Another new cattle disease has been discovered in Michigan, and the state live stock sanitary commission is sending warning to farmers. The disease found near Leatie, is known as the Notlar infection and is nearly every case produces death. It is caused by keeping cattle on the same pasturage too long without rotation. When the animal shows the first symptoms it appears weak and inais on lying down. Some disorders sets in, followed shortly by death.

Disastrous Fire

Visits Jarvis

Post Office, Grocery, Insurance Office and Two Dwellings Totally Destroyed.

At midnight on Easter Monday, the village of Jarvis was visited by a most disastrous fire which totally destroyed the postoffice and dwelling owned and occupied by E. T. Jones, postmaster; the grocery store and dwelling, owned by A. W. Morrow, and occupied by A. W. Mattice; and the insurance office, owned by D. F. Aiken for his Jarvis branch in the life and fire insurance business. The total loss is estimated at about $7000.00, partly covered by insurance.

The fire was first discovered in or near the dividing wall between the grocery store and the insurance office and the dry old frame building was enveloped in flames before many people were aware of a fire, the inmates sleeping in their night clothes, saving little or nothing. The brick building of E. T. Jones, immediately to the north of the frame structure fell in a heap, and the devouring flames, and Mr. Jones and his family barely escaped with very few personal belongings. Little was saved from the destroyed buildings except the small amount of mail matter in the office after the evening's distribution, and a few odd pieces of furniture. Both families lost their clothing and entire household effects.

The rains of Monday, and the light rain falling at the time of the fire, served as a damper to prevent the flames from spreading to the building of Mr. Andrew Rodgers, adjoining. Heroic work on the part of the fire fighters very materially assisted in preventing the spread of the fire to other nearby buildings. The heat was intense and plate glass windows across the street were shattered by heat and water thrown on the window frames to quench small blazes. Sparks and flying embers showered on all adjacent buildings, but were extinguished on all nearby buildings to meet such emergencies, and thus the fire was confined to the two buildings in which the flames first originated. The drug store opposite occupied by Dr. Jacques, M.P.E., was on fire at one time, but was easily extinguished. The cause of the fire is unknown.

E. T. Jones carried an insurance of $2500 on building and $700 on the contents. Mr. Morrow had $1500 on contents. T. E. Morrow had the sum of $1500 on building. Mr. R. Robertson of the Gore Fire Ins. Co. is here this Wednesday making adjustment. Mr. Jones has not yet formed any plans for re-building, but is strongly considering the matter. Mr. Mattice while the loss is a distinctly hard blow to the village and the owners in particular, it is hoped that more substantial buildings will be erected on the sites destroyed.

Jarvis Citizen

Passed to His Rest

William Chambers Died Sunday After Somewhat Lengthy Illness. Funeral To-day

On Easter Sunday, April 4, 1915, after a somewhat lengthy illness, there passed away at his home in Jarvis, William Chambers, in the 66th year of his age.

Over a year ago Mr. Chambers contracted typhoid fever, and being in rather delicate health at the time, had a very serious illness for several weeks, from which he never fully recovered up to the time he was again taken sick with a return of the disease some six weeks ago. Since that time he has gradually failed and grew weaker day by day until the end came on Sunday last, as recorded above.

William Chambers was born in the county of Perth, Ontario, in the year 1849, and came with his parents when a boy of twelve years to Union, a small village in Elgin county. Later in life, after his school days were over he learned the blacksmithing trade in the village of Aylmer, coming to Jarvis in the year 1870. For some years after coming to this village Mr. Chambers conducted a blacksmithing business for himself, up to the time of his taking the implement agency which he conducted at the time of his death. He was married in 1872 to Miss Agnes Lambert, to whom were born three children, Miss Margaret having pre-deceased her father just eleven years. Mrs. Chambers, one son, James, of New York, and one daughter, Mrs. Frank Ross, of Notre Dame, Sask., survive.

Deceased was a man of business all his life and by his early attention to duty had lived in comfort during his latter days. He was a charter member of the Jarvis I. O. O. F. and a member much beloved in the brotherhood.

