A Teacher's Troubles

School teachers have some funny experiences, and our own efficient staff are by no means exempt from the humorous incidents that go with the noble and service profession. A new system of physical culture has just been introduced into the school, and some mothers don't take very kindly to it. The other day the principal received the following note:

Dear Teacher—You keep tellin' my boy to breathe with his diaphragm. Maybe rich children have got diaphragms, but how about when their father only makes a dollar a day and has got five children to keep? First, it's one thing then it's another, and now it's diaphragms. That's the worst yet.

Police ride free on street cars because it's pretty hard to get a nickel out of a copper.

The tongue of a woman is her sword, and she seldom suffers it to rust.

There isn't much hope for the people who would rather tell their troubles than be popular.

Many a man who is most lavish with his talk has to take it back, slightly damaged.

Children Out At Night

Many resolutions have been passed by benevolent and philanthropic organizations, many sermons delivered, many editorials written by leading newspapers and magazines, many personal suggestions made that the law dealing with children on the streets and in the parks after dark should be more stringent. At the recent session of the Ontario Legislature these numerous requests have been met, and the amended law is as follows:

CHILDREN'S PROTECTION ACT. Sect. 17.—(1) No child, under sixteen, shall loiter in any public place after 9 o'clock in the evening, or be there unless accompanied by his parent or guardian or an adult appointed by parent or guardian to accompany such child.

(2) A child found in a public place after the hour named in subsection 1 unless so accompanied may be warned to go home by any constable or probation officer or officer of a Children's Aid Society, and if after such warning the child is found loitering in a public place such child may be taken by the constable or officer to his home or the Children's Shelter.

(3) A parent who permits his child to violate this section shall for the first offence incur a penalty of $1 without costs, and for a second offence $2, and for a third or any subsequent offence, $5.

Sect. 2. (k) "Public place" shall mean a street, highway or lane, whether a thoroughfare or not, and a tavern or other place of public resort, and generally, any place to which the public have or are permitted to have access.

It is desirable that the greatest possible publicity should be given to the above law, and to this end the co-operation of editors, clergymen, teachers and social workers is earnestly solicited.—J. J. KELSO, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

Godrich, Oct. 17.—Medals awarded by the Royal Canadian Humane Association for bravery were presented at a public gathering last night to Graham and James Ross, sons of Rev. Geo. E. Ross, in recognition of their courageous action in rescuing Ralph Pearce of Toronto from drowning in Lake Huron in at Bayfield in July last. Mayor Reid made the presentation. Margaret McTaggart of Clinton, who assisted the Ross boys in the rescue, is to be similarly honored by a presentation at Clinton.

Girls Arrested

Annie Wilson and Cora Brown, both of Aylmer, Ont., were arrested by Constable Paevel on Saturday afternoon on complaint of F. W. Woodworth, Limited, 5, 10 and 15 cent store. The two girls entered the place and while one attracted the attention of the clerk the other was busily engaged in dropping various articles of small value into a closed umbrella. A clerk on the opposite counter watched the pair and immediately notified the manager, who in turn called Constable Paevel.—Hamilton Times.

Fell To His Death

Caledonia, Oct. 19.—A very sad accident, which terminated fatally, occurred yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, when John Avery, son of George Avery, fell down a flight of stairs leading to the basement of their carriage shop and striking his head on the cement floor, was killed outright. Mr. Avery had been seen a few minutes before walking towards the stairway, carrying a buggy on his head, and it is thought that when descending the stairs he lost his balance. The deceased was one of Caledonia's oldest and most respected citizens, having lived here nearly all his life. He was about 85 years of age. His wife predeceased him about two years ago. Four sons and one daughter, all living here, survive. Mr. Avery was a staunch Conservative and a member of the Anglican church and will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends in Caledonia and throughout the surrounding district. The deceased was the senior member of the Avery carriage company, one of the oldest established firms in the county of Haldimand, and succeeded in building up a very large trade by his honesty and fair dealing. He was a very active man despite his advanced age, and was always about his place of business. His untimely end has cast a gloom over the village.

