Change of Position of Bombardment Believed Preliminary to Attempt to Break Through.

IN* CHAMPAGNE

Enemy is Still Trying to Regain Ground Recently Taken by the French.

Paris Cable says-The Belgian front again is the scene of marked artillery activity. After a period of comparative quiet, during which the Germans have devoted much of their attention to attempts to dislodge the French from their recent acquisitions in Champagne, the enemy has shifted a part of his attention to the front of Hetsas and Steenstracte, and to the positions north of Arras at the Boisen-Hache and about Roclincourt; and has directed against these points a bembardment which, because of its violence and duration may well be considered a preliminary to a projected repetition by the Germans of their attempt to break through the allied line at its western end.

The enemy evidently has not abandoned his efforts to regain the lost ground in Champagne. To-day he bombarded violently the French positions at Tahure and the Maisons de Champagne, the French guns replying systematically. The French, through a successful reconnaissance, have destroyed a German trench on the Reichsackerkopi, and have repulsed a counter-actack which the Germans tation. made to recapture the position.

London's delayed two-day campaign contribution to the British Red Cross Society concluded to-night with a record approaching the $70,000 mark A dozen teams engaged in the work submitted their reports at a mass meeting held in the Masonic Hall, the total recorded, though at that time incomplate, being $68,400.

The results were most gratifying to the gentlemen who banded the gether to assist the British Red Cross, and despite the fact that Londoners have contributed often and generously for patriotic purposes, the team captains declared that they were everywhere received kindly.

London Cable—British casualties from the beginning of the war to Oct. were 493,294

British casualties up to Aug. 21, as given officially on Sept. 14, were 381,-983. This shows a total between that time and Oct. 9, to 111,311, or a daily average of 2,271. Losses between June 9 and Aug. 21 averaged about 1,500 daily. The marked increase in the fall over the summer losses may be accounted for primarily by the heavy fighting on the western front at the time of the French and British offensive movement last month.
