Morrow's old Stand. - JARVIS.

The splendid run of sleighing which has prevailed here continuously for some two months, is over, probably gone for good this winter. It will be a long time, however, until the ice and snow totally disappear.

Twelve hours were burned to death and a large stock of farm equipment last in a fire which destroyed the large barn owned by Councillor Charles McKay, of York Township, Fairbank, early yesterday morning, involving an loss of about $6,000.

Of all callings, farming is the most beautiful. Mining has wonder and might in its popularities, but its raw pictures are of grim and gloom. The sea is epic and romantic, but it lacks variety, and it mourns even when it sings. But agriculture—the third of the great sources of man's sustenance and riches—is the whole range of joyous nature rising in every form of beauty. It has not a single aspect of ugliness; not a suggestion of monotony. It has the colors of the flowers, the music of the birds, the miracles of the soil, with beauty everywhere.—Philadelphia Ledger.
