On Monday, February 17th, at "Crescent Bank," the home of James Andrews, was celebrated the eighty-fifth birthday of his mother, Mrs. Andrews, of Renton. The day being fine, guests to the number of forty-five, including children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, assembled to do honor to the occasion. After partaking of a sumptuous repast, the guests repaired to the lawn, where the photographer took the pictures of all present. Afterwards, they assembled in the dining-room and parlor where the remainder of the afternoon was spent in games and music. We are getting all we are sorry to state. We are getting plenty of the "beautiful" now. We thought March would bring it a little blustery. The Farmers' Club met last Thursday evening and the debate "Resolved that country life is preferable to city life" was very ably discussed by the debaters. After the discussion the judges decided in favor of the affirmative. The oyster supper for the club members and their wives or sweethearts will take place at Wm. Howard's this Thursday evening and a good time is expected. A week from Thursday a mock trial will be exhibited by members of the club instead of a debate. The thief, Jim Snowball, has been arrested and was given his preliminary hearing on Saturday evening and was remanded for trial on March 13th.
