A Briton I was Born and a Briton I Will Die.

Under the above heading, Mr. William P. Cooke of Brantford, father of Mrs. Chas. Witherspoon, Simcoe, has written the words and music of a song suitable to the period, and which appeared in a Brantford paper. Mr. Cooke is 80 years old. The verses follow—

Tell me not the ancient story
Of the Empress long ago,
Grecian, Pompana, Roman glory,
Whose victories filled the earth
with woe;
I was left a nobler heritage,
All their victories treat with scorn,
I possess a nobler birthright,
Yes, a Briton I was born.

Hark, we hear the sailor singing
Rule Britannia, rule the waves;
Then upon our ears is ringing,
Britons never shall be slaves;
Thus the noble cause of freedom
Still comes down from sire to son,
And that freedom's noble battle
Never lost, but always won.

Fair Canada will always aid thee,
The fairest gem in Britain's crown,
Aid thee to keep what valor made thee,
The greatest Empire ever known,
The commerce of the world controlling.

The nations shall look up to thee,
And as centuries are rolling,
Thou shalt be always brave and free

Noble people, mighty Empire,
On which the sun does never set;
Oh, my country, how I love thee,
Britons, yes I love thee yet,
And when life's short days are closing,
And death's clouds obscure the sky,
Under the British flag reposing, yes,
Yes, a Briton I will die.

Death of Mrs. E. Ineson

On Saturday last three passed away one of Walpole's most respected citizens in the person of Mrs. E. Ineson, widow of the late Anthony Ineson, aged 71 years and 3 days. About three months ago she was taken down with Bright's disease and gradually sank until Saturday when she died. Mrs. Ineson, whose maiden name was Jane E. Harris, was born in Walpole, where she had resided all her life. She was married to Anthony Ineson some 49 years ago and for forty years they lived on the farm now owned and occupied by her son, Walter. Mr. Ineson predeceased her some 20 years ago. The last few years she has resided with her son, Alfred. To Mr. and Mrs. Ineson was born seven children, five of whom live to mourn the loss of a loving mother. The children are Walter and Alfred, of Walpole; George, of Ingersoll; W. G. of Norwich; and one daughter, Maggie, Mrs. Sherwin Gowan, of Springvale. The funeral was held on Tuesday to Knox church for service and cemetery, where she was laid to rest. Friends have the sympathy of all who knew her.

Postage Reduced

Arrangements have been made whereby the ordinary rate of two cents per ounce applicable to all letters sent from Canada to the United Kingdom, will apply to letters addressed to British and Canadian troops on the continent. The rate on ordinary letters from Canada for the continent is five cents for first ounce, and three cents for each subsequent ounce, so that this extension of the two cent an ounce rate to letters addressed to our soldiers on the continent is a decided reduction in favor of correspondence going to the soldiers.

Haldimand at the Winter Fair.

There is an impression among many people even in our own county that Haldimand county is noted for growing blue grass seed and having bad roads, but the following list of prizes won by our farmers at the 1914 Winter Fair, will show that there are a few reasons why we should still be kept upon the map.

Rumors have come that there has been a want of discipline among the Canadians at Salisbury Plain. These rumors have reached the funny men of the English press, and London Opinion tells this little story.—"One of the Canadian privates was visited by his brother, who is an officer in one of our regular regiments. This officer was kept waiting for half an hour. At last his brother appeared, apologized for the delay, and explained:—'I don't know it was you, old chap. They told me an officer wanted to see me, but I thought it was only one of our own.'"

Jarvis Won at Cayuga

Pastor 25 Years

Simcoe, Jan. 29.—A congregational social reception was held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church here this evening to celebrate the close of a quarter of a century pastorate of the Rev. W. J. Dey, D.D. After a patriotic and musical program in the church parlors, which were profusely decorated with flags and streamers, he was tendered an illuminated address and a purse of gold. There were present Dr. G. Munro, of London, Ont., and many others from outside places as well as the pastors from the other churches of the town.

Notes of the Storm

No mails were delivered at the Jarvis post office for two days.

All sideroads in the district are in a very bad state, owing to the snow blockade.

The snow storm of the early part of the week put many telephones out of business.

The G. T. R. were offering work to all men capable of using a snow shovel to clear the yards.

Three cars were derailed two miles west of Jarvis on Tuesday. No employees were hurt.

Wrecks of every description were reported from various points all over the various railway lines.

Snow plows were almost powerless on the railway lines, the ice and snow playing great havoc with traffic.

Traffic was fairly normal east and west on Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, but were running off schedule time.

Mr. John Crawford, the man at the helm for the operation of the Jarvis gates at the railway crossing, had a strenuous day on Tuesday. Owing to the ice storm the gates were put out of business, and the old style of using the flag had to be resorted to. General railway traffic was suspended, but on account of the wreck east of the village there was considerable shunting all day long.

One man, a Wabash brakeman, 30 years of age and unmarried, a resident of Windsor, was killed in the Jarvis yard. It is not definitely known how he met his death, but it is supposed that the engine backed over him at the west end switch as he attempted to board the rear of the engine in the binding storm. His name was Beattie, and was the only support of a widowed mother. An inquest is being held.

Fifteen heavily laden freight cars were wrecked one mile east of Jarvis on Monday. No one was hurt, but most of the cars were upside down in the ditch. The St. Thomas and Hamilton auxiliaries were on the scene to clear the tracks. It took a large force of men to clear the right-of-way for traffic. The Hamilton crew and auxiliary left before the work was completed, as they were called to the scene of another wreck near Seaforth, reported to be a head-on collision.

The Tillsonburg Public Library Board has resigned in a body. The reason for this action is that the town council found fault with some of the Board's methods and refused to re-appoint a retiring member. The Board say that what has been done had the unanimous support of all the members and they will not permit a reflection on one member without all resenting it.
