TAKE PLENTY OF TIME TO EAT.

There is a saying that "rapid eating is slow suicide." If you have formed the habit of eating too rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation, which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated.

Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many cases of stomach troubles and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Sold by ALL DEALERS

Investigating Railroad Accidents

A careful study of all accidents, no matter what their nature, has been made by the Pennsylvania Railroad, during the past year, and it has been found that probably 75 per cent of them could have been prevented if the employees had exercised special caution. This has led to the publication of a booklet entitled "Safety Hints and Suggestions for the Prevention of Personal Injury Accidents," by which it is hoped to educate the employees to a disposition to be careful, and to develop in each individual a sense of personal responsibility, not only for his own safety, but for his fellow employees as well.

Planning Your Future

THE young man who expects to make a success of his business life must save a part of his wages. The owner of a bank account is looked up to and respected by his fellow men and is also in a position to grasp many opportunities that are denied to the man who has nothing. Acquire the saving habit, and you have taken the first step toward future success. You can open up an account in the bank with one dollar, and interest at the highest current rate will be credited every six months.

Don't look for trouble unless you know what to do with it when you find it.

For Such Is Life

It is said that we owe it to the kickers that the world is such a good place to live in, but, according to the kickers themselves, it is not a good place to live in at all. Nor will the habit of chronic fault-finding; make it much better. The grumbler is not more gifted with prescience than the man who uncomplainingly takes life as he finds it, and even when the grumbler's loud complaints have succeeded in abating one nuisance he cannot for see what other difficulties will spring up in its place. A man ought not to have lived long in this country or anywhere else on earth before making the discovery that every day he is likely to encounter sights and sounds and people who are disagreeable to him. He ought to make up his mind that there are certain conditions governing life on this planet, and that daily disappointments and annoyances are among them. The wise man is he who realizes this, and who does his best to make life a little better by words of cheerfulness and encouragement, and sometimes by silence.

Forestry Association Activities

The people of Manitoba and the other prairie provinces will have at the meeting of the Canadian Forestry Association to be held in Winnipeg on the 7th, 8th and 9th of July an, opportunity of seeing in concrete form examples of the woods which forms the bulk of the timber wealth of the central west, as there will be a collection of woods made in the course of the last year by the officers of the Dominion Forest Service. There will also be an exhibit of insects prepared especially for the forestry convention by the entomology experts of the Department of Agriculture. It is expected that this announcement, made by Mr. James Lawler, Secretary of the Association, just before leaving the city of Winnipeg to make final arrangements for the meeting, will attract a large number of people in addition to the many who have already signified their intention of attending. The movement for forest conservation is reported to be progressing rapidly in all parts of the West, particularly in Manitoba and in Alberta, where it is found that the forest areas can be made productive of a much greater amount of wood than was heretofore thought possible. It is said that a distinct advance in the forest policy of the West is not an unlikely outcome of the Winnipeg Convention.

Gossip never dies from lack of circulation.

Women Who Cannot Earn Their Living

"Every girl in the world, whether she is a millionaire or a pauper; should be taught some trade or profession so thoroughly that she could support herself by practicing it if the necessity ever arose." So says Dorothy Dix, the well-known writer on questions specially relating to women. She goes on to say that fathers and mothers excuse their negligence in this matter by saying that Mamie and Susie will get married, so what is the use in spending money in teaching her a business that she will never follow? They speak as if marriage insured a woman against any possibility of want or poverty. Yet they see all about them dozens of married women who have to support sick or trifling husbands, or whose husbands die and leave them widows with a house full of children to be provided for. No education is lost. No woman can know too much. The millionaire will administer her affairs the better for having graduated as an expert book-keeper. The woman of fashion will be all the better for understanding law and medicine. But if there are those parents who object to spending money on a girl's education for something she may possibly not require at the moment, there remains the purely feminine trades of cooking, sewing, nursing, etc., that they may be taught. All of these every woman needs to know, and if at any of these she can make a living if she has taken a thorough course in them."

Why Some Women Grow Old

On reason why the average woman wears out, grows old and plain before her husband, is that, through a mistaken idea of duty, she lays out for herself at the beginning of her married life a scheme or plan of duty and employment for time, every hour filled with work, with rare and short periods of relaxation. This she follows religiously for years, feeling that she has done her duty, because every household event, occurs regularly and on time, while she seems to become a machine, a thing without life of itself or violation. She soon settles into her rut and goes round and round on the same track, everlasting. Can any woman keep brightness and originality of thought and speech, or even mere prettiness with such a life, and without these things how can she keep her children and husband full of loving admiration, which is the strongest chain by which she can bind them to her? How bright and jolly the neighbor's wife seems when she calls. In nine cases out of ten it is because the surroundings and talk of your home are variety to her and rouse her to originality and brightness of speech. In her own rut she may be as dull as dishwater.

Human Barometers

Much has been written on the relations between weather and disease, and in medical literature there is no lack of carefully drawn curves showing the varying prevalence of particular disease, the rise and fall of mortality, etc., side by side with others indicating the march of one or more of the meteorological elements. There is however, one phase of this subject that has been strikingly neglected. Many human beings are notoriously sensitive not merely to the weather of to-day, but also to the weather of to-morrow. Asthmatic, rheumatic and neuralgic patients need no barometer or weather map to tell them when bad weather is approaching. Old wounds give trouble at such a time, and members long since amputated reassert their power to cause pain. These phenomena are so well known that it would be sheer fatuity in any scientific man to deny them, yet strangely enough they have been the subject of very little systematic investigation. A special case of this general head is the extreme sensitiveness of some persons to the approach of thunderstorms. The pathological condition experienced by such persons before thunder storms must not be confused with ordinary dread of thunder and lightning. In fact this condition often comes on before there are any ordinary inclinations of the storm's approach; and the symptoms commonly subside before the storm is over. Attention was called to this condition some years ago by Dr. G. N. Beard, in Beard's and Rockwell's "Medical and Surgical Electricity," and it was given the name of "astrophobia." Cases of its occurrence are, however, familiar to almost everybody. The symptoms of the complaint seem to include all kinds of nervous manifestations, going on quite often to extreme nausea and physical prostration. However, these questions remain obscure. There is an excellent opportunity here for some original work.

A man cannot do two things at a time. A woman will broil a steak and see that the coffee does not boil over, and watch the cat that she does not steal the remnant of meat on the kitchen table, and dress the youngest boy and set the table and see to the toast, and stir the oatmeal, give the orders to the butcher and she can do it all at once and not half try.

Food for reflection is never very fattening.
