BLOOD THIN AND WEAK TOO NERVOUS TO SLEEP

Here is Another Case in Which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Proved Its Great Restorative Influence.

This blood and exhausted nerves usually go together. A considerable portion of the blood is constantly consumed in keeping up the vitality of the nervous system.

A GIFT OF A SOUL

The two women were thus left entirely alone and the days passed in silence and sadness. Meantime Jacques lived under the influence of the spell that had sapped the strength, intellectual and moral.

uncertainty. Seeing Jacques thus uneasy and on the point of becoming a jealous lover, she took a malicious pleasure in holding him in suspense, letting him hope and fear by turns.

He went to his club every day at five, and later on in the evening when he was not with Clemence, he played heavily, and in the beginning had extraordinary luck.

Clemence established once more in her magnificent house in the Avenue Hoche, returned to the luxury and the care of her former existence.

They had said they would never separate, and they saw less of each other than before. Not by the wish of Clemence, but her existence was no longer the same.

to it. His sister, although the malady which was sapping her life had developed more recognizable symptoms, dropped more and more every day.

The doctors had decided that the malady of Juliette was anæmia. They found no organic trouble, either of the heart or the lungs.

The month of June had arrived, and Clemence wished, according to her custom, to install herself at Deauville.

"For ten years past, my dear Jacques, Selim has been my true and constant friend. Men are changeable. You love me to-day; to-morrow you may love me to-morrow."

"I should not like to be a visitor at M. Nuno's house," he said, "for although he will not reside in the villa, you will be none the less his guest."

opportunities she responded with a smile which Jacques took as a presage of victory, and a proof of her affection.

"No, no, it is over. He adores me and I am weary of him. Am I never to find a man who will refuse to acknowledge my power, or to whom I could prove constant?"

"You are right to have confidence in me: if you mistrusted me it would not make the slightest difference."

to the amount of three thousand francs. He had won so much during the past few months that he attached but little importance to these reverses.

The house at Trouville was hired, and as Clemence was ready to leave Paris he determined at last to cut short this continued run of ill-luck, and they set out for the Norman coast.

The establishment of Clemence was maintained on a large scale and the excursions she was daily getting up were the talk of the place.

"And has such an idea ever occurred to me?" protested Jacques. "Have I not confidence in you?"

The evening was warm and fine. They went together to dine at the "Ambassadors." At eleven, Clemence, who was cross and complained of not feeling well, sent Jacques away.

The young man stood rooted to the spot. A cold perspiration broke out on his forehead, and he heard a buzzing sound in his ears.

ST. VITUS DANCE IN YOUNG CHILDREN

Can Only Be Cured by Restoring the Blood and Toning Up the Nerves.

One of the commonest forms of nervous troubles that affects young children is St. Vitus dance. This is because of the great demand made on the body by growth and development.

RECIPES

When you buy strawberries, which kind do you choose—the big handsome red colored ones that please the eye or the smaller size?

STRAWBERRY PIES. Bake small individual pies by putting a rich crust over the bottom of each little muffin pan.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE. Make a rich biscuit dough of 1 cup of flour, 1 even teaspoon of salt, 1 heaping teaspoon of lard and 2 heaping teaspoons of baking powder.

STRAWBERRY SPONGE. Soak 1-1/2 packages of gelatine in 1-1/2 cup of cold water.

STEAMED SHORTCAKE. Cream 1 tablespoonful of butter with 4 of sugar; add pinch of salt and 1 egg and beat till all is light and foamy.

STRAWBERRY "DOPE." Mash 2 pints of ripe strawberries, add 1-1/2 cups of sugar, stir and set in cool place for an hour.
