There is no need to let anybody get you excited about wire fence taking another jump, or even having to pay for the first raise, if you let me know at once what you need. I will protect you on the price and can now save you from 2 to 3 cents a rod, having bought before the raise. I can now pay you back for your good patronage in the past. Call Eric Phone 3-28 or write John Walker, Nanticoke, and get Frost Wire, then you are sure of quality.

Eric Walker, Nanticoke, Ont.

Death of J. H. Hager.

One of the best known and most respected men of the county passed away in the person of John Howard Hager, of Hagersville, on Friday, March 19th. Although in ill health for some time Mr. Hager was still able to be about, until a few weeks ago when he was laid up with a stroke, which from that time he gradually grew weaker and weaker until the end came on Friday last.

John Howard Hager was born in the village of Hagersville on the 26th day of January, 1852, living his full life in his native village. On his father's farm and in his father's store he began to serve the public in his 16th year. He knew and was known by the people to many miles around, getting and giving true friendship. The posts of postmaster, church steward, agricultural society secretary, high school trustee, choir master, treasurer cemetery board, etc. all received a great deal of attention and painstaking labor, as well as the large general store business, to which he devoted that personal tact and industry, which alone assures success.

It has been truly said of deceased, that he loved work for its own sake, seeming to have no thought of any reward, as exemplified in the many days spent in some undertaking that could afford no reward, except the consciousness of having overcome a stubborn foe or accomplishing something that would prove a blessing to the community.

His hobby, if such we may term it, was his great love of flowers, which is one of the most uplifting and ennobling studies there are. We are sure the new life he is entering will have many a bloom for his enjoyment.

The eldest of a family of eight—there are left to mourn his loss: Orloff, Toledo; George and Frank, of South Bend; Fred J., Hagersville; Mrs. J. H. Salter, Hagersville and Mrs. H. G. Livingston, of Hamilton. In 1877 he married Miss Maria M. Buck, of Palmer, who mourns his loss along with one son, Howard, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. R. H. Read, of Regina, Sask. One daughter Mrs. Windlay, predeceased six months ago. Mrs. Hager an dfamily have the sympathy of the whole community in their bereavement.

The funeral services took place on Monday last and were in charge of the pastor, Rev. H. Caldwell. Rev. Jas. Awde, Hamilton, a long and time tried friend of the family and a former pastor, preached a very appropriate and a strong funeral sermon, which will long ring in the ears and hearts of his hearers. He took for his text "For I Knew Such A Man." II Cor., 3rd chap., ver. 3 and 4.

The following Reverend gentlemen attended the funeral: F. M. Mathers, Waterloo; S. J. Kelly, Thorold; Jno. N. Lake, Toronto; and Mr. Whitlaw, all taking part in the service.

The pall bearers were: J. W. Park, Jas. Sheldrick, S. W. Howard, Wm. Beswicker, A. Almas, J. A. Silverthorne, Edward Morse, J. E. Smuck, all brethren of the A. O. U. W. Society.

The floral offering were of extraordinary and in great abundance, especially the rare orchids and roses.

A number from this vicinity attended the funeral.

Rockford

Rev. Lound's discourse Sunday evening upon the text "Remember Lot's Wife" was fine. Several missed hearing it. It would have done you good. Come out next Sunday evening and hear him upon the subject "Wake Up." Miss Laura Hair spent Sunday at Frank Smith's.

Miss Maggie Howard was the guest of Miss Lizzie Paskins Sunday.

Miss Lizzie Paskins arrived home last Friday after a two weeks' visit with friends near Delhi.

Wedding

PETIT—SHARP

On Tuesday, March 23rd about twenty-five invited guests gathered at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Burwash to witness the marriage of their niece, Miss Ruby, only daughter of Mrs. Rae and the late James Sharp, to Mr. Fred Petit, of this town. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with carnations, roses and snap-dragons. Promptly at five o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Lillian Allen, the bride entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her mother, who touchingly performed the duties of giving her daughter to the husband of her choice. The bride looked girlishly pretty in a white voile dress trimmed with white satin and lace and carrying a bouquet of roses. She wore the groom's gift, a handsome pearl brooch.

The bride's mother was dressed in a handsome gown of grey silk, with trimmings of silk lace insertion. The bridesmaid, Mrs. Burwash, was gowned in a dress of amethyst silk crepe de chene, while the pianist, Miss Lillian Allen, wore pink silk, trimmed with shadow lace.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. R. McCrimmon, pastor of Knox Church, of which the young couple are both members.

During the signing of the register Miss Lillian Allen sang very sweetly "Oh Promise Me." After congratulations, the wedding party repaired to the dining room where a dainty wedding dinner had been prepared, and where four young ladies daintily dressed in pink, were waiting to do honor to the wedding party.

After simple justice had been done to the good things the company entered the drawing room where the old Irish custom of cutting the wedding cake was adhered to; the bride kneeling on a cushion, as Mrs. J. S. Burwash and Mr. Hewson Sharp entered the room bearing the wedding cake, while the groom inserted the knife.

The groom's gift to the pianist was a cameo pin.

About eight o'clock the happy couple drove to Simcoe where they took the train this morning for Toronto and other points east.

The bride's going away gown was a tailored suit of blue, with black hat trimmed with velvet ribbon.

The young couple were two of the town's most popular young people and the many handsome and useful presents which they received showed the esteem in which they are held in this vicinity.

On their return the young couple will reside in Jarvis. The Record, along with all their many friends, wishes them a long and prosperous life.

Deaths

DIED—In Detroit, Mich., on Monday, March 22nd, 1915, Abbie Y. Dddy, youngest daughter of the George and Jane Addy. The funeral was held to-day from the home of her brother, R. J. Addy of Walpole at 2 p.m. Interment in Garment cemetery.

DIED—In Nanticoke, at the home of his brother, Newsome, John Cooper, of Walsh, in his 66th year, on Monday, March 22nd. Funeral takes place today, Wednesday, in Nanticoke.

Mr. Cooper had been in ill health for some time and about three weeks ago he was brought from his home in Walsh to that of his brother Newsome of Nanticoke. About a week ago he became dangerously ill and on Monday he quietly passed away.

DIED—Hager, in Hagersville, on Friday, March 19th, 1915, John H. Hager, aged 61 years.

Births

BORN—On March 18th, to Dr. R. G. and Mrs. Howell, twin boys. Owing to their being some months mature, the little fellows lived but a few hours. They were buried beside their late Dr. W. A. Howell in St. Paul's Church cemetery.

'Twill Be Some Lunch

To The Editor of Record. Would you kindly inform me through the columns of The Record if the lunch for the Hard Times Ball is supposed to be a Hard Times Luncheon to conform to the Hard Times Invitations as sent out by the Committee. ONE IN HARD LUCK

The dance given by the town boys last Friday evening in Chamber's Hall proved one of the most successful of the season. About fifty couples graced the floor, and what with the first class music coupled with the fine condition of the floor, everybody went home well contented with the night's entertainment. Purcell's orchestra, of Simcoe, furnished the music.

Mrs. Thomas Harrop, who has been on the sick list, is improving nicely. The Junior Bible Class of Garnet Sunday School, held an oyster supper social at the home of Wm. Richardson. Everybody reported a good good time.

E. A. McCarter was in Aylmer, on Tuesday attending a meeting of the directors of the Pump & Engine Co.
