Miss Alice Austin is quite ill.
Mr. Fred Turner, jr., of Buffalo, is a guest at the home of Mr. Fred Jackson.

The many friends of Mrs. James Hill, of Sandusk, will rejoice to read that although not yet out of danger and still unable to leave the General Hospital in Hamilton, she is much improved and on the road to recovery.

To the rhythm of tuneful melodies played by Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Howey, nearly one hundred dancers tripped "the light fantastic" at the third assembly of the season held in the town hall last Wednesday night.

Mr. Isaac Truckle and family left the village last week for Rainham township where they are in attendance at the bedside of Mr. Truckle's mother, who is critically ill.

The Ramblers' Dramatic and Musical Club wound up a most triumphant road tour with a concert in Port Dover last Monday night. The total proceeds from the local production and the exhibitions at Selkirk, Jarvis and Port Dover amounted to nearly two hundred dollars. This money will be divided equally between the Belgian Relief and the Patriotic fund.

Seldom, if ever, has there been produced in this village a performance of merit equal to the public school concert staged in the town hall last Friday evening. For three hours the pupils of S. S. No. 1 under the direction of their teachers entertained an appreciative audience so well that the three hours were as one. The crowd packed the hall to the doors. Besides the proud parents of the little actors, there were present many from outside the school section including a sleighload from Jarvis. The program which was as excellent as it was varied, consisted of songs, recitations, music, drills, dialogues, choruses, and tableaux. There was comedy in the Old Maids' drill and scores of other humorous situations; thrills in Master J. Harris' martial recitation, "The Song in Camp"; and pathos in the beautiful and impressive tableau entitled, "Tenting To-night." This tableau was a veritable masterpiece of stage art and the singing of "Tenting To-night" thrilled the audience. The entire program was elaborately staged and nearly every number responded to repeated encores. A feature of the entertainment which delighted the audience was the Victrola music provided by Mr. M. Weidrick.

Rev. Mr. Brand officiated as chairman in a pleasing and entertaining manner, which is sure to make him a favorite for that office at all future entertainments. In apportioning the praise for the unprecedented triumph scored, too many encomiums cannot be bestowed upon the school principal, Mr. Chas. Davidson and his assistant, Miss M. Thompson to whose efficient efforts most of the success attained is due. The proceeds amounting to $23.50, will be used to purchase furniture and pictures for the school.

The bridge at St. Croix is now guarded by Canadian soldiers.
King Albert of Belgium, made an aerial tour over the German position.
Spontaneous combustion in a Kingston sawmill caused a fire loss of $15,000.00.
