Value Of Space

SPACE VALUE IN THE JAPVIS RECORD IS worth more to those wishing to reach the homes of Jarvis than by any other method or use. This journal goes into all the homes all the time. It is appreciated and READ BY HUNDREDS.

If you want to rent an office, home, etc., there is no better way than through these columns. Likewise the sale or attention of any article. It is true our rates are just a little higher than some other journals, but value counts. There is more value in Janvis advertising than the rate warrants.

Poor Fellow

A man entered a shop one bitter cold day, and bought a woollen muffler. When he opened the muffler he found inside it beheld it. It was very beautiful, and in and the glass does not break. a week he had fallen head over heels in love. So he wrote to the girl. Another week passed, a week of anxious, nerveracking suspense. Then the love-sick man received the crushing letter: "Sir, The Mary Smith to whom you wrote was my grandmother. She died nine years ago, aged 86. Yours truly." foolishly bought the muffler from a dealer who didn't advertise.

Under the new U. S. parcels post I'd ask if I could look over your bill law, a farmer residing on a rural route, desiring a steak for dinner, can order it by telephone from a dealer in the city or town in which his post office is located, and have it delivered for five cents. Or he can get it from any point within fifty miles for eight cents. No wonder the new law is looked upon fav orably. It is bound at no distant croquettes de pommes de terre, ris-Offer an opportunity for having day to tax the facilities of the postal

Not only has their daily life too the prisoner was rubbing his eyes, much slope, they have no interests -home interests, interests of father, mother, sisters, brothers—to arrest the daily flow of advertising, and use it to add to the comforts of home Simcee and the pleasure of life. Get Even With the Guests. Let us indicate briefly a few salient features of the new social institution, the aeroplane wedding, says a maga-

The scroplane wedding solves the problem of the getaway. When the happy couple depart in an airship their loving friends cannot scare the horses into running away and breaking the bride's neck. Nor is it possible for them to throw high enough to black the bridegroom's eyes with old shoes. The newly-wedded pair are, in fact, in a position to bombard the wedding guests if they so desire.

A five-pound boot dropped on wedding guest from a height of 250 feet ought to bring him a tremendous amount of good luck, according to the traditions of wedding festivity. An aeroplane honeymcon ought to be fascinating. Imagine sailing along all day without having to et and the bold, bad gaze of a patent leather drummer in the seat across the aisle. Fancy being too far up in the clouds to hear the ribald whistle of the young loafers at the railway station.

But airship honeymoons are sure to come to an end as the other out duplicates. kind. In a careless moment the bridegroom will say:

"You do very nicely at the levers, my dear, but your figure eights are nothing like mother used to make." A new form of wedding announce ment will have to be prepared for the ociety reporters, in part as follows: "Mr. and Mrs. Winger left immedistely after the ceremony for an extended aviation tour in France. If they return they will reside at 26 Laurel Road." Aeroplane marriages are highly dangerous perhaps, but all kinds are, for that matter.

Great Scientists Not College Men. It is a remarkable fact that neither Darwin, Pasteur, Koch, Newton, Franklin nor Edison ever had a university education. A writer adds to this list the name of Ehrlich, whose eminence in the field of medicine has so recently been emphasized.

"Paul Ehrlich," he says, "could not even graduate, and, horrors and horrors, in chemistry he was worst of all. He was always trying to do things differently from his teachers, who had never done an original thing and were merely teaching him what had been taught to them. He was considered a failure as a sudent at the very timeshe was the best student of his decade. If education is merely pouring facts into the pupil's skull with a funnel, as the majority of teachers practice it, then we are training the memory alone, but if it is to be a real drawing out of mental faculties then the graduate may be permitted to be as ignorant of old, useless facts as Ehrlich was and the world profit by it. Let us think a bit over this matter and then realize that we want workers and thinkers, not memorizers."

Now, Who Could Blame Him? X thin little woman who couldn't corner with a heavy baby in her arms. The rest of her stepladder family, ranging from three to seven, were grouped around her. She wanted to flag a motor bus, and a passer-by saw her difficulty. He hailed one, put the tribe aboard and paid the fares, as the tribe aboard and paid the fares, as the little woman's hands were so fully occupied with the fat baby. He was beginning to feel that glow over doing a decent thing decently when he heard a woman in the bus say: "Look at that great big man allowing his poor little wife to carry that big child!" Then he got sore.

Tumblers and Hot Water. Incredible as it may seem, a thin tumbler stands hot water better than a thick one. Glass is a poor conductor of heat, and when very hot water is poured into a thick tumbler the inner layers of the glass are soon heated to a much higher temperature than the outer ones. The higher temperature causes the inner layers to expand the photograph of a beautiful girl, to- greatly and to burst the out layers. gether with a note, saying: "If you are In the case of a thin tumbler the single, please write to me." Consequently, as all his sitting-room mantel. There, every parts expand equally and at the same evening, looking up from his book, he time, no excessive strain is produced

Was It Worth It? A lady had told a tramp that she would give him some food if he chopped up a pile of wood. Wishing to show that he was no mere loafer, he started work, but fifteen minutes later years ago, aged 86. Yours truly." Our heart.broken bachelor, on looking into this strange matter, found that he had foolishly bought the muffler from a dealer kindly. "No'm," he replied, mopping his prespiring brow-"no'm, I haven't. just thought, before doing any more, of fare!"
