of radioscopy, radiography, scientific gymnastics and such an array of machines for teaching hands to hold, test to walk, arms to lift, heads to turn, as constitutes an Arabian night of wonders. Some of these machines on the Zander principle are extremely complicated; a terrife array of levers and wheels is necessary to move a finger in the right way; others are clever makeshifts, not very durable, but welcome as makeshifts. All the machines can be worked by the men unless they are helpless, and some have a whole programme to go through every day. Casts of the human body and its hurts and paintings of especially interesting wounds are kept. From some of these it is possible to teach anatomy to the blind. If cheeriness is a characteristic of the maimed and the mutilated, the blind are positively gay. At the convalescent home in Reuilly, where they learn various trades, they sound from the garden like birds in an aviary. They can very soon distinguish a distant voice in a babel, and follow it, as the seeing can pick out a figure from a group and watch it. In the room where blind dictators were reading aloud to blind typewriters this was very noticeable. In the brushmaking department, also, conversations were going on comfortably across intervening men who were talking. In the big garden were blind men walking slowly, blind men on the arms of nurses, blind men holding each other, but also blind men walking freely from the hip, with a sure step, and stopping or turning a reasonable distance before they came to a wall or other obstacle. To walk is the first thing they are

THE ONLY WAY TO CURE RHEUMATISM

Must Be Treated Through the Blood and the Poisonous Acid Driven

The twinges and tortures of rheumatism are not due to cold, damp weather, as so many people suppose. large hospital for women, is now a acid in the blood. This is a medical truth that every rheumatic sufferer should realize. There is only one way to cure rheumatism-it must be treated through the blood. All the liniments and rubbing and so-called electrical treament in the world will not cure rheumatism, and the sufferer who tries them is not only wasting money, but is allowing the trouble to become more firmly rooted in the system and harder to cure when the proper remedy is tried. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have had remarkable success in curing rheamatism tecause they go right to the root of the trouble in the blood, driving out the poisonous acid, releasing the stiffened joints. clearing away the torturing pains, and giving the victim renewed health and ease. Mr. Vincent Brow, Havre Ecucher, N. S., says: "For two years I was an almost constant sufferer from rheumatism, the trouble being so had at times that I could scarcely get about. The trouble seemed to bring with it anaemia, and altogether I was in a very bad condition. I used doctor's medicine for almost a year without relief. Then on the advice of a friend I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I think I took altogether about a dozen boxes, with the result that I am now enjoying perfect tealth.

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Colors and Heat.

In an attempt to illustrate graphically the relative values for summer wear of different colors in dress materials, an interesting experiment was recently conducted. Four strips of cloth, made of the same material and weight, but of different colors, were placed on a cake of ice and exposed to the sun. The fabrics were white, yellow, red, and black. The result showed in a striking way how white reflects the sun's rays while black absorbs them.

The ice covered by the piece of white cloth was not melted to any appreciable degree during the test; that under the yellow strip was slightly depressed; a deep cut was formed beneath the red cloth, and a groove approximately twice as deep as that covered by the latter was melted under the black fabric.

Events That Pass Us By. We can be but partially acquainted even with the events which actually influence our course through life and our final destiny. There are innumerable other events, if such they may be called, which come close upon us, yet rass away without actual results or even betraying their near approach by the reflection of any light or shadow across our minds. Could we know all the vicissitudes of our fortune life would be too full of hope and fear, exultation or disappointment to afford us a single hour of true serenity.-

Origin of the Hackney.

The hackney horse has given quite number of useful words to the language. He and his name came from Normandy originally—haquenee, really a corruption of the Latin for horse -and he was a riding horse. Being commonly hired out, the name came to be associated with hiring and in course of time also with drudgery. Today there are far more hackney carriages, within the meaning of the act, without horses than with. A literary hack is another form of the same

National Embiems.

On the origin of the adoption of the thistle as the emblem of Scotland history is almost completely silent. but traditions is as glib as ever. According to one story, the Danes were stealing barefooted through the darkness towards the Scottish camp (in spite of their rule which regarded a midnight attack upon an enemy as unwarrantable), when one of the soldiers suddenly trod upon a thistle. involuntarily he uttered a cry of pain, and the Scotsmen, being aroused, leaped to their feet, hureld themselves upon the Danes, and inflicted fearful slaughter upon their

The origin of the "wearing of the leak" by Wales is still a matter of archaelogical disputation. Welsh ecclesiastical tradition ascribes it to St. David, who caused the Britons under King Cadwaladr to distinguish themselves by wearing a leek in their bonnets when they fought against the Saxons. Shakespeare, Newever, ascribes the origin to an incident in the Battle of Crecy.

In one of these gullies he was surprised to see what appeared to be part of the skeleton of some enormous animal. He set about excavating it, but found the job so big as to require special apparatus and men specially trained in the work if the bones were to be taken out uninjured and properly kept in place. So to avoid having his discovery tramped upon by herds of cattle he enclosed it by a barricade and sent word to the University of Nebraska. Without delay two of the university's scientific staff, Prof. Erwin H. Barbour and C. Harold Eaton, started for the Long farm. Work was commenced at once, and within two weeks the skeleton of a new tetrabelodon, practically complete, was discovered. In recognition of a distinguished resident of New York, Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn, Prof. Barbour has named this

Waltzing Ostriches.

One of the oddest sights of the sandy stretches of plain in southern Africa is a party of waltzing ostriches. A writer on the subject thus describes their queer antics:

"When there are a number of them they will start off and after running a few hundred yards will stop and, with raised wings, will whirl rapidly round ill they are stupefied or perhaps break a leg. The males pose also before fighting. They kneel on their ankles, opening their wings and balancing themselves alternately forward and backward or to one side or the other, while the neck is stretched on the elements it lacked. This can a level with the back, and the head strikes the sides, now on the right, person can quickly be made strong new on the left, while the feathers are bristling. The bird appears at this time so absorbed in its occupation as to forget all that is going on around him and can be approached and caught. The male alone utters a cry, which sounds much like an effort to creak with the mouth shut tight."-Philadelphia Inquirer.
