Darnley, P. E. I.- When my I'ttle girl was three days old a fine rash came out all over her head and face. At first I wought it was baby rash but after a week co two I found that it was very itching and she could not sleep. She was getting very frettill and cross and it made her sick. It itched and burned so much that she used to scratch it until it became one solid mass of sore cruption and it made nearly all her hair come out. It was getting worse all the time and it spoiled her looks.

"I was told she had eczema and I got some ointment to use on her but it did no good. By the time she was four months old the eczema was all over her face, head and neck. I then decided to send for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The first application relieved her of the itching. I then bought a box of Cuticura Cintment and two cakes of Cuticura Soap and used it according to directions for eczema. I bathed her face and head with the Cuticura Soap and put the Cuticura Cintment on gently and by the time the box of Cuticura Ointment and two cakes of Cuticura Soap were gone there was not a sign of eczema and she was completely healed." Hurt Others.

Not very many in Canada foresaw the war or laid any plans with it in view. Therefore, if it has helped business they are simply fortunate; if it has nact they are unfortunate, but not to blame. Is it any more than-tair, then, that these who have proted should tak some thought for ose who have not? Farmers are tting more for their crops; some nufacturers are selling more goods han they ever sold in times of peace, some busines and professional men are making more money than usual. On the other hand, thousands of workmen have had their hours shortened and their pay cut down, because the wave of economy has lessened the demand for the goods they make. The fortunate ones have it in their power to even up the scale, to spend their money for goods "Made in Canada." This will so increase the demand for Canadian products as to keep practically every Canadian factory working full time, and to give to all that prosperity now enjoyed only by the forunate ones.
