Nanticoke

Propinquity—not absence—makes the heart grow fonder. Perhaps that is why a certain local suitor refuses to take the fiancée's subtle hint that "distance lends enchantment."

Miss Ena Ross of Brantford was home during the holidays.

Nanticoke received a genuine sensation last week when—(name erased by censor) was sober for one whole day.

Miss Julia Evans returned to Simcoe on Monday to resume her studies at the business college.

Misses Rachael and Imogen Henry and Miss Marey Rankin, of Port Dover, visited at the home of Mrs. J. Corrigan last week.

The Hoover fishery crew are putting in the nets for the summer fishing season.

Miss Louisa Howey, of Ft. Dover, was the guest of Miss Lucy Ross several days last week.

Warren Jackson is the latest local husband to assume the parental swag. Now the proud "Dad Da" plays "Goo-Goo" with an extremely youthful daughter—just two weeks old yesterday.

A sore throat epidemic has been raging in the village but nearly all the sufferers are now convalescent.

F. H. Heath, of Hamilton, was in town on a business trip last week.

Miss Gladys Hewitt visited with Mrs. Alfred Howey over the week end.

Mrs. S. A. Thompson and daughters Mabel and Eva, visited in Hamilton, the latter half of last week.

Once again approaches the season when the local astronomer will seal the firmament and ascertain the sinister headlights of German zeppelin, hovering over our beloved metropolis. As the danger is invisible to ordinary mortals, it is supposed that the "gifted seer" uses a Hiram Walker "glass."

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Howey entertained a coterie of friends in their handsomely furnished home on Saturday evening last. Mrs. Howey, a hostess to the manner born, made the evening so enjoyable for her guests that the happy hours flew by on winged feet.

On Friday evening last a successful "smoker" was held in the beautiful new club rooms of the Local Improvement Association. About thirty members enjoyed a program of carols and music and incidentally discussed the progress of the season in Nanticoke.

"Play Safe" is the motto of the Nanticoke swains when they sit in the game of love with their best gals. Even when holding a perfect hand their highest bid is—"I kinda like you Dear." But the Nanticoke girls never overlook any good bets, so they discard their hearts and draw a diamond and call the bidder, who invariably displays a flush. Then they become a pair. Recently, however, a sentimental maiden bought her suit—or had handed her a raw deal by not bidding higher for her hand and heart, so she dealt him an open hand across the face. Next time he raised the limit and won, so now he has a partner.

Warning—Those who loiter persistently near a pond sometimes fall in love. This is meant for the girl who wasn't in town last Sunday.

Until last Sunday pious Nanticokeites always imagined that "Old Nick" was a red individual with a long tail and two horns whose domiciliary establishment was in Hades. After seeing him in the flesh, however, they now know that he is merely, fair, fat and forty, and lives in a place nearby, where people go to escape the heat. What attracts the gentleman here is unknown. Yes it is—not.

(Intended for last week.)

Nanticoke's "Broadway" and "Fifth Avenue" was the scene of a brilliant pageant on Easter Sunday when the local society queens paraded to and from Divine service in all the dazzling splendor of modish chapeaux, basque waists and wide skirts. Some of the gorgeous creations looked like resurrected fashions of fifty years ago. What next girls—hoops and pantalettes?

After an absence of several years James Lindsay returned to town last week. "Jim" looks as fit as ever.

There must be a special matrimonial attractiveness about the Christ church choirists. Two married within two weeks and more to follow. Better get wise to yourselves, girls. Better get wise to yourselves, girls, and join the choir.

George Wood of the Lake Shore Road purchased a new Overland auto in Port Dover on Saturday. Pity the poor (?) farmer.

A local sport had a "Head-sure hunch" that Lil' Artha was going to hand Willard a "haymaker" before the twentieth round. He played it to the extent of one hundred perfectly good dollars at the rate of five to one.

How his middle name is "Stung."

John Ross, M.A., of the teaching staff of the Seaford High School visited under the parental roof during the holidays.

What Nanticoke girl recently made the painful discovery that "absence makes the heart grow fonder"—of another girl?

The annual vestry meeting of Christ Church, Anglican, will be held next Monday evening.

Beyond the election of W. B. Wilde as president of the new organization, no business of importance was transacted at the meeting of the Local Improvement Society on Saturday evening. Twenty new members joined and many more have promised to join at the next meeting to be held on Friday evening of this week.

The annual sucker run began on Monday and ever since the local disciples of Isaac Walton have been guarding the rapids with spears.

To A. B. Hoover belongs the honor of being the first autoist to brave the terrors of Walpole mud this season. On Saturday he and his family motor-d to Port Dover and on Sunday they made the trip to Dunnville and return.
