Weddings

Butcher-Rough
On Tuesday evening, June 10, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Rough, 228, 15th Ave. N. E., a very pretty wedding was celebrated when their only daughter, Eleanor Mary, was united in marriage to Herbert James Butcher, of Calgary. The Rev. A. Torrie, performed the ceremony in the presence of about thirty-five immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride looked very charming in a beautiful gown of white chiffon over pale blue silk, and wore a wreath of orange blossoms, carrying a spray of bridal roses. The bride was given away by her father being attended by Miss Margaret Ingles while Mr. W. George Rough, brother of the bride, attended the groom. After the ceremony all sat down to the wedding table, which was prettily decorated with carnations and sweet peas. A large number of beautiful and useful presents were received. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Butcher will reside at 247, 19th Ave. N. W.—Calgary Daily Herald.

The foot that rocks the cradle is not the same one that is kicking for women's rights.

Every home should be a sunshine club and every member should be a full fledged solar system.

Two Irishmen recently died, one 119 and the other 120. The former smoked and the latter did not. See what an end smoking may bring you.

Charles Whitlaw, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Whitlaw, passed away on Friday last after a few weeks illness. He was taken ill with spinal meningitis and although an operation was performed by a specialist from Hamilton the little fellow continued to grow weaker and until end came. Charlie was a general favorite not only with his schoolmates and friends but also among the adults, owing to his bright, sunny disposition and an unflinching good nature. He was a regular attendant at both the Public School and the Methodist Sunday School, enjoying the love and esteem of the teachers. The funeral on Saturday last was largely attended, Rev. Caldwell officiating at both the house and the grave, interment being made in Hagersville Cemetery.—Hagersville News.

Every boy is going to have a confident, some one to whom he can tell his secrets and whisper his hopes and ambitions which he would not breathe to others, says Orison Swett Marden in "Success Magazine." We take it for granted that his mother will stand nearer to him than any other person, but every boy will have some male friend who will stand in a peculiar relation to him. This friend, this confident, should be his father. You cannot afford to have your boy feel that you are too busy or too indifferent to tell him how to fly his kite or bait his hook or make a toy or to play games with him. If you begin early enough, it is comparatively easy for you to gain your boy's confidence. From infancy he should grow up to feel that no one else can take your place; that you stand in a peculiar relation to him, which no one else can fill.

Magazine Run Co-operatively.

Co-operative principles are gaining ground in England to such an extent that they have spread to literary men. The Blue Review, in announcing its first number, says that it marks a new development in the management of English literary magazines. It will be conducted on co-operative principles, similar to those so successfully adopted in the case of certain French reviews, notably Le Mercure de France.

Writers of the younger generation have bound themselves to contribute regularly to The Blue Review without payment for nine months, at the end of which the profit-sharing scheme comes into operation.

Under this scheme all the profits after the deduction of the working expenses, will be divided among the contributors.

Cleaning the Statues.

London's dirty statues have long been a standing joke, but surely the filthiest of them all was Nelson's monument in Trafalgar Square, which workmen have recently been cleaning. This statue has not been cleaned for forty-five years, and no less than twenty tons of accumulations from the platform and statue at the top of the column were removed. The dirt on Nelson's hat alone weighed half a ton. Thus do we neglect our national heroes.

Swarms of Bees.

A swarm of bees contains from 10,000 to 20,000 in a natural state; in a hive, from 30,000 to 40,000 bees.

Church Notes

METHODIST CHURCH

"Gideon" proved a very interesting topic last Wednesday evening. Mr. Hicks gave a very practical and interesting address, Miss Hind a reading, Mr. Robertson contributed a solo and Wesley Oliver, who with his family, has returned from Windmere, also took part in the service.

The children's service on Sunday morning was well attended by the girls and boys. A baptismal service was also held. In the evening Miss Lizzie Macchell contributed a solo which was appropriate for the pastor's topic "Drifting," and was well rendered.

Topic for this evening's service "Our Warfare", 1 Tim. 6:11-16. A cordial invitation is extended.

Rev. James I. Foote of Fonthill expects to arrive in Jarvis on Wednesday, July 2nd. He will preach on Sunday, July 6th. It is hoped that a large number will be present to encourage him as he assumes his new pastorate.

KNOX CHURCH

The Young People's Guild met on Monday evening of this week. After the Devotional exercises Mr. MacCrimmon gave an interesting talk on the subject for the evening, "The Foreigner in Canada. At the business meeting held at the close of the hour a vote was taken as to whether the meetings should be continued during the summer months or not. It was unanimously decided in the affirmative.

An illustrated lecture on "Mission Work on our Inland Waters," will be given this evening in the church at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Upper Canada Tract Society by Mr. Ranson. This is to be a Union Meeting of all the churches of the village.

The Preparatory Services on Friday evening at 7:30 will be conducted by the Rev. Neil MacKinnon of Caledonia.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed in connection with the morning services next Sabbath. In the evening King Solomon Lodge, No. 329, A. F. & A. M. and visiting brethren will attend Divine Service when they will be addressed by the Pastor, Rev. J. R. MacCrimmon, M. A.

Calgary, Alta, June 24.—Alfred Evans, a young Englishman, was bitten by a mosquito several days ago, and died from blood poisoning this morning. The mosquito punctured the skin just between the eyes. Within 48 hours an abscess formed and the young man was taken to the isolation hospital, finally doing in intense agony.
