

DEMANDS ASSURANCES OF AMERICANS' SAFETY

President Wilson's Note To Germany Stands Firmly For Right.

Offers To Mediate In Matter With Great Britain.

The text of the American rejoinder to the German Government's reply to the note following the sinking of the Lusitania follows: "The Secretary of State, in testimony to the American Ambassador at Berlin: "Department of State, Washington, June 9, 1915. "American Ambassador, Berlin: "You are instructed to deliver textually the following note to the Minister of Foreign Affairs: "In compliance with your Excellency's request, I did not fail to transmit to my Government immediately upon their receipt your note of May 15, and your supplementary note of June 1, setting forth the conclusions, so far as reached by the Imperial German Government, concerning the attacks on the American steamers Cushing and Gullflight. I am now instructed by my Government to communicate the following in reply: "The Government of the United States notes with gratification the full recognition by the Imperial German Government, in discussing the cases of the Cushing and the Gullflight, of the principle of the freedom of all parts of the open sea to neutral ships, and the frank willingness of the Imperial German Government to acknowledge and meet its liability where the fact of attack upon neutral ships which have not been guilty of any hostile act by German aircraft or vessels of war is satisfactorily established; and the Government of the United States will in due course lay before the Imperial German Government, as it requests, full information concerning the attack on the steamer Cushing.

garding the explosion of that material by the torpedo, it need only be said that in the view of this Government these contentions are irrelevant to the question of the legality of the methods used by the German naval authorities in sinking the vessel. "But the sinking of passenger ships involves principles of humanity which throw into the background any special circumstances of detail that may be thought to affect the cases, principles which lift it, as the Imperial German Government will no doubt be quick to recognize and acknowledge, out of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or of international controversy. Whatever the other facts regarding the Lusitania, the principal fact is that a great steamer, primarily and chiefly a conveyance for passengers, and carrying more than a thousand souls who had no part or lot in the conduct of the war, was torpedoed and sunk, without so much a challenge or a warning, and that men, women and children were sent to their death in circumstances unparalleled in modern warfare. The fact that more than one hundred American citizens were among those who perished made it the duty of the Government of the United States to speak of these things, and once more, with solemn emphasis, to call the attention of the Imperial German Government to the grave responsibility which the Government of the United States conceives that it has incurred in this tragic occurrence, and to the indisputable principle upon which that responsibility rests. "RIGHTS OF HUMANITY. "The Government of the United States is contending for something much greater than mere rights of property or privileges of commerce. It is contending for nothing less than and sacred than the rights of humanity, which every Government honors itself in respecting, and which no Government is justified in resigning on behalf of those under its care and authority. Only her actual resistance to capture or refusal to stop when ordered to do so for the purpose of visit could have afforded the commander of the submarine any justification for so much as putting the lives of those on board the ship in jeopardy. This principle the Government of the United States understands the explicit instructions issued August 3, 1914, by the Imperial German Admiralty to its commanders at sea to have recognized and embodied, as do the naval codes of all other nations, and upon it every traveler and seaman had a right to depend. It is upon this principle of humanity, as well as upon the law founded upon this principle, that the Government of the United States must stand. "The Government of the United States is happy to observe that your Excellency's note closes with the intimation that the Imperial German Government is willing, now as before, to accept the good offices of the United States in an attempt to come to an understanding with the Government of Great Britain by which the character and conditions of war upon the sea may be changed. The Government of the United States would consider it a privilege thus to serve its friends and the world. It stands ready at any time to convey to either Government any intimation of suggestion the other may be willing to have it convey, and cordially invites the Imperial German Government to make use of its services in this way at its convenience. The whole world is concerned in anything that may bring about a partial accommodation of interests or in any way mitigate the terrors of the present distressing conflict. "In the meantime, whatever arrangement may happily be made between the parties to the war, and whatever may be the opinion of the Imperial German Government, have been the provocation or the circumstances of its commanders at sea, the Government of the United States confidently looks to see the justice and humanity of the Government of Germany vindicated in all cases where Americans have been wronged or their rights as neutrals invaded. "REAFFIRMS PREVIOUS NOTE. "The Government of the United States therefore very earnestly and very solemnly renews the representations of its note transmitted to the Imperial German Government on the 15th of May and relies in these representations upon the principles of humanity, the universally recognized understandings of international law, and the ancient friendship of the German nation. "The Government of the United States cannot admit that the proclamation of a war upon which neutral ships have been warned to keep away has been made to operate as in any degree an abbreviation of the rights either of American shipmasters or of American citizens bound on lawful errands as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality. It does not understand the Imperial German Government to question these rights. It understands it, also, to accept as established beyond question the principle that the lives of non-combatants cannot lawfully or rightfully be put in jeopardy by the capture or destruction of an unresisting merchantman, and to recognize the obligation to take sufficient precautions to ascertain whether a suspected merchantman is in fact bel-

JOFFRE'S ARMY GREATEST EVER

Now Most Formidable War Machine World Has Seen.

