to Mayor Gibson. Much moved by this expression of esteem, Senator McCall made a reply, voicing his appreciation. Simcoe Reformer.

Ottawa May 31.—An announcement by the postmaster-general that he intends to increase the salaries and conditions of payment of letter carriers that he would at once give notice of the necessary bill was the most important feature of a whole afternoon's discussion of post office affairs. Hon. Mr. Pelletier intimated that he would do something also for the railway mail clerks and the older employees and that he had also plans in mind for bettering the salaries of postmasters, some of whom in rural districts of the West receive but $35 a year for their services.

Like his father, King George has taken his place on the side of peace, and like his noble grandmother, Queen Mary has set an example to the whole world in her open declarations against drink and gambling. It is a royal combination, this King and Queen of all the British. A discolored bean pot may be restored to its original whiteness by letting buttermilk stand in it for a day or so.
