Be A Booster

Do you know there's lots of people 'Settin' round in every town, Growin' like a broody chicken. Knockin' every good thing down? Don't you be that kind o' grouch. Cause they ain't no use on earth. You just be a booster rooster. Crow and boost for all you're worth. If your Fair needs boostin', boost'er. Don't hold back to wait and see. If some other fellow's willin'—Sail right in, this country's free. No one's got a mortgage on it. It's just yours as much as his. If you Fair is shy on boosters, You get in the boostin' biz. If things just don't seem to suit you, And the Fair seems kinder wrong, What's the matter with a boostin' Just to keep the thing along. Cause if things should stop agoin' We'd be in a sorry plight. You just keep that horn a blowin'—Booster up with all your might. If you know the old Fair's failin'—Just forget 'em, cause you know That the old Fair's got some good points, Them's the ones you want to show. 'Cast your loves on the waters, They'll come back, a sayin' true. Maybe, too, they'll come back, 'bostered' When the Fair helps boost for you.

CARD OF THANKS—The undersigned desire to thank, through the columns of your paper, the many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted them through their recent sorrow and bereavement.—Trousdale Bros.

Members of the Public Library are reminded that their subscription for 1913, was due on the first day of May last and are earnestly requested to pay the same to the Librarian as the money is urgently needed to pay current expenses.

Among the gentlemen called to the Bar, by Convocation, who were presented to the Court by Mr. G. F. Shepley, K. C. at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Saturday, Sept. 13, was James Young Murdock, formerly of Jarvis. His many friends in this vicinity will be pleased to learn of his success.

Lord Roseberry declares that good appearance and good manners have real commercial value. In a recent address to some English schoolboys; he said that of those who apply for a situation, the one who bears himself in a manly and modest fashion, and who gives respectful answers to all questions, is very much more likely to be employed than one who is slovenly in his speech, or in his dress or bearing. That is not the highest ground on which to argue the case for good manners, but the point is worth making.

All the world's a stage and most of us are looking for backers.

Too many of us ride a hobby without an emergency brake.

A sunrise is a commonplace sight to the man who sees it every morning.

Before embracing an opportunity it's a good plan to find out who has been embracing it before.

Afflictions may one day smile again; and kill then, sit thee down, sorrow.—Shakespeare.

Everyone learns from his own experience; the wise learn also from the experience of others.

To stop the flow of blood when the finger has been cut, bind the cut with cobwebs, pressing it on lint.

Some of us want our bread buttered on both sides. In fact, love grows cold when it is only on one side.

For a generation back and longer, importers of pure-bred live stock have been rendering a service of incalculable value to the Canadian live stock industry. They have supplied us with the very best strains of improved stock, laying such an excellent foundation that the time has come, with sheep at any rate, when Royal winners can be beaten at Toronto by Canadian bred stock. That is the goal toward which we should be striving in all breeds.

Church-Goodale

Marion Bernard Goodale of Detroit was very quietly married Wednesday, Sept. 3, to Miss Mary Lena Church of Jarvis, Rev. Father O'Conner of St. Thomas' church, Detroit, performed the ceremony in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Myers. Mrs. Goodale has made her home in Detroit for the past few years. The Record extends congratulations to the newly wedded couple.

Obituary

The grim reaper, Death, has been busy in the last few weeks, taking both the aged and the young. It is no respecter of persons and yesterday the tender blossom was plucked from the home of Chaney Misner when little Ethel Evelyn was carried away to join the happy throng of little children who hath gone before. The little child who was just eleven months old was taken ill about one week ago and everything that medical aid and loving hand could do was done but the Saviour above had need of the little flower lent to bloom and gladden the hearts of the parents for a few short months, but now she has gone to a place prepared in the Father's home. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon from the parent's residence, Scotch Line and proceed to Simcoe cemetery for interment. The parents have the sympathy of the whole community.

Special Prizes

The following special prizes were inadvertently omitted from the published list as given in The Record of last week:

By R. R. Telford, Esq., Manager Bank of Hamilton, Jarvis branch, Silver Cup, value $35 for the best Heavy Draft Mare or gelding, hitched to a lorry. Must be won two years in succession.

For the best Eight Varieties of Commercial Apples, 3 of each variety, most tastefully arranged. 1st. $2.00; 2nd. $1.50; 3rd. $1. First prize donated by J. J. Parsons, 2nd and 3rd by G. L. Miller.

For the best specimen of Penmanship by a boy or girl under 12 years of age, attending any public school in Norfolk and Haldimand, writing to be attested by their teacher. $2, $1, 50c. 1st donated by J. J. Parsons, 2nd and 3rd by G. L. Miller.

Threatened by Frost

St. Catharines, Ont. Sept. 15—Two successive frosts Saturday and Sunday night are causing some alarm in certain sections of the fruit belt where the vines of cucumbers, tomatoes and melons were cut, potato tops were touched and withered. The section along the mountain adjacent to the lake and extending from the Old Canal to the Niagara River appears to have escaped, but west of St. Catharines vines were killed along the level of the old canal on which the Canadian Henley course is situated. Grapes and tree crops escaped in all sections, but the chief loss is to late tomatoes which were just beginning to come in to the canning factories in heavy quantities. The heaviest damage was sustained on Saturday night.