French Losses 1,300,000-4,500,000 Called to Colors.

Paris Cable—Rene Arcos sheds light on the losses of the French army. He says: "Of the allies fighting against the Austro-German block, it is certainly the French who in proportion to their population, have thus far made the greatest effort. After nine months of war the French army is more redoubtable than at any time heretofore. The troops have passed a hard apprenticeship in war; they are well equipped and their morale is generally excellent. Troops, artillery, war materiel and provisions have been amassed in unbelievable quantities. "The Germans' great fault has been their seven months' stagnation on the banks of the Aisne and the Yser. After the defeat of the Marne they should have attempted fate again at all costs. They preferred to entrench themselves in their mole hills and wait for some vague favor of destiny. "These seven months have allowed the French, and also the British, to perfect their armament and to drill their new units. The commander-in-chief of the Franco-British armies has now in hand the most formidable war machine that has ever existed. "Certainly the French have suffered losses, which, if smaller than those of the Germans, are yet heavy. Since the start of the campaign about 1,300,000 French have been put hors de combat. Of these there have been about 360,000 killed and 230,000 prisoners or missing. "Of the total French loss of 1,300,000, about 180,000 have been dropped out, either for wounds causing permanent infirmity or for serious illness. From 300,000 to 400,000 men cured of wounds or illness have returned to their places in the ranks. "France has already called 4,500,000 men to the colors, and more are being called every day."

SUBS. REALLY DID A LITTLE

Sink Two Torpedo Boats of Great Britain.

London Cable—The British torpedo boats were torpedoed this morning off the east coast of England by a German submarine. The boats are the No. 10 and the No. 12. Both of them went to the bottom. The survivors, 41 in number, have been brought ashore. The attack took place at a very early hour. This information was given out by the Admiralty today. "The torpedo boats No. 10 and No. 12 had each a complement of 35 men. No. 10 had a displacement of 244 tons, a speed of 26 knots and was 166 feet long. No. 12 had a displacement of 225 tons, a speed of 26 knots, and was 172 feet long. Both were built in 1906. "The trawlers Tunisian and Castor have been sunk by a German submarine. The Tunisian's crew, which was allowed five minutes in which to leave the boat, arrived at Grimsby today. The vessel was sunk by bombs. The Castor's crew was picked up at sea. In this case also bombs were used by the German submarine. The submarine pursued another trawler, but the arrival of a patrol boat saved this vessel. "A news despatch received here from Maastricht says the crews of the British trawlers Qui Vive and Edward, which have been sunk by German submarines, were rescued by a Dutch steamer and brought to Maastricht. "A despatch from Ymuiden states that the trawler Letty was blown up today off Degerbank in the North Sea. The members of the crew were drowned.

ONE DROWNED, ONE SAVED. Cobalt Report—A telephone message was received from South Porcupine this afternoon telling of a drowning accident upon Porcupine River yesterday at a place named Keys. The vessel containing Michael James Toomey and Henry Cape, struck a boulder in the rapids and upset. Owing to the low temperature of the water, both men immediately took to the water, but one immediately took to the shore and was rescued. The other was drowned.

RUSSIANS NOW ON OFFENSIVE ON TWO FRONTS

In Both the Baltic Province and Galicia They Are Attacking the Germans.

REINFORCED

May Hold Lemberg, Though the Teutons Have Enormous Forces There.

