When Is a Man Drunk

In a court case a few days ago a witness was being asked as to the sobriety of the defendant when the alleged breach of the law took place.

"Was he sober?" asked the lawyer.

"No, not exactly."

"Half drunk?"

The witness paused for a few moments in calm deliberation, and then replied thoughtfully, I should say he was fully three-parts full."

Not everyone can so delicately determine the exact condition of those who look upon the wine when it is red.

Indeed the condition of being drunk is largely a geographical consideration For instance.—

In Hagersville it is given as the opinion that a man is not drunk so long as he can cling to the grass on which he is lying and not roll off the earth.

In Cayuga they say a man is sober so long as he doesn't insist on kissing the bar tender good night.

In Caledonia the wine bibbler is safe from police interference unless he sits in the gutter and tries to pick a fight with a fire hydrant.

In Galt the test of sobriety consists in the suspect's ability or inability to recite the following.—"Theophilus Thistle, the thistle sifter, in sifting a sieve of unsifted thistles, thrust three thousand thistles through the thick of his thumb."

While in Orillia, a man is declared to be drunk if his breath is tainted.—Exchange.

Fletcher-Jackson

On Wednesday, March 24th, a very pretty wedding took place at Christ Church, Nanticoke, when Nanticoke's most popular young lady, in the person of Miss Sadie Ellen, the youngest daughter of Mr. Frederick Jackson of this village, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. Walter Fletcher the second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher, of Woodhouse, The groom was the most progressive and popular young farmer of this vicinity. The church was prettily decorated with roses and carnations for the occasion Promptly at one o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Brand, the wife of the Rector, the bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, who performed the duties of giving her away Her gown was white brocaded satin, with trimmings of shadow lace and silk net, wearing the customary bridal veil touched with lily of the valley and carried a beautiful boquet of bridal roses. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Brand, of Christ Church, Nanticoke, of which both young people were members, and of which the bride was a member of the choir. After the signing of the Register, the young couple left for her father's home, amid congratulations of the gathered friends and showers of confetti and rice, to enjoy a most sumptuous wedding dinner with the invited guests, who were the bride and groom's parents and families Miss Freda Ross, the bride's cousin, and Mr. E. Pond, of Sandusk. At 5 o'clock the young couple left for Pt. Dover. The bride's going away suit was of navy blue serge with black hat trimmed with ostrich mount and roses.

After visiting Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara Falls, Buffalo and other places, the happy couple will reside on the groom's farm near Nanticoke.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher are very highly respected among their young associates in this vicinity. They received many costly and useful gifts among which was a handsome piano, the gift of the bride's father.