Pointers on Killing a Town

Buy from peddlers as much and as often as possible.

Denounce your merchants because they make a profit on their goods.

Buy in the downfall of man because he has done much to build up your town.

Make your town out a bad place and stab it every chance you get.

Refuse to unite in any scheme for the betterment of the material interests of the people.

Tell your merchants that you can buy goods a great deal cheaper in some other town and charge them with extortion.

If a stranger comes to town tell him everything is overdone, and predict a general crash in the near future.

Patronize outside newspapers to the exclusion of your own, and then denounce yours for not being as large and as cheap as the city papers.

If you are a merchant don't advertise in the home paper, but compel the editor to go elsewhere for advertisements and howl like a sore head because he does so.

Buy a rubber stamp and use it. It may save you a few times and make your letterheads and wrappers look as though you were doing business in a one horse town.

If you are a farmer curse the place where you trade as the meanest on earth. Talk this over with your friends and neighbors and tell them the men are robbers and thieves. It will make your property less valuable; but you don't care.

Word was received from Dunnville on Monday morning to the effect that Ralph Walker and Wm. Atkinson boys who were arrested in Hamilton a few weeks ago on a charge of stealing bicycles and who were allowed to go because the police failed to find the owners, came up in court at Dunnville on Saturday and were sentenced to eight months and two years respectively.

Walker, being the younger of the two, was let down with the eight months' sentence, but Atkinson was sent to Kingston for two years on a charge to which he pleaded guilty.

A man will work all day in the hot sun and not mind it much, but to stand idle in the hot sun for an hour is torture. This should be remembered when we tie our horses to a post while we do our trading in town. Horses have feelings as well as persons.

Fall Openings In Millinery.

Jarvis' Leasing Stores were "At Home" Last Week Displaying New Fall Stocks.

Clear, bright autumn days favored the local merchants in their semi-annual display of the world's newest and best in the latest decrees of Dame Fashion. The various stores were gaily attired with the most up-to-date offerings in all departments, and the showing would do credit to many of the larger stores in the big centres. Millinery of course predominated and it is this particular department to which The Record desires to direct the attention of the fair sex of Jarvis and district for a little time. Many who visited the attractive showings in Jarvis' three centres will perhaps be better acquainted with the many charming attractions than than time and space will permit in these columns. But for those so unfortunate as to miss the charms of "opening day" a word in season as to the correct thing will not be out of place.

It was a most charming collection of ready-to-wear and street hats that found their way from the workrooms to the show cases in the millinery sections. Perhaps never did a showing give such striking evidence of the skill and taste of clever hat trimmers, for the exquisite style creations do seem to lack nothing of the chic and individuality of New York importations. And they have the quality, too; shapes are of the best, trimmings particularly fine. But to women's minds, the charm of well-trimmed millinery lies in its becomingness and to this end each emporium has vied with the other to an extent that would puzzle the most critical to determine the best. It is largely a matter of sentiment or preference for your favorite shopping place.

The trimmed ready-to-wear and street hats give a wealth of variety in velour, velvet and the soft fluffy beaver shapes, small to medium sizes, in a fairly bewildering variety of styles—in fact, one can scarcely pick out two quite alike—and so "wearable" despite their quaint and novel lines that it seems inconceivable that any woman could not choose a round dozen to her liking. There is the loose soft crown and stiff brim; the loose shirred brim and stiff crown; in fact, the treatment of the velvets is most ingenious and effective.

Then the ribbon add feather trimmings that stand straight up, at the side, in the back or in the front, are particularly keeping with the season's vogue of the long willow lines in dress. In variance to these are the ray quilts that run directly back from one side of a rather low crown. Bandings and folds of ribbon in rich colorings encircle most of the hats—and used with the judgment and taste displayed in fashionably-trimmed millinery, give an effect that is pleasing. You will be well advised in making early selection from such a charming galaxy of hats, at prices extremely reasonable.

At Burwash's, the house of quality, Miss Morrison is again in charge of the millinery department, and the display on the show tables is even better than heretofore. Throngs of ladies visited these parlors on Friday and Saturday last and many attractive sales were recorded and orders placed. The display is as good as ever this week and an early visit to this popular store will well repay you. The season's best is on exhibition in all departments.

At the White House, Miss Haines, of Hamilton, has charge of this department, and with her assistants, has placed on exhibition a display well worthy of this well-known store. Many sales were recorded on the opening days and the book-orders placed tell of the popularity of the styles shown. If you are interested in a new fall hat or possibly an early-winter creation, call at the White House parlors and view the attractive array. This busy store is teeming with good things in all departments. Call early.

At Miller Bros. the same may truthfully be said of the dainty array presided over by Miss Harkirk, who is with this firm for the second season. The show-rooms was thronged with many ladies on opening day and the many favorable expressions heard on every hand testified to the continued popularity of this fashion centre. Here, too, many sales were recorded and orders taken. Miller Bros. invite you to make their store your headquarters while at the coming Fair. Call on your first visit to Jarvis, they have many attractive lines in their new fall and winter stock now open to the public.

Lastly, dear reader, trade at home and with the home merchant, who merits your best patronage.

It is easy enough to forget our friends, but our enemies seem to make an indelible impression.

It is the man who has a job who is offered a better one. The fact that a man is out of work is too often regarded as prima facie evidence that he deserves to be.