London Cable says—Russian reinforcements have arrived in the Baltic Provinces and in Galicia, and it has become their turn to attack. According to the German official report received to-night, part of the German force on the Dvynna River, in the Baltic Provinces, threatened by an encircling movement, were obliged to withdraw, although in the region of Shavli and on the Niemen they claim to be making progress, despite a stubborn Russian resistance. "More important, in the belief of military observers here, is the apparent change that is taking place in the Galician battle. Here again, according to the German account, the Russians are advancing to the south and southeast of Lemberg, and also are attacking Gen. Linsingen's force which crossed the Dniester near Zurawa. "In Eastern Galicia and Bukowina, however, the Austrians are falling back between the Pruth and Dniester rivers with the intention, it is believed here, of making the Dniester their line of defence from the Roumanian frontier to the southeast of Peremysh. They have very strong positions along this line, and military experts say that if they can drive back the Germans who crossed the river near Zurawa Lemberg will remain in their hands, and they will be in a position to deliver a vigorous offensive, at any rate as soon as the Austrians and Germans begin to withdraw troops for their western and southern campaigns. "ENEMY'S GREAT STRENGTH. "The Daily Mail's correspondent at Petrograd telegraphs that in addition to one million German troops pressing towards Lemberg from the west there are 300,000 moving against the Dniester line in the hope of attacking the city simultaneously from the south. "He calls attention to the greatness of Germany's forces on all fronts, and says that nowhere upon the Galician front or in Poland do the Germans appear to be short of men or munitions. In the Shavli district, where the Russians have been gradually driving the Germans back, the forces have been increased to about 130,000 men. "The hope cherished by optimistic observers that the German Government already has drawn upon all her resources, is illusory, says the correspondent. Out of nine million available Austrians, he says not more than three million as yet have been put even temporarily out of action. It is true, he adds, that their losses have been heavy and that even the best troops show signs of occasional exhaustion, but the gaps are filled immediately and the line presses on. "The correspondent does not represent the Russian position as serious in the face of Germany's great strength, and asserts that it is not nearly so alarming as that of France and Great Britain last September. When the pressure ceases the Russians will quickly recover Galicia, but at present it is difficult to maintain a stand in the face of the heavy German guns. "A despatch from Vienna to the Geneva Tribune says information has been received there from Tarnow, Galicia, that the Russian forces in the region north of Peremysh are preparing a new attack upon the army of General von Mackensen. They have abandoned their efforts to strike southward and have turned toward the Wislok River. Between Niska, which is sixty miles northwest of Peremysh, and Utanow, to the east of Niska, an engagement already has occurred. The despatch says 20,000 Bavarians who were attacked by strong Russian forces retired, leaving about 1,000 dead and wounded.

FIERY BULLETS OF THE GERMANS

Enemy Using Incendiary Rifle Ammunition Now.

Filled With Sulphur, Which Ignites When Fired.

(By "the Eye-Witness.") London Cable—The official eye-witness with the British headquarters in the field sends an account of the recent fighting in Flanders under date of June 8. He says: "Early on Thursday the enemy fired a couple of mines in front of Cuijnich, on the Bethune-La Bassée road. One charge was entirely ineffective. The other blew up about thirty yards of our trenches and inflicted a few casualties. It was a sporadic effort on the part of the Germans and was not followed by an infantry attack. The damage done to our defences was soon repaired. "During the day our anti-aircraft guns hit a hostile aeroplane, which came down close behind the German line. That night on a section of the front which we had gained by an operation starting on May 16 in the neighborhood of Givenchy we attacked and captured a trench of the German first line 200 yards in length, taking 48 prisoners. At dawn on Friday morning the enemy counter-attacked in force and our infantry withdrew to its original line. "According to unconfirmed reports, the Germans near Souchez are now using incendiary rifle ammunition. The bullets are said to be filled with sulphur, which ignites upon the discharge of the rifles, and continues to burn during its flight, thus increasing the severity of the wound. "SERBS WIN IN AIR Destroyed Austrian Plane Riding Over Kragujevatz. Paris Cable says—The Havas News Agency has received a despatch from its correspondent at Nish, Serbia, who says that at an early hour this morning three Austrian aeroplanes flew over Kragujevatz, where there is an arsenal and factories for arms and ammunition, and threw down three bombs. Three persons were killed and ten were injured. Serbian aviators went into the air and met the Austrian ships as they were returning from this raid at a point near Smerderovo. During the ensuing fight one of the Austrian machines struck by bullets from a Serbian quick-firing gun, fell to the earth in Austrian territory. A thick cloud of smoke could be seen coming up from the spot where this machine landed. "BAD MEN LOSE Desperados Tried to Break Jail at Owen Sound. Owen Sound Despatch—Norman Ryan and William Turner, the two gunmen under arrest here for stealing a motor cycle, made an attempt to break out of the county jail, and had they not been under careful watch, would have succeeded. When they went into jail they were thoroughly searched, and four steel hacksaw were taken from the lining of their canvas, but, despite precautions, they managed to secure two pieces of a back-saw blade. With these they cut through the bars of the cell door, and also of a window opening out of the corridor on the yard below. The cuts on the bars were carefully concealed by being filled with soap blackened like the floor. The men have now been placed in close confinement, and the clothing which they wore when they went into jail, and which they had been allowed to retain, has been taken from them. They have also been separated, one of them being placed on the top flat of the jail and the other on the ground floor. "The arraignment of Ryan and Turner, also Miss Kate O'Donahue and Francis Doyle, the two latter alleged to be accomplices, takes place tomorrow. "VETERAN DIES IN POVERTY. Windsor Report—Frederick Fenton, a veteran of four British campaigns and who had served under Lord Roberts at Kandahar, died at the home for the friendless here today. Fenton won a distinguished conduct medal, awarded for bravery in India. He was a member of the force under Lord Napier in the Abyssinian War. In 1885 he came to Canada, and was with General Otter at Cst. Rind Hill. Fenton died practically penniless and homeless, and some of his old comrades of the Victoria Association assume the expense of his funeral. "If you want a man to admire your judgment, agree with him."
