

Shall I Buy a Spramotor Or an Ordinary Spraying Outfit?

That's the question—Your decision should be determined by what you expect the machine to do and how long you expect it to do it.

If you want a durable hand machine for the purpose of destroying weeds—spraying orchards potatoes and row crops—one that you can also paint with—you want a HAND SPRAMOTOR.

If you want a durable H.P. machine to do all these things besides spraying grain and doing the whitewashing, you want a H. P. SPRAMOTOR.

If you want a durable gasoline machine to do all these things in a bigger way, but mainly for orchard work and whitewashing, you want the MODEL "C" SPRAMOTOR.

The SPRAMOTOR in every class has demonstrated its superiority to all other spraying outfits and there's one built specifically for your needs.

Prices range from $6.00 to $350.00.

A Word of Advice for Young People

We are sure the following beautiful lines from Louise M. Alcott will be appreciated by the readers of this column. They were written especially for the younger members of the household, and when such a noble character as she speaks it is of great profit to listen and heed:

"Dear young men and maids, let one who in the capacity of teacher, nurse, friend or counsellor has been behind the scenes for fifty years assure you that the secret of success lies with ourselves as men and women now and in God's good time as the father's and the mother's in the coming generations. Boys, for such I love to call you, and such most of you are till five and twenty, set up a high standard and never tire of trying to reach it. Don't begin your day with a cigar and end it in a theatre, billiard room or club. Keep innocency, for in the end it shall profit thy soul much and open the way of heaven for thee. Never believe the pernicious saying that 'young men must sow wild oats.' 'Girls, don't be in a haste to wed.' Build up healthy bodies by good food, plenty of exercise and sleep. Learn all the household arts before you attempt to make a home. Above all select your friends with care. Avoid girls who live only for flirtation, fashion and enjoyment, and use the privilege all women may claim, to decline the acquaintance of young men whose eyes will not bear inspection by the innocent eyes of women. Set your standard high and live up to it, and the reward will come, here or hereafter, and in the form best suited to your needs.

Good Rich Milk

The critical consumer of milk may give a snap verdict on the basis of 'good rich milk' given him in the restaurant or at home, and may vaguely wonder what percentage of fat the milk is supposed to contain. Certain standards of richness are fixed by various countries, and by municipalities, while some purchasing companies and dealers also set a standard below which the milk must not fall.

The knowledge of the average test of the herd, interesting as it is, is not as valuable to the progressive dairyman as a knowledge of what each cow's milk tests. Whether it is 2.9, 3.4, 4.5, or 5.5 per cent of fat depends on various factors, and can only be ascertained after systematic sampling and testing. Such testing sometimes reveals curious facts. A pet cow whose 'good rich milk' was reserved for table use was recently discarded by a farmer when cow testing proved to his dismay that her milk was nearly the poorest in the herd. The average test of the herd is a vital matter to every dairyman whose milk is paid for at the cheese factory by the test; it is of decided importance to both creamery manager and patron when considering the by-product of skim milk for feeding, and the loaded wagon for the cream-hauler. For two lots each of 16,500 pounds of normal milk may contain either 500 or 900 pounds of fat; one lot would be scarcely the best for cheesemaking while the other would be 'good rich milk.'

Bitter experiences are sometimes productive of sweet results.

Dressmakers' Superstition

Opening an umbrella in a workshop is an infallible sign that the thoughtless one will soon receive notice, while the unfortunate girl who lets her scissors fall on their point is in danger of premature demise says the Paris 'Revue' in describing superstitions of the Parisian dressmakers. If a seamstress places a hair in the hem of a garment she is making she will soon be the lucky possessor of a similar garment herself. A work girl who uses two needles for the same piece of work is certain to be married sooner or later, while the dress maker who has patience enough to lay aside two hundred small pins will soon find a fiance. The little milliner is just as superstitious as 'hat fall twice, it is almost certain to find a customer, while if she moistens the inside of her crown with the tip of her tongue the purchaser is certain to be delighted with it. A milliner who is unfortunate enough to hit on a bridal hat and veil is condemned to lonely spinsterhood for the rest of her days. Meeting two priests together is, for some inexplicable reason, a sign of a week's bad luck; nothing, of course could induce a workgirl to start in a new place on Friday. Singing a hymn while working is a sure sign of the thing most feared by the industrious millinettes and that is long and enforced idleness. The 'dead season' as they call it, is their nightmare.

Engraving Best For Children's Eyesight

The British Association has made a report on 'The Influence of Schoolbooks Upon Eyesight,' in which it makes the following recommendations regarding engraving. This is applicable to the preservation of eyesight of 'grown ups' as well. 'It is important to recollect that children are only confused by elaborate or complex pictures. Bold, firm treatment of a few objects is appropriate alike to their visual powers and to their understanding. From this point of view line-drawings from pen-and-ink drawings are preferable to half tone blocks from photographs or from wash drawings. The pictures should be of good size, and the printed text should not extend in narrow margins at the side. In the case of diagrams it is important that the lettering should not be too small to be easily read. For the older scholars it is sometimes necessary to provide illustrations exhibiting details with the precision must readily obtainable by photography. For the sake of obtaining effective illustrations of this kind, use is made of high glazed paper. Whenever this is done it is important that such paper should be used for illustrations only, and not for the text.'
