Brantford Oddfellows Will Build a Labor Temple.

A Brantford despatch says.—The semi-annual district meeting of the I.O.O.F., was held here, each of the lodges of the district being represented. Membership figures showed 1,577 Oddfellows in the district lodges.

In connection with the proposed new Temple here, it was decided to apply for a charter under the name of the Oddfellows' Temple, Limited, with capital of $90,000 dividend in shares of $20. It was proposed to build next fall on the lot purchased at the corner of Nelson and Market streets.

Woman's Brave Act.

By the quick wit and bravery of Mrs. Phil Sibert, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Blackwell was saved from being ground to pieces under the express train one evening last week.

The little fellow had wandered on to the railway track near the express office and was playing with a toy dog. His dangerous position was noticed only when the train was but a few yards distant. A number saw him and were struck with horror.

but Mrs. Sibert, leaving her own child on the platform, sprang in front of the train and drew him to safety, the pilot of the engine brushing her dress as she stepped off the track.—Dunnville Gazette.

A School Teacher's Enterprise.

One of the most interesting letters recently received by the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa, is from a for milk record forms and literature on the subject of cow testing, because, now listen:—Some of the boys in the school are starting a contest in recording the production of individual cows to last one year.

This opens up a most promising field for every school teacher and for thousands of boys in our country schools. In this we would be following somewhat slowly in the wake of many schools in the United States and New Zealand where the use of the Babcock milk tester has been taught for some time. In a dairy country like this, we should be out blazing trails for other teachers and boys to follow.

No better work could be taken up by such lads, for any record work of that kind must infallibly lead to better, vastly better conditions on dairy farms. Probably these Alberta lads will soon be excellent dairymen obtaining seventy-five or one hundred dollars per cow.

Needless to say the Dairy Division will be only too ready to supply blank forms and instructions in all such cases.

Some Buttermaking

Market reports invariably quote creamery butter higher than dairy butter which is the designation given to that which is made on the farm. It is unfortunate that circumstances at times make it impracticable for dairy farmers to patronize a creamery. When this can be done, not only are the profits, as a rule increased, but much hard work is taken away from the overburdened members of the family.

There is no good reason why butter should be as fine as that made in a creamery where cream produced to be made up. All that is necessary in the carrying out of a well established system in feeding the cows, caring for the milk and cream and the churning and putting up of the butter.

In order to teach the proper method of carrying out these various operations, there has been prepared, under the direction of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner at Ottawa, a bulletin entitled "Buttermaking on the farm," written by Mr. Geo. H. Barr, chief of the Dairy Division. This work, which may be secured free from the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, explains the common defects of dairy butter as well as the conditions that are necessary to produce fine, flavored cream.

It then deals with churning, washing, salting, working and packing butter, and considers the modern necessary utensils and their care. These are shown in clear illustrations.

This bulletin, which is no. 17 of the Dairy and Cold Storage series, concludes with the following recommendations:—Keep good cows, feed them liberally, keep them comfortable and clean when in the stable, skim a rich cream and keep it cool, churn at a temperature that will give a firky granule in the butter; use clean, pure water for washing butter not more than three degrees colder or warmer than the buttermilk. Put the butter up in neat clean attractive packages, and keep everything in and about the dairy clean attractive.

The wealth of the farmers of Ontario in eight years has increased by $278,035,600. Not a bad showing for the provincial department of agriculture.

A Kansas farmer purchased a revolver for his wife, and insisted on target practice, so that she could defend the house in case of his absence. After a bullet had been dug out of his leg, and the cow buried, he said he guessed that she'd better shoot with an axe.
