

The Jarvis Record

ISSUED WEDNESDAYS.

Subscriptions.—One dollar per year in advance; if not paid in advance a dollar and a half will be charged. United States papers 50c. extra, strictly in advance.
We are at all times pleased to receive local news. Send or bring in the facts, we'll do the rest. The coming and goings of Haldimand and Norfolk people are always welcome items of news.
If you wish your address changed, give old as well as new address.

ADVERTISING RATES.
Yearly contract rates on application to publisher.
Reading Notices.—No reading notice advert. any other arrangement or matter by which money is to be made by any person or cause will be inserted in The Record without charge, except when the job-work for the same is executed at the Record Job Department, when one small reader will be given gratis. The price for the insertion of business announcements is five cents per count line each insertion.

Judicial, Legal, Official and Government notices.—Eight cents per line (12 lines to inch) for the first insertion, and five cents per line for each subsequent insertion.
Small Ads.—Condensed advertisements of such a nature as "Lost," Found, Situation Wanted, To Rent, For Sale, etc., not exceeding six lines 25c per insertion; 5 insertions $1.00.
Advertisements without written instructions will appear until written orders are received for their discontinuance.
Notices to Advertisers.—Changes of copy for contract advertising must be in the hands of the printers by Monday noon, at the latest, each week.
While willing at all times to do what is possible to accommodate patrons, we must, in justice to them and to ourselves, insist on a strict enforcement of this rule.

ODDFELLOWSHIP

Out where the handclasp's a little stronger,
That's where Odd Fellowship begins.
Out where the sun is a little brighter
Where the snows that fall are a trifle whiter.
Where the bonds of home are a wee bit tighter.
That's where Odd Fellowship begins.

Out where the skies are a trifle bluer,
Out where friendship's a trifle truer
That's where Odd Fellowship begins.
Out where the fresher breeze is blowing,
Where there's a laughter in every streamlet flowing,
Where there's more of learning and less of knowing,
That's where Odd Fellowship begins.

Out where the world is in the making
Where fewer hearts with despair are aching,
That's where Odd Fellowship begins.
Where there's more of singing and less of sighing,
Where there's more of giving and less of buying,
Where a man makes friends without half trying,
That's where Odd Fellowship begins.

Oddfellowship is the biggest kind of fraternal business and is worth the while for any person no matter how high his station in life, who is interested in the uplift and general betterment of mankind. Forget it not.

ROD AND GUN FOR MARCH

"Injun Bombs and Huskies" by J. R. Fraser in March Rod & Gun is no lap-dog story, but an account of a desperate encounter which two adventurers in the far north had with a band of ferocious huskies, from which they narrowly lost their lives. "That Cub of Patrick's" is a somewhat amusing tale—though Pat himself found the experience very provoking—of a captured bear cub that proved one too much for his captor. "A visit to the Nakimu Caves of Glacier Park, B. C.," "Windobin's Cabin," "The Passing of the Buffalo," and other stories and articles, along with the regular departments, go to make up a fine March number. This sport publication is issued at Woodstock, Ont., by W. J. Taylor, Limited.

Second Contingent In Old England.

London, March 15.—The Second Canadian Contingent which arrived in England last week without incident, after a ten days' voyage, is now in camp. Although the men have not completed their full course of training they have shown such remarkable aptitude that they will soon be ready to take their places on the fighting line.
The behaviour of the Canadians—since their arrival—has been exemplary indeed.

THE MARCH TO THE BATTLE FIELDS; OR CANADA'S MEN ON THE WAY.

The above is the title given a picture that will for many years to come be a highly prized treasure. It is a photographic reproduction showing the 32,000 men of Canada's first contingent breaking camp and on the march to join the continental forces. It shows miles and miles of the white tents and the marching men. It is a most inspiring sight. The size is 20x46 inches, all ready for framing. This picture is sure to be a popular souvenir of the war as far as Canada's concerned and will be in great demand. It is owned by The Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal and a copy is being presented to all subscribers to that great national weekly newspaper, The Family Herald, Montreal, whose subscription of one dollar a year is received from this date for a limited period.

Give the Boy a Chance

The Globe says editorially.—Licensing shotguns is a proposed amendment to the game law that should not be adopted. It will close up the best biggest and perhaps the only efficient school of marksmanship in the province. Let the boy still feel that he can take the shotgun that is hanging in the kitchen or standing under the stair and go out when so inclined, after partridge, rabbits, plover or duck, in season. No rifle practice in school basements or cheap fares to the target ranges can make any approach to adequate aims for the closing of this useful and universal school of marksmanship. The gun that is or should be left free as a natural means of instruction and an open invitation to training the boy to shoot.

The people of Ontario who have passed middle age learned the use of arms in the natural way. They were free to avail themselves of every opportunity in boyhood. The thought of obtaining a gun was not put aside by the knowledge that it would entail a yearly license for some or every member of the family. Not only the boys but the girls the mothers as well as the fathers of rural Ontario learned to take a gun from the leather slings and use it when game came within reach. The proportion in a position to profit by these opportunities is still large, and should be larger. It would be a weakening mistake to crush out the gun-owning and gun-using habit. If people do not acquire in natural ways during boyhood this essential of military strength they are almost certain to neglect it afterwards.

It is extremely difficult to turn a Government impulse aside when set in the direction of licensing or restricting. Some miserable little fee or other annoyance is almost inevitable. Anything seems more desirable to authority than the personal freedom that is more healthful and inspiring than any Government supervision restriction or guidance. It will be cause for congratulation if this threatened closing of the greatest school of gunnery can be averted.

The backwoodsman, and especially the backwoodsboy should also be free to set out a few traps during the winter without a license or the alternative of evading the law and selling his furs to a conniving dealer at half their value. The pump gun—the poor man's gun—need not be abolished. The limit of the magazine to two or three shots would serve every purpose. The automatic should be allowed with similar restrictions. The most important thing for members of the Legislature, especially for representatives of rural constituencies, is to postpone and thus avert the licensing proposals. Prohibition of the sale or export of duck is a timely provision too long delayed. Evasion thru any provision for thinning out game on a preserve should be effectively prevented.

NOTICE

There has been a 40 per cent. increase in the price of vegetable parchment, used in wrapping butter. This paper is made in Germany, and the increase is one of the results of the war. While our present stock lasts, The Record will print the genuine vegetable parchment, at $2.25 per M. or $1.50 per five hundred. The wholesale cost that the price will go still higher.

RUSTY CLOTHES Makes RUSTY MEN

One of the most pathetic of all things is to see a man go to Seed—to see him half the time with unbrushed shoes—with a seamy suit and brushed hat—going back as it were. After awhile his friends care to see less and less of him—then they begin to wonder vaguely what has become of him, and then nobody remembers him at all except the 'old clo' dealer, who watches for him with a speculative eye.

It really costs very little these days to be well dressed (if you go the right store and to experience the very comfortable feeling that goes with it.

Hundreds of Men's Suits are ready at FALLS' Store, Simcoe, at $5 to $25.

Hundreds of different patterns of cloths are also ready at FALLS' Store, Simcoe, for Suits and Spring Overcoats. Hand Tailored to measure at $15 to $35.

5 (Five) days after you leave your measure, your Clothes are ready and if they do not please you in every particular, you do not have to take them.—'Our Risk As To Fit.'