The Late James Kelly

After a lengthy illness, Mr. James Kelly was called home on Saturday last, hardening of the arteries being the cause of his death. Mr. Kelly was born October 21, 1839, in County Tyrone, Ireland. He came to Canada with his parents in 1846, settling in Oneida township, which at that time was very sparsely settled. In 1856 he was married to Mary Walsh who survives him. Mr. Kelly assisted in the clearing of the land and other early pioneers endured many hardships. In 1885 he moved to Seneca, where he resided for ten years after which he returned to Oneida. About 18 years ago he purchased a farm in Walbridgeville last January. He was a member of the Anglican church and in politics a staunch Conservative. Although Mr. Kelly had no ambition for municipal honors he took an active interest in public affairs of which he was well informed. An honest upright gentleman, whose word was good as his bond he possessed Irish characteristics of hospitality and neighborly good will. Many friends will grieve to learn that he has passed away and the world won't be better off if it contained more men like him. Ten children survive him. The funeral on Tuesday last was largely attended, Rev. H. J. Leake conducting the services at the home and grave. Interment was made in the family plot at Hagersville cemetery. Hagersville News.

Worse Than Editors

An Editor is supposed to be the most criticized man on earth, but a person has just been putting in a word for clergymen claiming that they are the most miserable of all the sons of men. He says:

"The preacher has a hard time. If his hair is gray, he is old. If he is a young man, he hasn't had experience. If he has ten children, he has too many. If he has none, he should have, and isn't setting a good example. If his wife sings in the choir, she is presuming. If she doesn't, she isn't interested in her husband's work. If a preacher reads from notes he is a bore. If he speaks extemporaneously, he isn't deep enough. If he stays at home in his study, he does not mix enough with the people. If he is seen on the streets, he ought to be at home getting up a good sermon. If he calls on some very poor family, he is playing to the gallery. If he calls at the home of the rich, he is an aristocrat. Whatever he does, someone could have told him how to do better. He has a fine time living off the donations which never come in and promises that never mature. Next to being an editor, it is the most awful life."

Welland, Oct. 20.—In boring a test well on the canal bank here a day or so ago, a flow of spring water was struck at a depth of one hundred and five feet. It has been piped, and the town will install a motor to furnish the water for free use of citizens.

St. Thomas, Oct. 17.—George Smith, charged with marrying five women, was sentenced to fourteen years in Kingston Penitentiary by Judge Colter to-day and is now on his way to that institution. Smith pleaded guilty to three charges and two other charges were not pressed. He took his sentence without flinching. All of his wives were in the court.

According to an estimate recently made by the director of the Deutsche Bank of Berlin, the United States is the richest country in the world. The director places the wealth of America at $124,000,000,000, the wealth of Germany at $75,000,000, and that of England and France at about $60,000,000 each; but in the average wealth of its citizens he puts France first, Great Britain and the United States next, at about the same figure, and Germany lower than any of the other three. The Germans, however, according to the reports of the commercial banks and the savings banks, are a billion dollars a year. At that rate, they will soon take first rank in respect to per capita wealth.—Youth's Companion.

Latest Paris Fad

The latest fad in Paris is a marvellous new perfume. With every person who wears it a new fragrance is given off, for the moment that a few drops touch the skin its character is completely altered, according to the color and temperament of the wearer. In the bottle it has the scent of exquisite fresh flowers—it is impossible to say what kind. Its fragrance is almost intoxicating, it is claimed and nothing has ever been discovered before. If a bottle were it the odor faintly resembles that of a wild rose or pink, while on a blonde it comes nearer to violet, or lilac. But in every case the result is slightly different. Also it is said to change definitely on the same person from time to time. If a woman be radiantly happy the perfume is exquisite beyond words, but if the wearer is gloomy and miserable the scent grows faint and almost imperceptible. This marvellous perfume consists of twenty drops of extract of peonies, flowers, eighty-five grains of alcohol, three grains of tincture of benzoin scented with vanilla, and ten grains of rose water. It is hinted, however, that the makers have some other element they use but will not reveal, as the combination mixed in ordinary fashion yields no such wonderful results.