The funeral was held this Wednesday afternoon, with service and interment at St. Paul's Church and cemetery, Rev. J. H. Ross officiating. The local lodge, I. O. O. F., also walked in a body. The pall bearers were: Messrs. J. A. Burvash, Albert Booth, J. E. McMillen, James Haslett, Wm. Haslett and Andrew Smith.

The bereaved widow and family have the sympathy of the entire community in this their hour of bereavement, in which The Record sincerely joins.

Letter from the West.

Extracts from a letter written by Leo Pond, Strathmore, Alberta, to his parents of Sanduski, Ontario.

"You will have noticed that not in a single letter have I hinted at your coming West to live. I think that it would be foolish to leave Ontario for this part, anyway. Land averages $27 an acre. Most of the farms around here are very heavily mortgaged; 75 would say from 75 to 85 per cent. of the farms are mortgaged for 15 per cent. of their value. The farms comprise from one half to three quarters of a section, averaging about 400 acres to a farm. The seasons are usually one story, dimensions being about 18x24, and in a year or two after building a tenant is generally added."

"There are two or three fine large houses in this section, modernly equipped. The barns are nicely constructed, just a shelter for the horses and milk cows. There are no hay sheds but are just a sort of enclosed shed. You generally find half a dozen 1000 bushel granaries on a farm. The farmers keep as a rule, ten work horses, eight cows, and from thirty to four hundred pigs. Every farmer has from sixty to eighty hens."

"We have a good many ranches around here and they have large herds of horses and cattle, anywhere from one hundred to two thousand, say average about one hundred and fifty head. At Nightingale one sheep rancher has about three thousand sheep."

"Around here the places of worship average fifteen miles apart. Twenty miles north of here they are fifty miles apart. We have splendid young people's meetings, the young people living as far as fifteen miles, of course that is the limit, the average being six or seven. I ride about thirty miles and attend three services every Sunday. The Roman Catholics have mass monthly at Rockyford; the Anglicans, fortnightly, at Nightingale; the Lutherans, weekly, at Standard; the service being in the Danish language; at Tudor and Crowfoot we are alone."

"The majority of the people around here are expecting prohibition to carry with a large majority, we need only a majority to carry. The Farmer's Union, known as the U. E. A. (The United Farmers of Alberta), who are about 45,000 strong, have promised their hearty co-operation. The balance men have put up $1000 per cent. prohibitions, which we are working on the $2000 plan, 99 per cent of the people whom I know are in favor of prohibition and if it is defeated it will be by the town and city vote."

"The weather in this part of the country is simply grand. For one day we have had ten fine ones. The sun is very bright, in fact a great many of the people wear colored glasses. We only had one chinook wind and that was in January and the breeze struck your face you could feel the warmth. The coldest we had was 30 degrees below zero. I rode six miles last night and felt as comfortable when I got off the horse as when I got on. I've been riding ninety per cent. of the days this winter and there was only once that I hugged the stove when I got in the house."

"The sleighing was good for four months. All kinds of sleighs and cutters were manufactured, and it would make you laugh to see some of the outfits. Anything from a 2x4 with a board or two across them to an up-to-date cutter. A great many many buggies were turned into cutters by attaching a runner to each arm of the axle. The farm houses are apart on an average of about four miles. The people are from all parts of the globe, but are mostly Americans. They are very sociable and a great many are Christians. Our services are steadily improving and two Sundays ago we had a lady at church who had not been to service for four years. We have a nice lot of people at our Tudor service, but there are several who are inclined to be a wee bit rough. I hope time will civilize them. It is pretty hard for a bunch of cow boys to keep quiet for a whole long hour."

"I have been collecting for missions lately and have succeeded in getting a nice little sum. I hardly see where the money comes from. Times have been pretty hard with some of the people this winter, but I am glad to be able to say that all on my field have had enough to buy food and clothing. To give you an idea of the scarcity of money, let me quote this instance. A millionaire (so-called) in Calgary cannot get ready money enough to buy gasoline to run his car, but has it stored in a garage. He cannot borrow money, nor yet sell his property for cash. True, they grow large crops out here and I imagine the prospects are good, but then they are good down in old Walpole, too. I think it all right for a young fellow to homestead, but not until he has a few hundred dollars saved up."
